

Vancouver Shipyards Turn out Steel and Wooden Ships —International Press Service Photos.

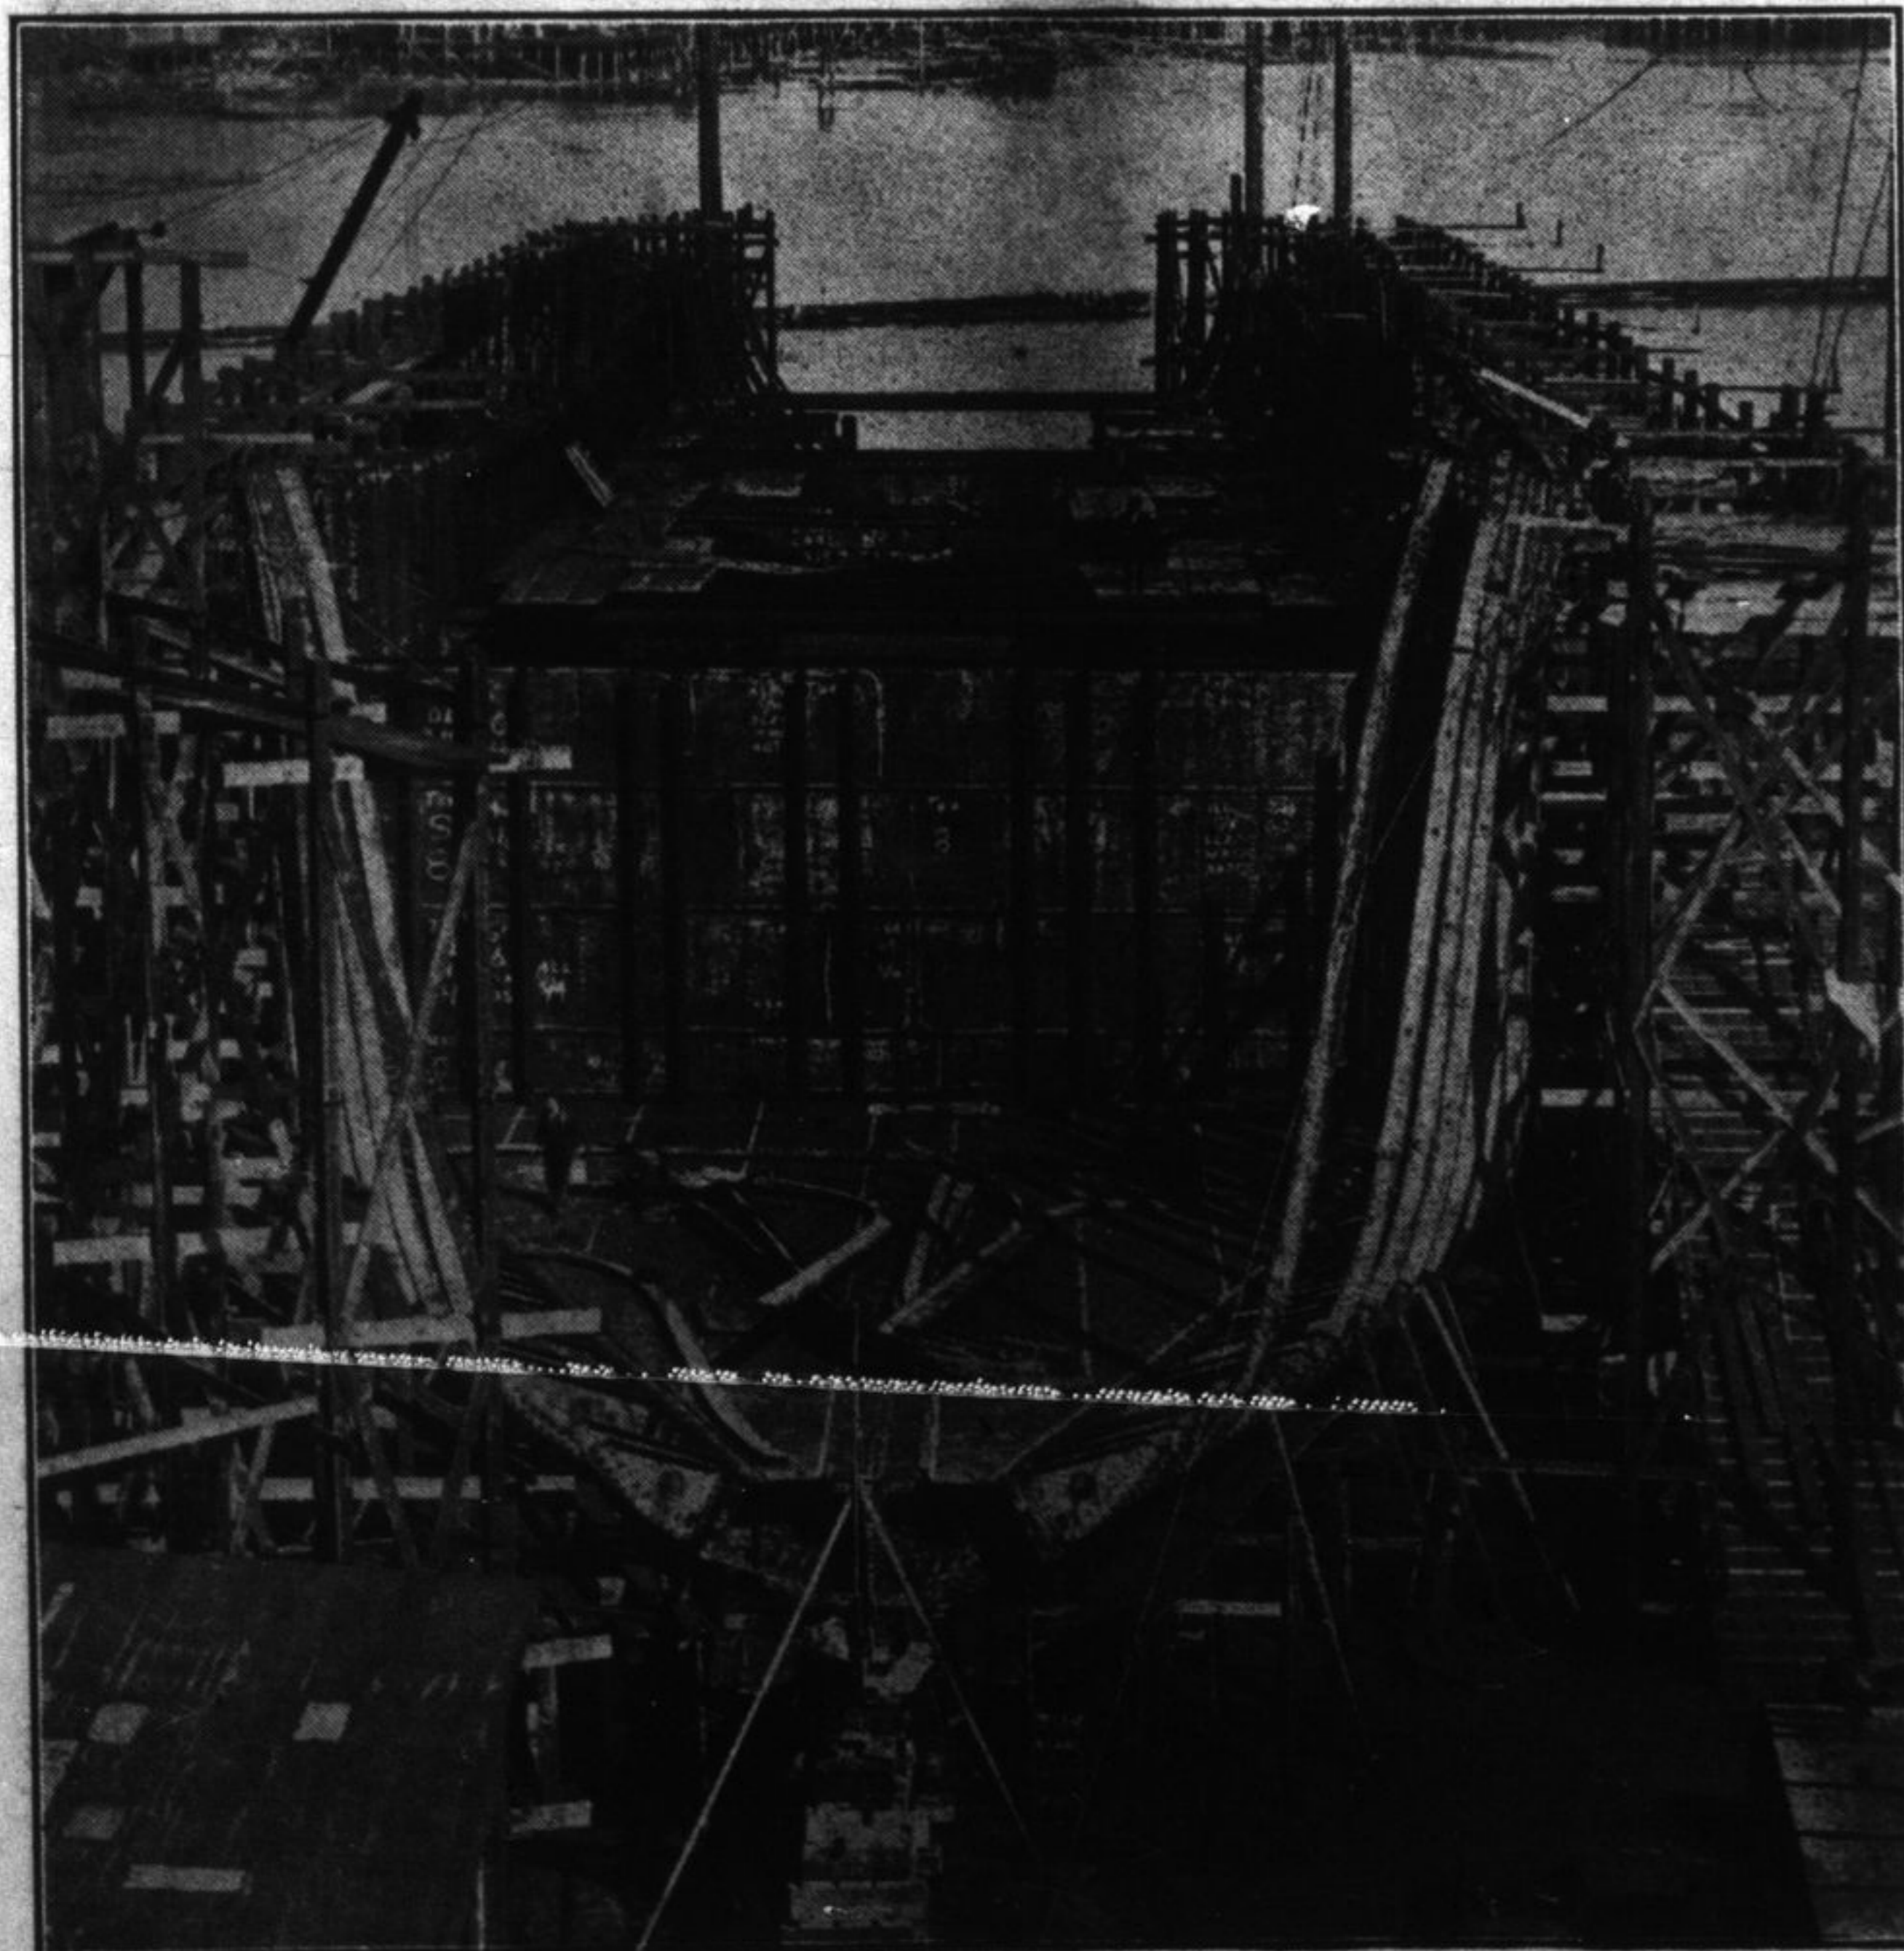

A splendid panoramic view of Coughlan & Sons' steel shipbuilding yards at Vancouver. The man in the insert is Mr. J. J. Coughlan, Jr., managing partner of this firm.

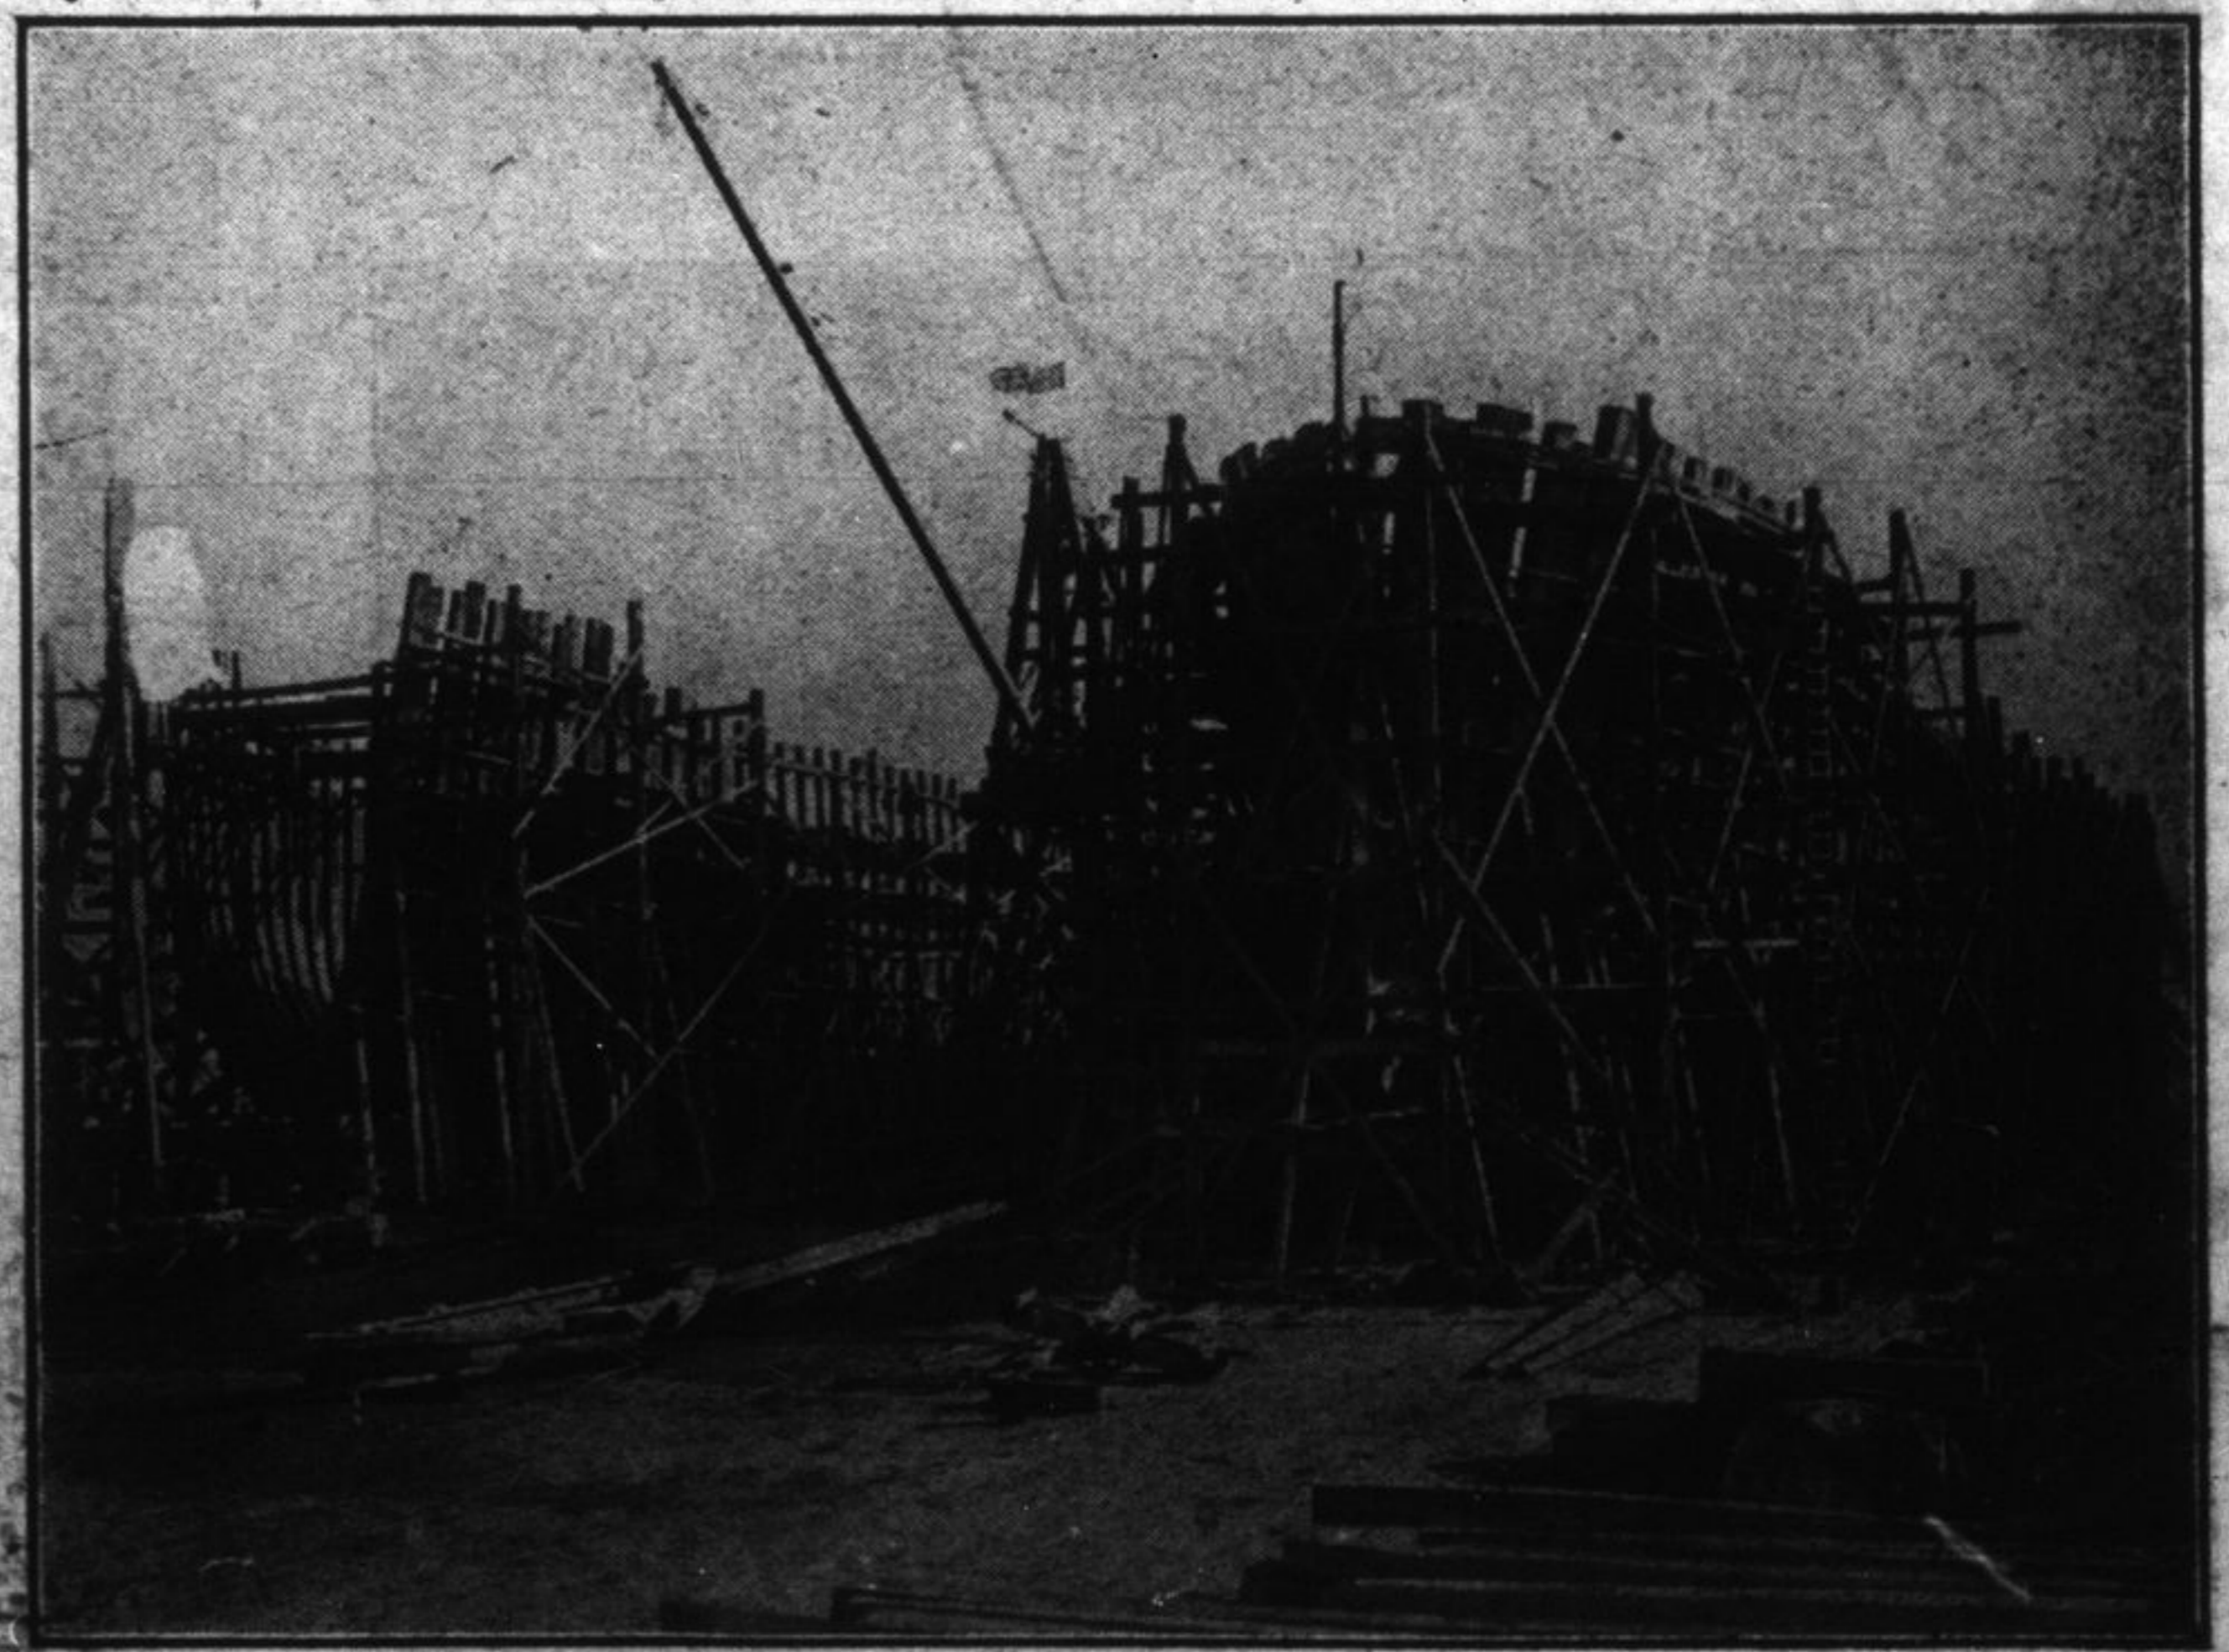

Yards and sawmill where timber is prepared for the wooden ships built by Western Canada Shipyards.

Steel ships in various stages of construction are shown in these four slips at the Coughlan yards.

The above photo shows a steel skeleton in a well-advanced state.

Wooden ships at the Western Canada Shipyards, at Vancouver, in the course of construction.