

THE UNIVERSITY AND KINGSTON

Address Before the Canadian Club by Principal Taylor.

ENDOWMENT OF QUEEN'S

MUST SOON BE INCREASED TO MEET PRESSING NEEDS.

The City May Be Called Upon Again to Contribute—Judge Lavell is the New President of the Canadian Club.

The Kingston Canadian Club had the pleasure on Wednesday evening of having as its guest at its annual meeting and banquet in the City Hall, Rev. Dr. R. Bruce Taylor, the new principal of Queen's University, who gave an interesting address on "The Relationship of the City to University Life."

BAD COLD? TAKE "CASCARETS" FOR BOWELS TONIGHT

They're Fine! Liven Your Liver and Bowels and Clear Your Head.

No, Headache, Sour Stomach, Bad Cold or Constipation by Morning.

Get a 10-cent box. Colds—whether in the head or any part of the body—are quickly overcome by urging the liver to action and keeping the bowels free of poison. Take Cascarets tonight and your work will be done with a clear head and your cold will be gone. Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

ident and the first vice-president. In opening his address, Principal Taylor pointed out how in English university towns "town and gown" were in constant strife, whereas both in Scotland and Canada the idea was for the good of both, to maintain the closest relationship. Every man, of course, thought that he could run the other man's business. There was never a layman who did not imagine he could preach, nor a layman who would not imagine he could run the business of the other man. The German navy in the Kiel canal, nor a leader who was not sure he could run a newspaper.

Kingston's Interest in Queen's. The interest that Kingston has taken in Queen's for nearly eighty years was a very wonderful thing, Dr. Taylor said. Kingston had erected the old arts building, and John Carruthers had put up the Carruthers' hall. The new arts building had been given, not by citizens of Kingston, but by the city of Kingston—a very different affair. All creeds and politics and policies had joined in the erection of this splendid fabric, a proof of true catholicity of spirit. On the other hand, Queen's had given distinction to Kingston, and among the men whom Kingston loves to think of as her chief citizens have been those who have been officials and graduates of Queen's. It is probable that in the near future Queen's would again ask for the help of this citizenship. It felt that it could do so with success only if it were able to present a convincing case.

Why not call a halt? Some might ask. "Why this constant expansion?" Simply because in a world of mutable things learning could not stand still. Within the lifetime of most of those present the whole science of medicine had been turned upside down. Indeed since the South African war preventive medicine had become a new science. With millions of men at the front there was neither typhoid nor typhus—those main scourges of a crowded manhood. The same was true of malaria, Malta fever, yellow fever and a host of other diseases. With knowledge branching out in so many directions, a university had not merely to follow but to lead; not only to teach but to explore. If it felt behind the procession it might as well close its doors, for it could become not a help but a clog to human progress.

search should never be diverted. That would be suicidal economy. Must Re-adjust Salaries. For another thing, salaries need to be re-adjusted. Dr. Taylor had heard that at one time Kingston was the cheapest city in Canada in which to live. The proof to-day was not so evident. It was true that men engaged in professional work might be said to draw an income in the satisfaction that the labor itself afforded them and in the sense of a mission that they were performing, but people had to live. The professoriate was no order of celibacy or bachelorhood. There were other universities on the continent, and if the members of the staff at Queen's—sought after by many suitors—remained faithful it was not because of any pecuniary inducement held out to them. Dr. Taylor remarked that an increased endowment for Queen's was absolutely necessary.

A matter which greatly concerned the welfare of the student life was the provision of some centre for the social activities of the university. Students who only attended classes and then hid themselves in their rooms were missing the greatest thing that university life had to give. The friction of mind was more valuable even than the detail of books. Therefore a first ward was a "Union" under the roof of which there could be gathered student societies, the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A., and where likewise the students might dine together. It might be that in time of war these hopes were only dreams. Still if one knew what was wanted and kept steadily thinking about the seemingly impossible was realized. At the conclusion of the excellent address the chairman called upon Dr. C. J. Rigney, J. Russell Stuart, Dr. C. C. Nash, F. G. Lockett and ex-Principal Gordon, all of whom spoke of the great advantage Queen's was to Kingston, of the loyalty of the citizens to the institution, and expressing the hope that the plans for the increased endowment would work out successfully. Dr. Gordon gave an admirable address on the Queen's spirit as evidenced by the service and sacrifice of its graduates and students.

The Annual Report. In presenting his annual report, R. Meek, secretary, stated that the year past had been the more difficult because of the fewer men who were available for address at the club. The aggressive spirit in the club, but the inspiration which has been lacking from the spoken word has been more than made up by other agencies and especially the agency of the Press.

Of those who have spoken under the auspices of the Club, Dr. Griffith-Jones, of Bristol, England, began the year, followed by E. F. Johnson, K.C., and Col. Wright, of Toronto, whose discussions of passing events—of events growing out of the great war—were very much appreciated. Several things interfered with the full engagements, notably the Victory War Loan and the election campaigns, during which the citizens were favored with the presence of representative men and men whose names were upon the selective list of the club, including Sir Thomas White (the Finance Minister), Hon. Mr. Lynch-Staunton, and Rev. Mr. Geggie. The club had been fortunate in securing for the first dinner of this year Rev. Dr. Bruce Taylor, the new Principal of Queen's. He was to have addressed the club in December, but an illness, which the club regretted, delayed his coming, and his reception by this organization had to be postponed. The club welcomed

STROKE OF PARALYSIS

Left All One Side Very Numb—Hearing About Others Being Cured This Kingston Man Has Used This "Wood Cure to Great Advantage"

Mr. W. C. Bell, 580 Ontario street, Kingston, Ont., writes: "About a year and a half ago, I had a partial stroke, affecting my left side, which left it very numb. I also suffered from nervousness, headaches and sleeplessness. Having a Dr. Chase's Medical Book at hand, I read about the bismuth whose name I had had the same trouble as I, and who derived great benefit from taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Therefore, I concluded to try it for myself. I have now taken 9 or 10 boxes, and can take off my coat without any trouble, as I used to have to get somebody to pull it over my shoulder for me. I can walk and sleep much better, and the numbness in my fingers and left side is also much better. Although not entirely free from it, I can manage it, and I am getting better every day. I am going to continue the treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The progress that I have made in getting around as rapidly as I have is very encouraging. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and recommend it to anyone that 'happens to be suffering from a stroke, nervous debility, sleeplessness, or run down system.' We know that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food possesses exceptional potency as a means of building up the strength of the human body. We have seen it tested in so many thousands of cases that there is no question of the effectiveness of this treatment. But how are we going to prove this to you unless you try it? You are the one to be benefited and so it remains for you to make the test. Try it when you feel tired out and discouraged. Try it for sleeplessness and irritability. Try it for nervous headaches and indigestion. It is not a mere relief for these ailments, and for this reason you must persist in its use until the lost vigor is restored to the nerves. But of one thing you can be certain—that each dose of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food contributes something towards building up the exhausted nervous system. 50 cents a box, a full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.75; at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. Refuse all substitutes, as they only disappoint.

him now to the city and assured him of his abiding regard. Among those who are expected to address the club shortly, and to whom invitations have been sent, are Poutney Bigelow, Norman Somerville and John T. Rathbon, the last named being the editor of the Providence Journal, to whom, with his staff, the United States and Canada are indebted for revelations which have tended to reduce the German menace in America to a minimum. The club is to be congratulated upon the influence which it undoubtedly exercises in this community. It stands for everything that is patriotic and national in its character, and its members have unreservedly taken part in every campaign which has had for its object the welfare of Canada. The devotion of the members to public issues, of a non-partisan kind, has brought them conspicuously before the people and strengthened their hold upon the public opinion. Every citizen who has the best interests of the city and country at heart should be actively identified with the Club.

The example of some of the members can be fittingly followed by all. Secretary Meek said: They can induce their friends to become members, and in that way widen the circle of the club and the service in which it is engaged. One member of the executive committee has given a splendid exhibition of his energy by immediately adding, since the meeting of the nominating committee, seven names to the roll of members.

KINGSTON JUNIORS WIN DEFEAT QUEEN'S IN THIRD GAME BY 10 TO 4.

Queen's Started Off With a Lead of Three Goals in the First Period, Using a Three-man Combination. When the Kingston Juniors rolled up ten goals to Queen's four at the conclusion of the Wednesday night game they concluded the three-chapter story of their winning sub-section "B" and thus became the local defenders of the city's reputation in the Junior O.H.A. series. The game was Queen's for the first period, but the last forty minutes of play went to the victors. Queen's could not make their way after the Kingston Juniors "got wise" to their combination system. The game started with both teams out to win, the students playing with two previous lost games in mind, and the Kingston's confident of wiping Queen's off the map. The tri-colors did spring a surprise on the fans when they trotted out a three-man combination system and registered three goals. It so completely took the confidence away from the Kingston's that the rest of the period was "even up" hockey. In the dressing room following that period were "Senator" Poyris and "Sam" McCullough. When the city players laid down on the seats for their usual rub-down they also got a dressing down that took away every bit of conceit they ever possessed. The "Senator" was walking up and down the room and back of him was "Sam" with the ginger ale bottle. It was a heart talk of a very direct kind. It proved its worth in making the locals play winning hockey. The rest of the game proved the Kingston's as the better team, the players using their ability and experience and working hard all the time. Brown was particularly good. During the last period Connell went to the bench when Yoerger went to the ice with a bye from his stick. Not taking chances that the blow was un-intentional, "Van" gave him a ticket. The line-up was: Queen's Goal Kingstn. Quinn R. Defence Connell Campbell R. Defence McKelvey Balden L. Defence McLaughlin Yoerger Centre Gratton Ralph R. Wing Shewell Shields L. Wing Brown Hamill Substitute Brown G. Van Horne, referee. The scoring: 1 Queen's, Balden . . . 7.20 min. 2 Queen's, Yoerger . . . 10.40 min. 3 Queen's, Yoerger . . . 12.00 min. Second Period: 4 Kingston, Gratton . . . 4.05 min. 5 Kingston, Brown . . . 10.35 min. 6 Kingston, Brown . . . 10.50 min. 7 Kingston, Brown . . . 11.20 min. Third Period: 8 Kingston, Brown . . . 5.00 min. 9 Kingston, Gratton . . . 1.50 min. 10 Kingston, Brown . . . 2.20 min. 11 Kingston, Brown . . . 7.00 min. 12 Queen's, Hamill . . . 12.00 min. 13 Kingston, McKelvey . . . 12.50 min. 14 Kingston, Gratton . . . 13.00 min. Substitutes—First period: Hamill for Ralph, Brown for Shewell, Ralph for Shields. Second period: Hamill for Ralph.
