A STRONG ORGANIZATION INCIDENTS OF THE DAY

TO SECURE THE ELECTION OF W. F. NICKLE.

Many Rideau and Victoria Ward Men and Women Gathered at the Princess Street Rooms on Wednesday Evening.

The Unionist party for this city is certainly presenting a strong organization to secure the majority of votes for W. F. Nickle and the Government which he is to represent if elected. The campaign rooms on Princess street are being used continuously for meetings of various kinds to further this object.

On Wednesday evening two meetings for the electors of Victoria and Rideau wards were held. The men's meeting was held in the second story of the building and F. Harold Hughes was in charge. The women's meeting was in the women's room on the ground floor and Mrs. Hora was in charge there.

W. F. Nickle, the Unionist candidate, gave addresses to both gatherings. He explained the need of a Union Government to supply the deficiencies in men, equipment and food for the boys overseas. He then showed how this object could be obtained by the Union Government electors' union and co-operation. The wards were taken separately and the sub-division chairmen, workers and various other details were attended to.

Both gatherings contained representatives from both Conservative and Liberal ranks and they filled the halls to overflowing.

NOTIFY THE WHIG ABOUT CASUALTIES.

Upon receipt of messages of casualties relatives are requested to notify the Whig as soon as possible. By doing this they will be conferring a favor and at the same time take the most convenient and expeditious manner of conveying the news to their friends. The names are not published in the casualty lists till four or five days following the receipt of the official telegram, and the publication of the news is therefore delayed, unless the Whig is notified. Telephone 229.

WAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

Crowd at Sale and Concert at St. Luke's Church.

The annual Christmas sale and concert of St. Luke's church, which was held in the church hall on Wednesday, proved to be a great success. The hall itself was nicely decorated in a patriotic manner with flags and bunting, while the different booths encircling the room were decorated with the ensigns of the Allied nations.

From three o'clock till six o'clock the sale proceeded, and as the large and varied assortment of goods was displayed it was generously patronized.

Ald. Hugh Nickle at 5 p.m. in a thoughtful and forceful speech, presented the claims of the Victory Loan. At eight o'clock the entertainment was put on, consisting of recitations with vocal and instrumental music.

During the evening Robert Meek, chairman of the Victory Loan committee, delivered an inspiring and patriotic address, in which he showed it was the duty of each one to subscribe to Canada's loan. His address was heralded by the singing of Rule Britannia by James Saunders, the audience joining heartily in the chorus. The proceeds, which will be large, will be announced next week at a business meeting, when the various departments will present their report.

INCREASING PENSIONS.

American Government Makes a Big Increase.

The American Government has issued an order which will affect some thirty widows in the district, of men who served as soldiers in the American Civil War of 1865. The order states that because over 100,000 names have been struck off the pension list during the past year by death, the pension to the remaining survivors will be increased to $25 a month in every case. The amounts that have been paid according to the old order range from $12 to $20 a month, according to the nature of the case.

The announcement comes as a pleasant surprise to those benefiting by it, not only in this district, but throughout North America.

LIUT. FRANK PURDY

Contracted Trench Fever and is Here to Convalesce.

Lieut. Frank Purdy, son of David Purdy, county treasurer, Clergy street west, arrived back in the city on Wednesday afternoon to spend a convalescent period here before returning to France.

Lieut. Purdy left a bank position to enlist as a private in the 80th Battalion, Belleville, under Lieut.-Col. Ketcheson. His ability was recognized to the extent of him being promoted to the rank of orderly room sergeant. Filling this position so satisfactorily, he was granted the opportunity to attend the provisional school of infantry and qualified as a lieutenant, later being appointed to a commission in the 146th Battalion.

After serving several months in France he contracted trench fever, and had to be invalided to England, and then came to Canada.

Corporal Joseph Buse, 4 Chestnut street, died at 3.20 a.m., Thursday, in the Queen's Military Hospital as a result of a stroke of apoplexy. The dead soldier enlisted on January 25th, 1917, with Capt. J. E. Freeman, to serve as a private in the 256th Railway Construction Battalion. He went to Toronto and then to England, returning to Canada from overseas service on November 15th. On his arrival the hospital authorities granted him fifteen days' leave. On Thursday morning a hurry call was sent for an ambulance, and Corpl. Buse was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition, having been stricken while visiting his wife and family. The late Corpl. Buse was born in Burton, England, in February, 1869, coming years ago to this country. He was a quarryman by trade. The case has aroused the sympathy of the returned soldiers, and the Great War Veterans' Association will supply the pallbearers for the burial. R. J. Reid is conducting the funeral arrangements, which will be of a military nature and held on Friday. There will be a gun carriage and band, with a firing party made up of returned men. Rev. J. D. Boyd will officiate. Give your children a share in their country; buy their Victory bonds.
