SAVING FUEL.

Canceling Ash Wednesday and Lenten Services in St. George's

Dean Starr announced Tuesday morning that the clergy of the Anglican church had decided to forego the services in St. George's cathedral on Ash Wednesday during Lent or until such time as the fuel situation improved. It meant, he said a very real deprivation to the members of the Church of England this giving up their helpful Lenten services, but it was felt that conditions demanded it. An urgent request had been received from the Fuel Controller on Monday and it was the duty, he felt, of the church to lead in supporting him, even though it meant hardships and denial. The services, therefore, as announced to be held in St. George's cathedral on Ash Wednesday will be cancelled. There will be a communion service in the winter chapel on Wednesday. The chapel will be heated with oil burners.

An Unfailing Way To Banish Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Ugly hairy growths can be removed in the privacy of your own home if you get a small original package of delatone and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about two minutes then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real delatone.

ARE WORKING TOGETHER INCIDENTS OF THE DAY

ENDEAVOR TO ESTABLISH PERMANENT FARM COURSE HERE.

Returned Soldiers Attended This Course Started Some Time Ago and Desire a Continuance of It.

There is a plan now under the consideration of the Vocational Training branch of the Military Hospitals Commission and of the local office of the Department of Agriculture to institute a course in farming for the exclusive benefit of soldiers who have been overseas.

Some weeks ago the fifth annual course at the local office was started and an every inducement was held out to the farmers of the district to attend. The course developed in fact to one almost exclusively attended by soldiers who were undergoing treatment for the wounds they received at the front. Because of this unexpected change in the plans the local authorities intend to take advantage of the opportunity of uniting the work to reach a common objective. The Vocational Training Branch or the M.H.C. is trying to re-educate the returned soldier to fit him for civilian life. The Department of Agriculture is trying to qualify men to handle farms on a higher standard so that greater production of foodstuffs will result. The two objects can be reached by such a course. The soldiers themselves are very much interested, and realizing the practical good which would come from such a venture will do their best to work up a large attendance and thus ensure the permanence of the class.

FUEL SITUATION BETTER OWING TO THE MILD SPELL THAT FORTUNATELY CAME.

People Burning Much Less Fuel in an Effort to Conserve—More Coal is Expected This Week.

The fuel situation in Kingston has improved with the coming of the thaw, Controller Nisole reports. The demand for coal on Monday and Tuesday was much lighter than it was last week. People find that with the thermometer above the freezing point they can get along with a very small quantity of coal in their stoves and furnaces. Many people have closed off most of the rooms of their dwellings and heat only those they actually require.

With the clearing of the railway lines and the improvement of transportation, it is expected that some coal will reach here this week. Only for the appointment of a fuel controller, Kingston would have had a hard time of it, but organization of the city's fuel supply and a just distribution has eased the situation.

Some of the smaller stores are using much less coal than they otherwise would do. A few are even getting along with gas heaters.

MILD SPELL COMES; GLADLY WELCOMED

It Will Be a Great Help in the Saving Of Fuel.

After the citizens had been doing their "bit" to conserve the coal supply, the Weather Man also shouldered his responsibility and sent along a mild spell. Monday the weather turned quite soft, and on Tuesday morning citizens found the walking very disagreeable.

However, owing to the shortage of fuel, everyone appeared to be well pleased, for it will certainly help out the railways to move the cars of coal which have been stalled on the road.

A FRENCH OFFICER TO BE APPOINTED AS Successor to the Late Prof. Lanos at Royal Military College.

A special despatch from Ottawa to the Whig says:

The French Government has been requested to name an officer of the army to succeed the late Major J. M. Lanos as professor of French at the Royal Military College. One name was submitted to the Militia Department, but this morning a cable was received announcing the withdrawal of the name. Gen. Fiset announces that a successor possibly will be nominated in a few weeks.

Allies Can Break Through.

Dr. Allan MacRossie of the American Red Cross, who recently returned from the French front, speaking at the dinner of the University of Pennsylvania in Delmonico's, New York, Sunday night, said:

"In a conversation I had with General Pershing he said: 'If the French line holds the Germans back until April or May, my prediction is that nothing can stop the Allies from breaking through the German lines and bringing the Kaiser to his knees.'"

Dr. MacRossie is a native of Kingston.

"Business as usual" was the slogan Tuesday morning after the tie-up of business.

"Some change in the weather" was the usual greeting on the streets on Tuesday morning.

In St. Mary's Cathedral no Lenten services will be held in the desire of the church officials to save coal.

There was a great demand for shovels to-day, and merchants and their employees had some good exercise in taking off the snow.

The roads in the country are in a very bad state. A couple of cars driving out to Catarqui cemetery at a funeral on Monday morning toppled over two or three times, but luckily no person was injured.

We will rent you a piano, and at end of six months if you feel like purchasing instrument we will allow the 6 months' rental on purchase price, and arrange easy terms on balance. C. W. Lindsay, Ltd.

Tuesday morning a small boy had a close call. He was walking along Princess street when a monster-ice came down with a crash and almost grazed him. The youngster was given quite a fright.

"There is no reason why the stores could not close at eight o'clock on Saturday night," said a prominent merchant to the Whig to-day. "I think the merchants in their movement to help out the fuel situation should decide to close early on Saturday."

We will rent you a piano, and at end of six months if you feel like purchasing instrument we will allow the 6 months' rental on purchase price, and arrange easy terms on balance. C. W. Lindsay, Ltd.

That the coal saving order will serve as conclusive proof to the American Government and the producers of coal in the United States that there is a real shortage of coal in Canada is regarded by coal dealers as the invaluable accomplishment of the Fuel Controller's order.

STAFF IS CRIPPLED.

Seven Members of Post Office Staff off on Account of Illness.

Kingston's post office has been hard hit by sickness among its employees this winter. At the present time there are seven members of the staff off duty on account of illness, and this makes the work very heavy, in view of the fact that no extra men have been provided.

To-day Postmaster James Stewart was busy engaged in sorting mail, while Deputy Postmaster Shannon had to look after the duties at the general delivery. Monday the night staff consisted of two men, and of course they were unable to handle the big rush of mail which arrives on the night trains.

150 ARMY LOCOMOTIVES

Built in Record Time By American Locomotive Co.

New York, Feb. 12.—That 150 locomotives for use by the American expeditionary forces in France were ordered from the American Locomotive Company July 24th last and were completed in September and October, was revealed in the semi-annual report of the company made public here. The report also showed that net profits for the six months ended December 31st were $6,010,900, of which $439,376 was profit on mainline business. At the close of the year the company's unfilled orders amounted to $75,624,849.

A fine collie dog was corralled by the police because it attacked a little girl and tore her clothing. The canine will be given a home in the country, where his services will be of more value than in the city.

Citizens did not have to work overtime with their furnaces on Tuesday morning. Some furnaces were allowed to burn out owing to the mild weather and the desire to save fuel.

"I did not have to go near my furnace this morning," said one citizen to the Whig, "and this was the first morning this winter that I did not have to look after it."

The office of the Civic Utilities on Princess street was closed on Monday.

M. P. Reid, Union street, is laid up with an attack of pleurisy.
