QUEEN'S MAY WITHDRAW THE SENIOR TEAM.

The Whig learns that there is a possibility of Queen's combining their senior and intermediate teams into an intermediate team, which will undoubtedly go far into the intermediate series. Monday's game showed that the intermediate team has a wonderful foundation for a winning team, and with the assistance that the senior line-up could offer it would certainly go into the finals. All the fans are very enthusiastic over the proposal and say that it is a very wise move.

RENEWS OFFER TO QUEEN'S

To Give Half Million If Similar Amount Is Raised.

It is understood that James Douglas, chancellor of Queen's University, has renewed his offer to give half a million dollars to Queen's if a like amount is raised by the Board of Trustees. The Whig is informed that a prominent Queen's official has offered to give $50,000 of the amount required to secure the chancellor's gift. The Whig also understands that Dr. Douglas is willing to allow the Leonard offer, made some years ago, to stand as the university's portion if it is renewed. However the university authorities hope to raise the half million dollars outside of this.

The Theatres

At the Grand.
Although the flips did not arrive in time for a performance yesterday at the Grand, they have now been received, and will positively be shown as scheduled to-night and Wednesday, matinee and night. The featured film is the Metro Wonderplay of saint and sinner, with wonderful Emily Stevens in the title role. She has a role exactly suited to her in which she can display her celebrated versatility. There are two leading roles in "Miss Mrs. Jessop," and Emily Stevens plays them both. One is a womanly woman, Janet Ford, and the other a worthless "vampire" type, her cousin, Lillian Ford. There are many thrilling scenes, among them a sensational raid on a fashionable gambling den. There will also be the Pathe News, one of the popular Stinger stories, entitled "The Poison Cup," featuring True Boardman, and the Selig World Library. Emgard and Marshall, two clever comedians, will furnish an exceptionally good vaudeville act and round out an excellent programme for to-night and Wednesday only.

At Griffin's
Owing to the severe snowstorm our regular programme as advertised did not arrive in Kingston. But its place was shown last evening a programme which was pronounced by the large audience present as equal in all respects to any seen before at this popular playhouse. Julian Eltinge, the greatest of all great stars of the stage or screen and world famous for his clever feminine impersonations headlined the programme in "Mysterious Mrs. Carfax," a riotously funny story of perplexing situations, which afforded the gifted actor a splendid opportunity to display his remarkable versatility, while playing a dual role. A high class comedy drama starring Victor Moore, and Anita King was also well received, and made up a most entertaining bill. This evening we hope to show our regular programme as advertised.

At the Strand.
The management of this popular playhouse beg to announce to the amusement loving public that the programme of a double feature bill advertised for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week will be shown tonight and Wednesday. Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne will be seen in a Metro Superpicture, "The Adopted Son." This is the first appearance in Kingston of these popular co-stars in some time. They will be gladly welcomed. "The Adopted Son" is a story of mountain life and mountain love, of the feud of two old families of eastern Tennessee. Clara Kimball Young in "The Dark Silence," and comedy reels will also be shown.

The Linen Market of Today

Because of trying circumstances, which have surrounded the manufacture of linens, caused largely by the scarcity and tremendous high price of the raw flax yarns and the continually increasing labor cost, it is impossible today for mills to produce anything as cheap as they have in their normal capacity.

For these reasons, which we expected to meet, we contracted over one year and two years ago a vast quantity of pure Irish linens, which we are giving our customers every opportunity to purchase now, as the prices quoted below are about 50 per cent less than they could possibly sell today.
