THREE TIPLERS FINED

TWO COULD NOT LOCATE PARTY WHO SOLD THEM LIQUOR.

Nine Bottles of Booze Will Go to Waste if Powers That Be Do Not Take Action—It Could Be Used At Hospitals.

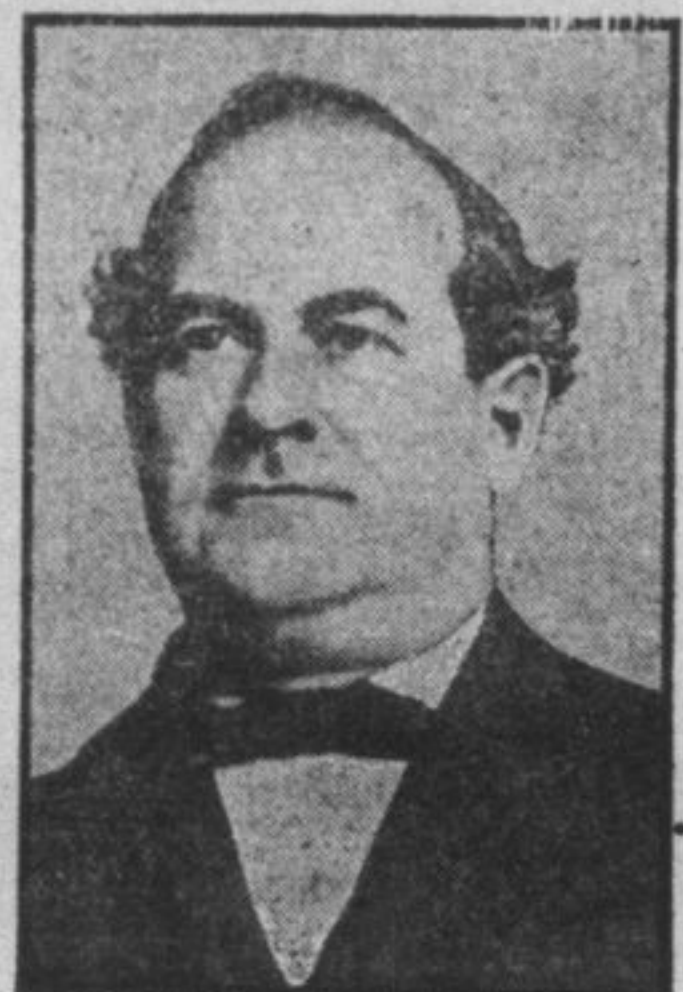

Moses Howell and Charles Roy, on remand on a charge of being intoxicated, came before Magistrate Farrell again on Thursday morning, and a fine of $10 and costs was imposed on each.

Howell is the man who told the Magistrate that he secured his liquor from a soldier in the Army and Navy Headquarters. He had arranged with a man to get it there, paying him $4 when the deal was made. The Magistrate asked if he could give any further information regarding the man who had sold him the whiskey, but he stated that he had not been able to locate him.

The few days given Roy to refresh his memory were not sufficient for him to recall who the party was who sold him his "biters."

The young man who was caught with nine sealed bottles of whiskey in his suit case, pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated, and was fined $10 and costs. He said he got the liquor at Coteau Junction and at the time he was arrested none of the bottles had been opened.

The nine bottles of whiskey will be confiscated by the police, and unless the powers that be take quick action to have it handed over to the local hospitals, it will "as per usual," be used to flush the city sewers.

HON. W. J. BRYAN May run for President of the United States on the dry ticket. He is certain every party will have a prohibition plank in 1920.

Familiar Quotations

It is not only a matter of principle, but a matter of patriotism, that our business life should be lived on the highest possible plane. I don't say that we must give up either our ambitions or our pleasures, but our ambitions must be straight. —ANONYMOUS.

The Theatres

At The Grand. Superb Ethel Barrymore will be seen for the last time to-night at the Grand in that charming Metro Wonderplay, "An American Widow." Never before has Miss Barrymore been seen in a more delightful role and she recalls her wonderful stage success in "Cousin Kate" days. "An American Widow" is pure comedy, as sheer as Georgette Crepe, and assuredly provides a most enjoyable evening's entertainment. Miss Barrymore is seen as Betty Carter, a young American widow with everything she desires except a wife. And she plans to gain this by her marriage with an impoverished Earl. But a codicil of her husband's will demands that her second husband be an American. So she arranges to marry an American and then divorce him at once so she can marry the Earl. But, as in real life, surprises often happen. Miss Dellerene Craig duplicated her former triumph and sang several new songs in a most charming manner. Other reels complete this bill for to-night only.

At Griffin's. Dainty Marguerite Clark, following her custom of making one fairy story each year, will be seen in "The Seven Swans," a delightfully whimsical fantasy. The story is for children of all ages, and deals with the adventures of a certain Princess Tweedledee and her seven brothers. See this picture and live in the "land of make-believe." Do you remember the time you read "Anderson and Grinnon and the benevolent witch" or "The fairy princess and they all lived happy ever after." It's all here, with lovable Marguerite Clark, too, in the daintiest, liveliest, most magnificently staged story ever written for folks who haven't lost their "make-believe." It's a picture that will make your veins tingle.

At The Strand. An excellent triple feature photograph bill will hold the boards at the Strand for the last three days of this week. Charming Alice Brady will be seen in one of the most delightfully clever offerings ever filmed, "The Divorce Game," from the famous stage play, "Mlle. Fife." Miss Brady is seen as an extravagant young American girl who marries an extravagant young French nobleman. The young people have great difficulty in getting the money with which to pay their debts, and the result is a thoroughly entertaining picture. William S. Hart will be seen in one of his famous western pictures, "Knight of the Trail," and Douglas Fairbanks, "The man with the million dollar smile," will also be seen in "The Matrimoniae." Comedy and topical reels will also be shown.

The Light Of Dawn. This is the second last episode in "The Voice of the Wire." Those who have seen the whole or part of this serial will be anxious to see the owner of the weird hand at the King Edward to-night and Friday. Watch for "The Mystery Ship," coming next week. (Continued on Page 5.)
