Sporting Notes

Jack Reed, heavyweight boxer of Toledo, Ohio, has been barred from Minnesota rings for six months.

Help for the proposed boxing bill in New York State is seen in news that the Jersey Legislature had proposed a boxing bill limiting bouts to eight rounds in places where liquor is not served.

The naming of Ed. Barrow as manager of the Boston Red Sox means that the non-playing manager idea has passed away. Barrow will be in the Connie Mack class, for he will not wear a uniform.

If all Americans were as peace-loving as Jess Willard seems to be, they would be serving sauerkraut as the chief dish on the White House menu.

They say Jim Flynn is going to write his autobiography telling of his life in the ring. It looks as if Jim Corbett is going to have competition at last.

Alexander the Great will pitch his first game of ball for the Chicago Cubs in the 1918 campaign against the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Louis on April 16th, the opening day. The Cubs want to get off with a good start.

First it was Bob Fitzsimmons, Frank Gotch and John L. Sullivan. Now it is Billy Madden and Terry McGovern. They seem to go by the rule of three. Who will the Grim Reaper claim next to complete this trio?

Speaking of McGovern, it might be said that Terry was one of the old school of successful scrappers who believed in and followed the old motto, "Come easy, go easy," in the matter of money. Quite a difference between these and the thrifty champions of to-day.

One hardly ever sees articles nowadays referring to the wonderful managerial ability of Fiedler Jones. They used to be exceedingly common.

Edward Barrow got right on the job as manager of the Red Sox. He had lined up and signed several balking ballplayers within forty-eight hours, and it is also said that he was the man to block the plans Frazee had for sending Larry Gardner, Herbert Pennock and Tilly Walker to the Athletics.

LACROSSE'S DYING KICK.

Decision of Montrealers Not to Carry on Means Finish.

The announcement from Montreal that the National Lacrosse Club was not likely to be reorganized for the coming season caused considerable surprise in local sport circles, as the National Club has been the mainstay of lacrosse for many years, and its suspension would probably mean the death of the national game in the east.

Lacrosse is practically gone at Toronto and in many other cities, but it was holding on grimly at Montreal. If the Nationals drop it, it may be all off.

Boxer Is Suspended.

Jack Reed, heavyweight boxer, of Toledo, Ohio, has been barred from Minnesota rings for six months. He was matched to fight in the semi-wind up to the Greb-O'Dowd bout in St. Paul Monday night, but failed to live up to his agreement.

Basketball Popular.

College spirit is rampant at the University of Virginia. Nearly 500 attended a recent basketball game there—one of the largest crowds to patronize this sport in the history of the institution. It shows how Virginia appreciates intercollegiate competition.

Handsome Sum For The Red Cross.

So far more than $80,000 has been received by the United States Golf Association from clubs that held Red Cross tournaments on July 4th last. As there are several hundred clubs yet to report, it is expected the grand total will reach $100,000.

MANY NEW FEATURES IN THE GAME LAWS

North Carolina First to Prohibit Shooting of Water-Fowl From Airplane.

Several new features in game protection have been introduced during the past year.

The first game law placed on the statute books of any state through the medium of an initiative petition was adopted in Arizona. Hunting game with flying machines has been made illegal in North Carolina by a law prohibiting shooting water fowl on any of the waters of the state from an airplane.

Cat-license bills introduced in Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey and elsewhere, seem to have failed uniformly, but in two states brief cat laws were passed. Massachusetts passed a law prohibiting possession of cats on Muskeget Island or the bringing of any cat to the island, and Michigan declared cats following on the track of game birds or small game, public nuisances, and decreed that the owner who permits them to run at large after notice from the Game Commissioner shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Can Coveleskie Come Back.

Two pitchers of the Detroit Americans have signed 1918 contracts. The men are Harry Coveleskie, the veteran left-hander, and Joe Finerman, a right-hand recruit from the American association. Finerman is touted strongly as a comer, and Manager Jennings has given Coveleskie another chance to prove that he is not in the "has been" class.

If Not Cobb, Then Hellman.

Miller Huggins' object in going west is to bring one of the three Detroit outfielders to New York. There may be denials, but that stands. His first objective is Tyrus Cobb. If Navin absolutely declines to consider the Cobb proposition, Huggins will endeavor to separate Harry Hellman from the Detroit roster. That also stands, despite any subsequent denials.

And Foid Is So Dear, Too.

It takes six years to make a hammer thrower, according to Martin Sheridan and other authorities. But if one thinks of becoming a hammer thrower, he must begin dieting at the age of ten and aim to weigh 250 pounds when he is twenty-one. He will need that foundation for six years strenuous training.

To Make Early Start.

Harry Sallee, Lew McCarthy, Bill Rariden, Heinie Zimmerman, Al Demaree, Jeff Tesreau, and Rube Benson, of the New York Giants, will leave New York on March 3rd for Hot Springs, Ark., where they will stay for a week before leaving for Marlin.

Wants His "Bill."

Grover Alexander has nothing on Cyclone Yelksy, a Cleveland boxer. A few days ago Yelksy's manager sold his interest in the fighter for a dime—ten cents. Yelksy then declared himself a holdout on his new manager, unless he received a cut of the ten cents.

Will Deal Go Back?

Charles Deal is not slated for the minors yet, although Louisville has mentioned him in the collection of men it expects to secure. The Cubs could not get him out of the league if waivers were asked. Besides, Manager Mitchell needs him for the infield.

Shocker Weds Actress.

At Detroit, Mich., Urban J. Shocker, who two years ago pitched for Toronto in the International League, was married to Miss Minerva C. Davenport, a former actress, who retired from the stage some time ago. Shocker will take his bride with him to the Browns' training camp when he starts south next week.

Tennis Coaches Needed.

With lawn tennis steadily gaining favor throughout the country, it is being called to the attention of these interested in the game that there is need of competent professional coaching.

The Toronto Baseball Club has sent out contracts to all players under reserve.

Baseball Briefs

First Baseman Sheely, who played with the Salt Lake City team last summer will be a candidate for the first base position on the Cleveland Indians this spring.

The report that Christie Mathewson planned to add Jimmy Lavender to his Cincinnati pitching staff seems to have been a false alarm. Matty apparently is doing nothing to keep Jimmy from the minors.

Clarence Roland plans to take about thirty-six players to the training camp in Texas. This is about the top figure among the major league clubs.

John Henry and Art Wilson will battle for the position of first catcher for the Braves. The contest shapes up as a decidedly open one as the teams prepare to leave for the training camp.

The physician who has been attending pitcher Phil Douglas declares he will be unable to play with the Cubs next season. Douglas was recently operated on for appendicitis.

Johnny Evers' career in the National League was a long and brilliant one. And there is no denying the fact that Troyjohn had more than his share of excitement before transferring his allegiance to the American League.

Terry Turner, veteran player of the American League may shine again as a regular now that Joe Evans will be lost to the Indians for a great part of the season.

Joe Gedson, recently traded to the St. Louis Browns by the Yankees, has not been idle during the off season. He has been working on a railroad in California.

Catcher Huhn, who has been the third string backstop for the Reds for several seasons, has been sent to the Milwaukee club.

Ted Jourdan is the latest member of the White Sox to affix his signature to a Chicago contract. Jourdan will fill the utility role again, he has no chance to break into the infield.

The pitching staff of the Senators next season may be the smallest in the circuit. Manager Griffiths thinks that four twirlers are enough.

Norman W. Platt, a young pitcher purchased by Brooklyn from the Portland, Me., club of the Eastern League, has sent in his signed contract to President Ebbets.

George Daus, the Tigers' veteran pitcher has sent his signed contract to President Navin.

Ernie Johnston, the Browns' utility infielder, has signed his 1918 contract.

The condition of International League players generally, held up by the league's case of suspended animation, may be bad enough, but consider the sad fate of the Buffalo players. The affairs of this club are in the hands of a receiver and he can't dispose of any "assets," including players, without a court order.

Paddy Martin, who trained with the Leaf's last spring, has shouldered a gun and is now in training at Camp Upton. Last season Martin was with New London. He holds the record of being on three pennant winning teams in four years in the New England territory.

Ben Caffry, outfielder who played with the Leafs in 1908 and retired from the game several years ago, is now a Lieutenant in the army and stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., as an instructor of recruits. Caffry served in the Spanish-American war as a youngster and when this big war came he lost no time offering his services to Uncle Sam.

Regular Inspection Must be Deferred

SO many skilled telephone workers have gone overseas that we have found it impossible for the present to keep up the practice of making a regular inspection of all subscribers' telephones.

It is important, in the interests of your service, that such defects as broken mouth-pieces, frayed cords, etc., be reported to us promptly.

We therefore ask that subscribers promptly notify the "Trouble Department" (no number necessary) of any such defect in their telephone equipment so that we may remedy it promptly and protect the service.

Your kind co-operation will be appreciated.

The Bell Telephone Co.

"Good service . . . our true intent."

Regarding the Dental-Kitchener game, the Toronto Daily Empire says:—Willard Box played for a portion of every period, but his speed did not count for a great deal because the puck could not be carried. He did not show any sign of his recent illness, but on the small rink and under the incessant back checking he only got going in spots. He tried gamely and battled to the last. His team lost, but a tribute to his fidelity and unselfish sportmanship should be paid for his seal in attempting the struggle. Millan found the opposition camped on his trail all the way, and Jimmy Stewart was given a hard passage on the boards.

Fred Fulton, of Rochester, Minn., and Bob Devere, of Kansas City have been matched for a ten-round bout at St. Louis on March 11.

Box Battled Hard.

Some statisticians have estimated that the two major leagues will give up $600,000 in railroad fares the coming season. The total mileage of each league is about 85,000 miles, which means an average expense for each player of about $1,700.

Outfielder Paul Smith, purchased from Montreal by the Boston Red Sox, has been accepted for military service at his home in Mount Zion, Ill., and probably do his training at some army cantonment this spring, instead of at Hot Springs with Ed. Barrow's team.
