FOOTBALL TOLL LIGHTER,

Three Were Twelve Victims During 1917 Season.

Football exacted a tolk of twelve victims during the 1917 season in the U.S., which ended with Thangsgiving day games, according to reports to the Associated Press. The number was six less than in 1916.

Defenders of the sport pointed to the fact that not a fatality nor even a 'serious injury occurred' in the big universities and colleges where the game is conducted under expert physical direction. All the victims, with one exception, were either high school students or players who, with little or no training, participated in semi-professional games. A majority of the cases showed that the players entered the game without previous knowledge of it, and with no preparatory physical condition for so rough a sport.
