

Canadians in Service - The Hero of Cambrai - An American Committee in France

Dr. J. A. Graham, Hammond, Ind., a former Kingstonian and a graduate of Queen's University, who has thrown up an income of $25,000 to accept a lieutenantcy in the United States Army Medical Reserve Corps.

Driver Duncan McCrimmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman McCrimmon, Mountain Grove, Ont., the first to enlist in Arden with the 146th Battalion, later transferred to the 4th Par. Battalion, now in France.

Driver Paul D. Kingston, enlisted two years ago with 3rd Division Supply Column, at Toronto, later transferred to Railway Troops now in Belgium, son of late Samuel Kingston, of Hartington, and brother of Mrs. A. Van Ashtyae, 76 Division Street, Kingston.

Pte. John Payea, Canoto, who enlisted in March, 1916, with the 146th Battalion, then transferred to the 37th Battalion, and is now serving in France.

On the right, Corp. Ross Edgar McPherson, nephew of John McPherson, Oso, Ont., who enlisted with the 80th Battalion, and later transferred to the 146th. Killed in action on Oct. 24th. On the left, Pte. Harry McVeigh, Oso, Ont., who enlisted with the 146th Battalion, and died of wounds in France on Nov. 5th. These two young men were cousins.

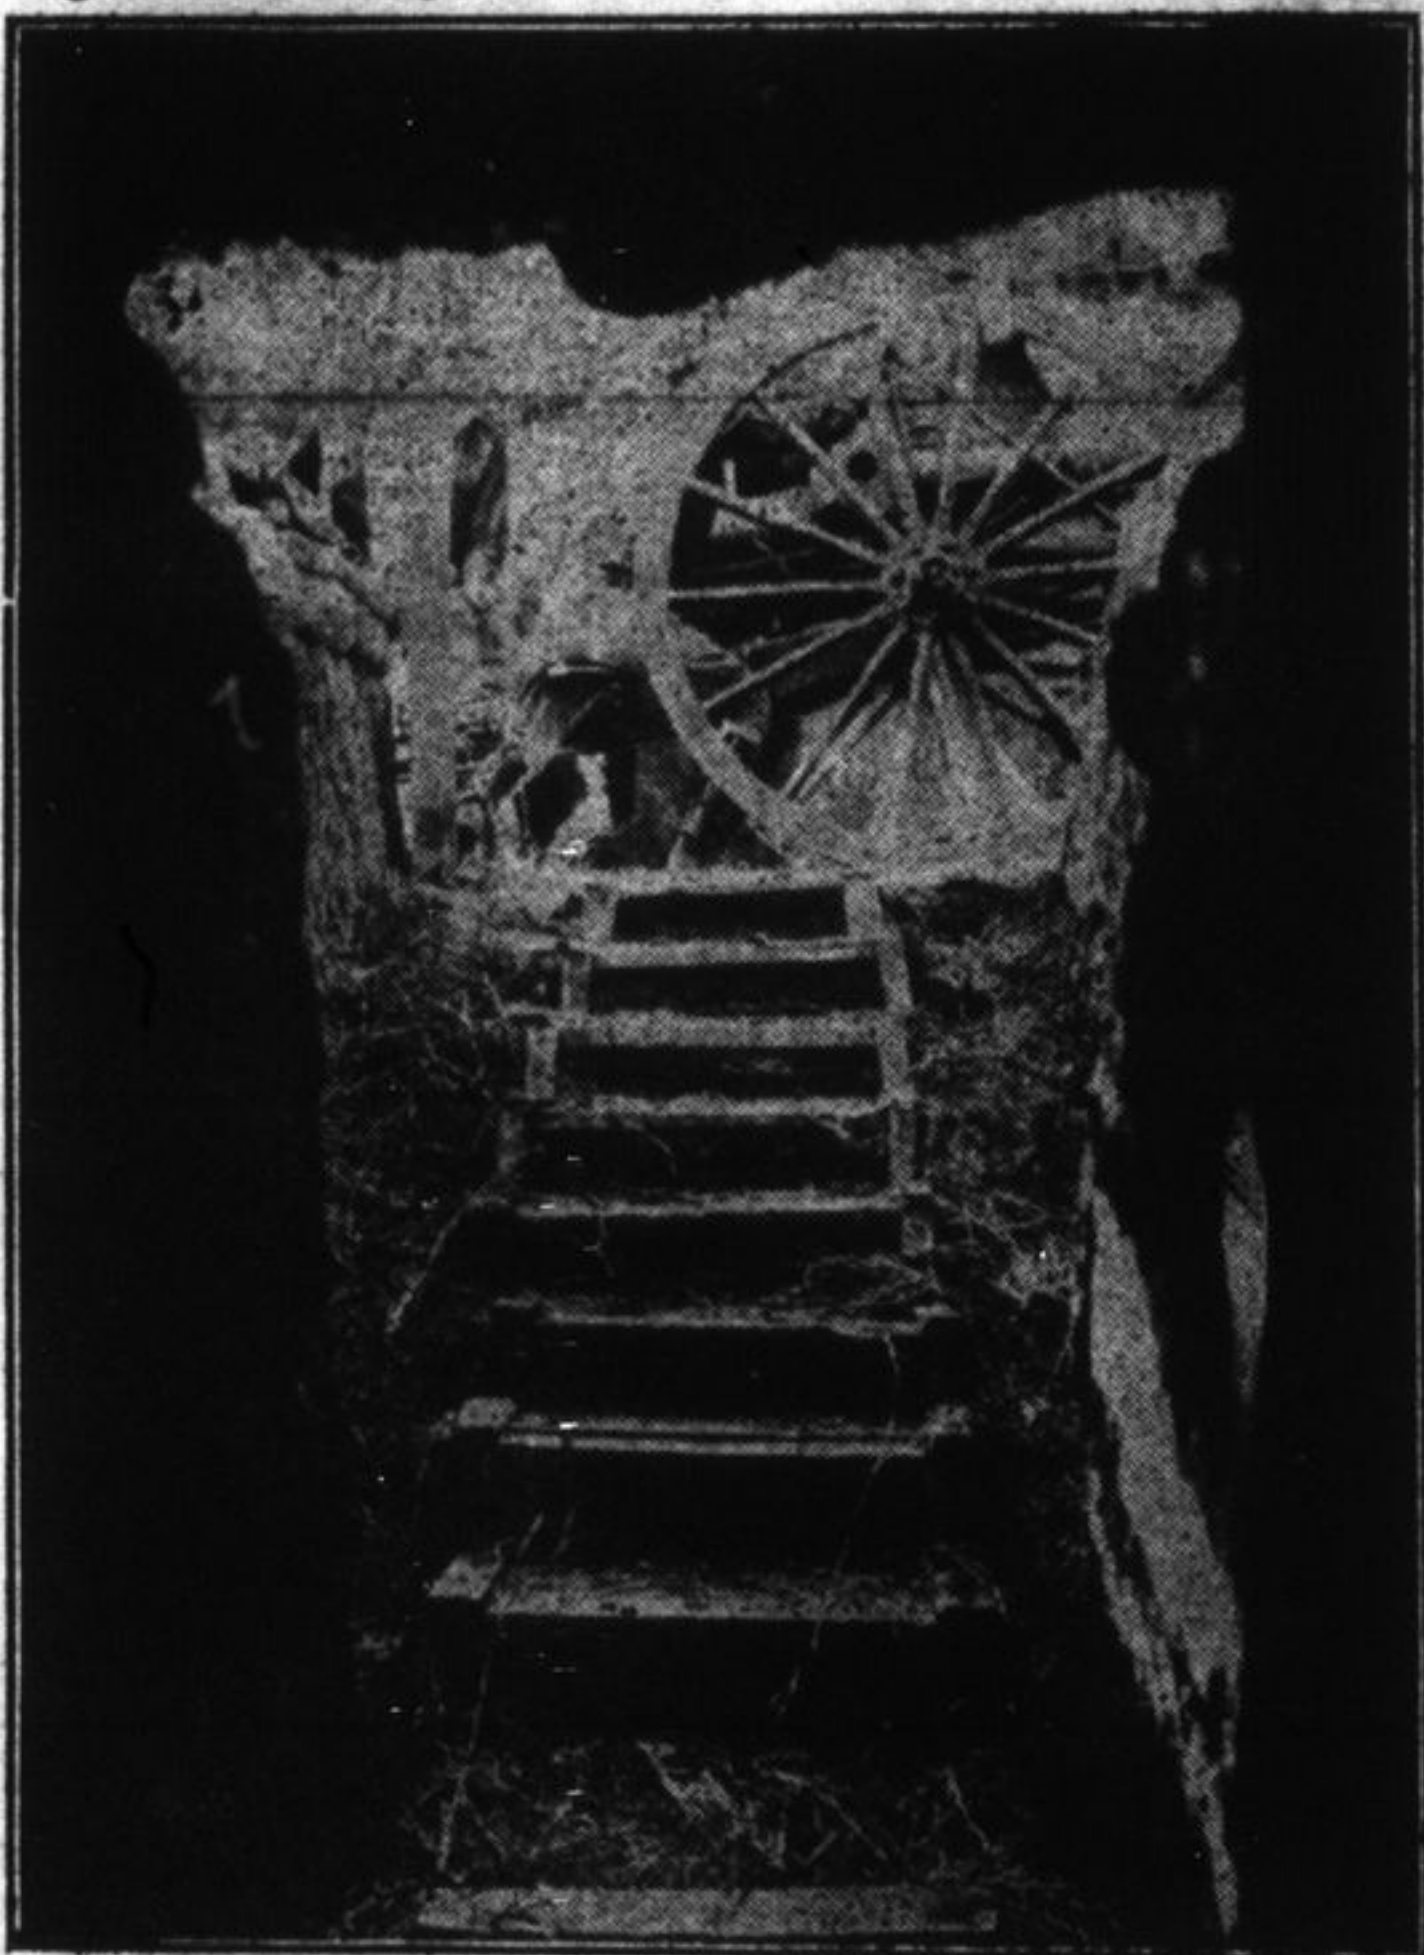

Pte. Raymo, eldest son of Mrs. Joseph Raymo, Oeonto, Ont. He went overseas with the 146th Batt., and has been in the trenches since December, 1916, and luckily escaped unhurt so far.

Pte. J. F. Ramsay, Division Street, Kingston, with the 20th Canadians, now in France. He enlisted with the 146th Battalion, and was formerly employed for years with Elliott Bros. of this city.

Pte. J. Hendrick Nichols, Plevna, Ont., who enlisted with the 146th Battalion, and after reaching England last fall was transferred to the 4th C.M.R., and was then sent to France, where he has served seven months in the trenches. Word came to Plevna on Nov. 13th that he had been wounded.

Looking out from the ammunition supply dugout at one of Uncle Sam's 3-inch guns camouflaged beneath a straw canopy.

Members of the American Committee, accompanied by M. Fernand David, French Minister of Agriculture, visiting Blercourt, Aisne front, where the Committee has taken leadership in bringing back French refugees to this recaptured section, rebuilding their homes for them, and erecting schools for their children. Miss Anne Morgan, of New York, sister of J. P. Morgan, can be seen in the centre in conversation with a member of the French Committee and gesticulating with her left hand.

General the Honorable Sir Julian Byng, who commanded the British in their great victory over the German forces on a thirty-mile front before Cambrai, winning thereby the full rank of general.

American and Canadian soldiers quick to make friends with fair 'Munitionettes' in one of the great ammunition-plants near Paris.

General Diaz, new commander-in-chief of the Italian Armies, succeeding General Cadorna.