

One of Britain's Monster Field Pieces.

The Turmoil in Russia.

BATTERY OF HEAVY BRITISH FIELD PIECES AND THEIR CREWS ON THE ROADSIDE NEAR NEUVILLE VITESSE, BRITISH WEST FRONT.

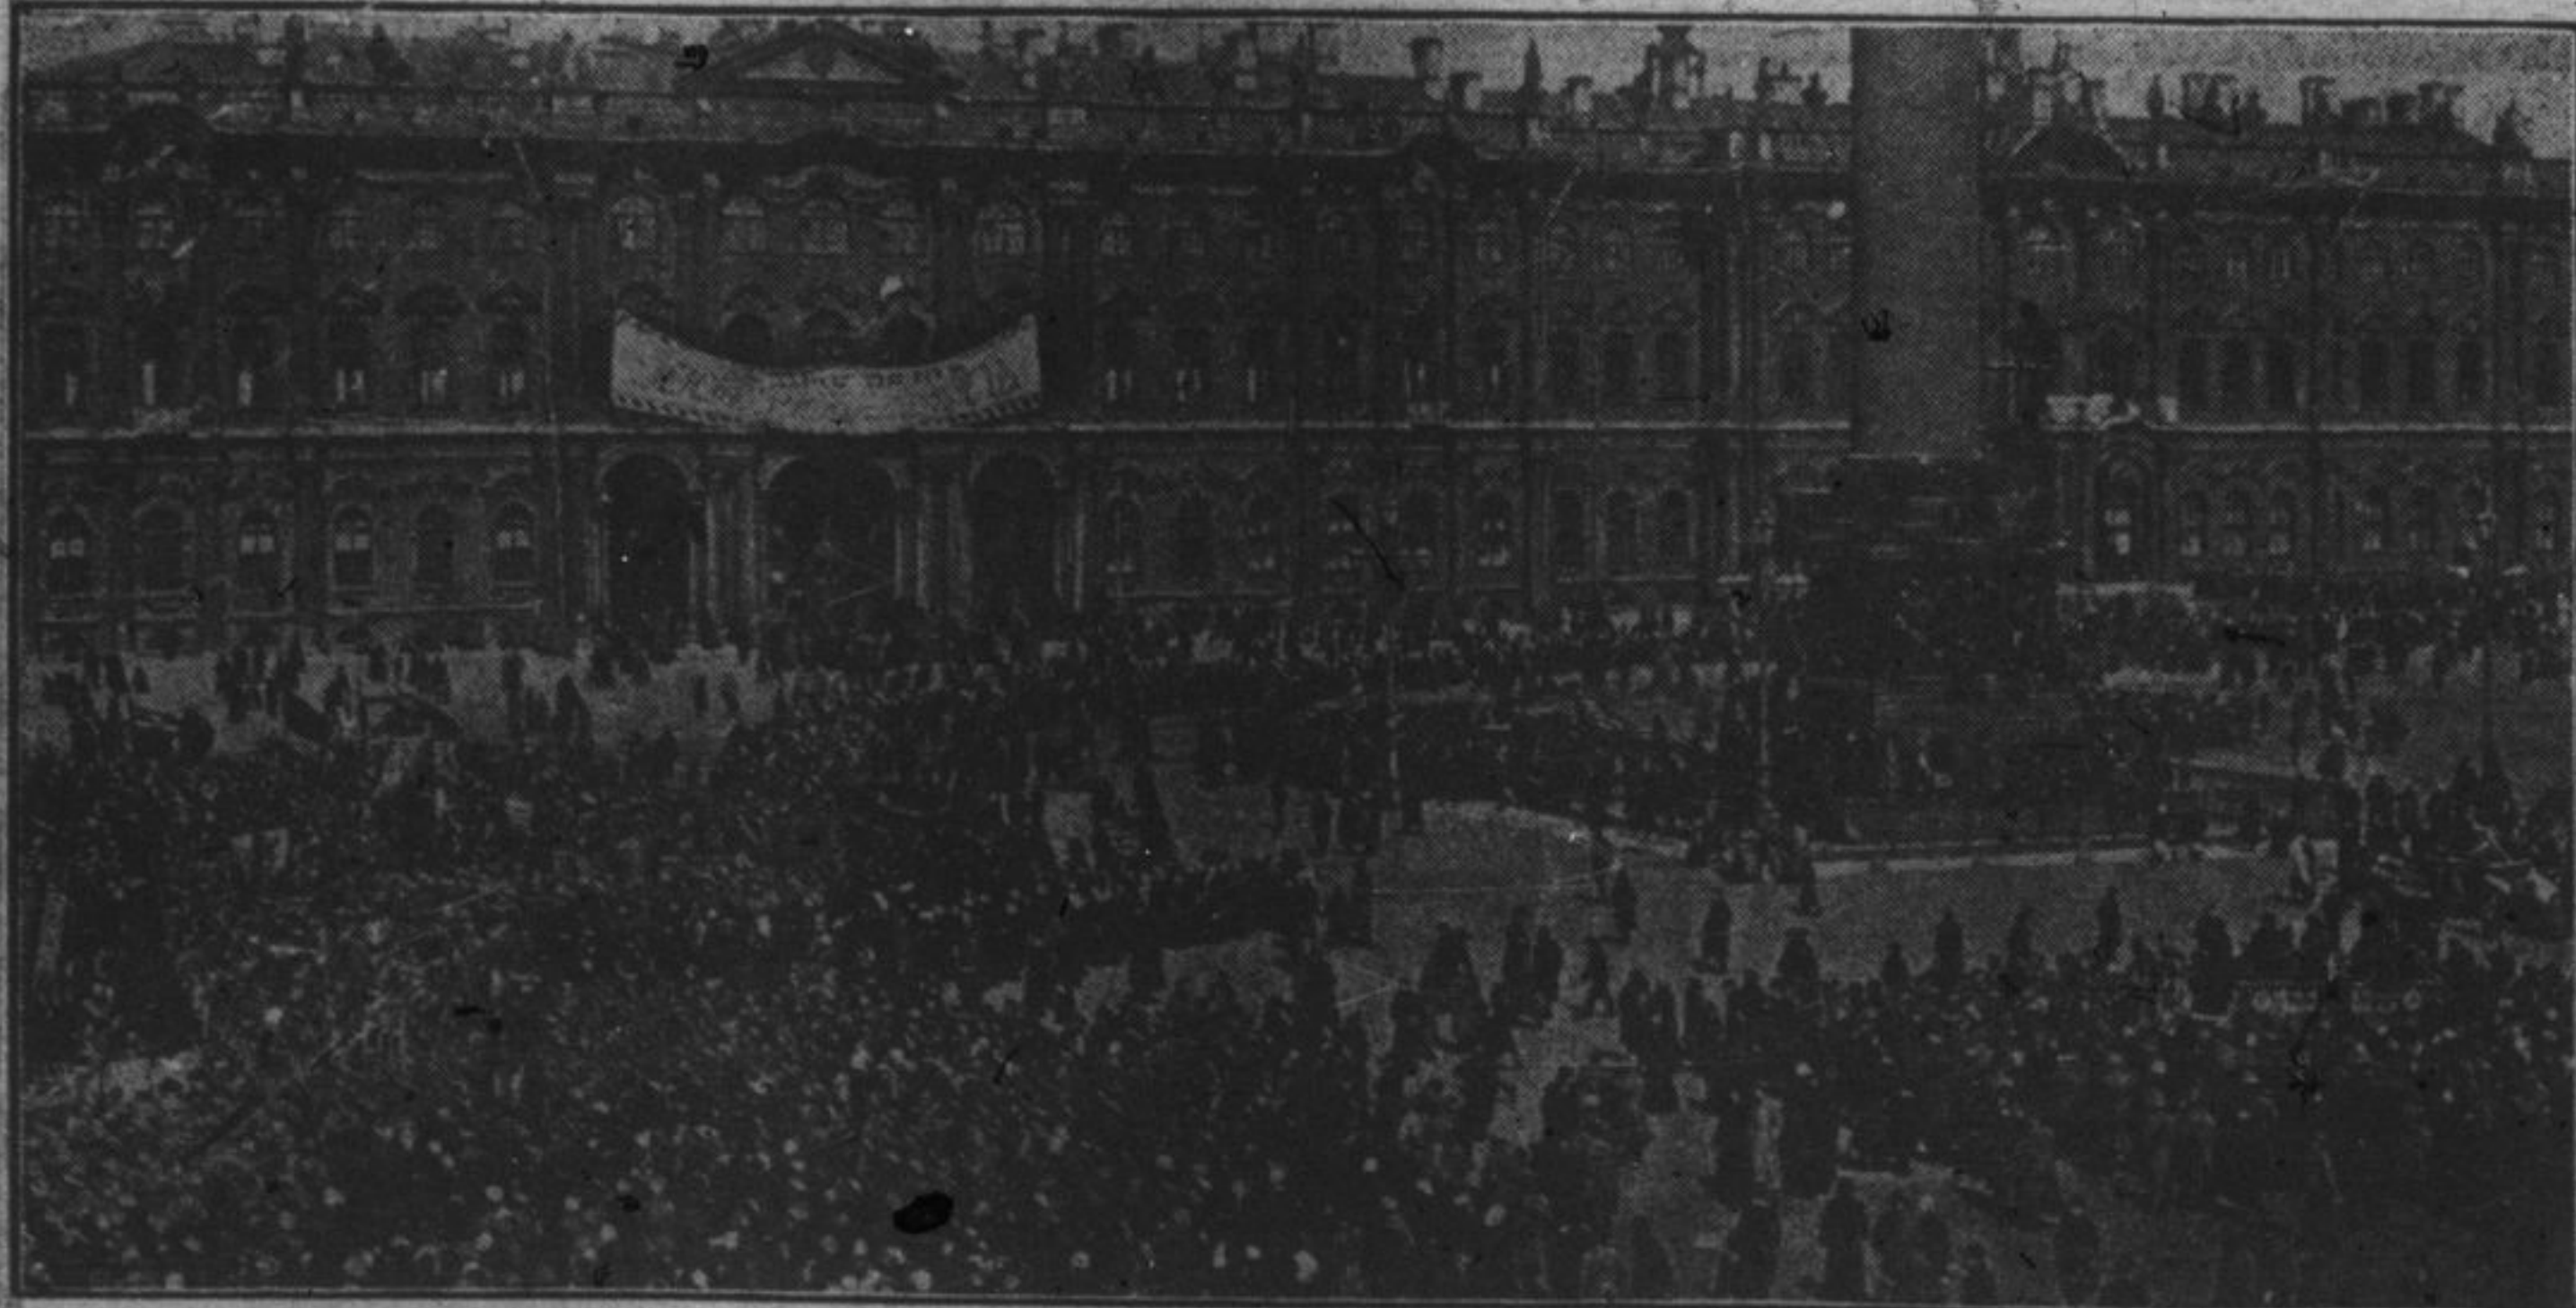

TRIES RE... OF...
Von Hindenburg...
Combing Out His...
On West F...

By William Phillips...
With the British...
Field, Jan. 21.—Hindenburg...
tempting to rejuvenate...
front, according to all in...
day. Only youngsters of...
troop" kind are now coming...
line. Other men are being...
work in the rear...
has likewise been a general...
of all line troops...
presently still under...

Germans get the range of a shell-torn tree on which the French have strung their telegraph and telephone wires.

Russian girl soldiers of the "Battalion of Death" assembled in front of their barracks at Tsarakoo Selo, fifteen miles south of Petrograd, the seat of two former Imperial palaces. The "Battalion of Death" remained loyal to the last to the Kerensky Provisional Government and the Allies, has never been disbanded, and is still counted as an effective military unit.

Nikolai Lenin, Prime Minister and head of the Bolshevik Government, addressing Russian soldiers and workingmen in front of the Winter Palace, Petrograd. The stand on which Premier Lenin is speaking can be seen on the extreme left of the picture.

Sir Edward Carson presiding at a popular sale in London of British "Victory Bonds," assisted, on his right, by Lady Curzon, and, on his left, by Lady Mott.