ISSUED BY THE SPECIAL SERVICE HEADQUARTERS.

The Public Are Given Some Interesting Information With Regard to Men Who Receive Their Discharge.

319,868. Private J. Smith, enlisted in Kingston with "C" Battery, and went overseas in August 1916. In England the unit was stationed at Shorncliffe. On proceeding to France he transferred to the 25th Battery on the Somme. He was in action on the latter front, also at Vimy Ridge, in both fronts he got wounded, though officially he was only shown as wounded on the Vimy front. He was treated at No. 3 British General Hospital at Le Treport, and No. 7 Canadian General Hospital at Le Havre. In England he was at Colchester Military Hospital, and Epsom Convalescent. He returned on the 17th of last month. His home is in Manchester, England. 725,020. Private J. H. Owen, enlisted December 13th, 1915 in the 109th Battalion in Lindsay. He trained at Barrieffield the following summer until the unit went overseas in July 1916. In England they were stationed at Oxney Farm and Bramshott. From there he was drafted to the 20th Battalion in France, joining them at Bois-grenier. He was in action at the latter place also at Vimy, at Passchendaele he got gassed, and was sent to Rouen hospital, and later crossed to England to Newport hospital, Wales. He was thirteen months in France, returning to this country on February 9th last. His home is in Oakwood, Ont. 622,522. Private F. Desauter, enlisted 27th of February, 1916 in the 154th Battalion in Hawkesbury. He trained at Barrieffield before going overseas. In England the unit was stationed at Bramshott, where Desauter transferred to the 3rd Labour Battalion and accompanied them to France. He worked at Audrie and around Ypres during ten months in France. He returned to Canada last month. His home is in Hawkesbury.

JAPAN SAID TO HAVE SUPPORT OF BRITAIN

Washington Draws This Inference From Lord Robert Cecil's Statement.

Washington, March 11.—Japan has and will continue to have strong British backing for any intervention step she contemplates in Siberia. This was the inference drawn today from the statement of Lord Robert Cecil, Britain's blockade minister, strongly favoring the intervention. He warned that Germany is bent on a stupendous plan of world conquest, and that Japanese aid will help materially in thwarting it to the eastward. Japan will doubtless seize upon his words as added encouragement for her proposal, despite American views against the step. The State Department early to-day was without a definite answer from Japan, though there were indications that she may be prepared to present strong arguments on the need for a movement in the light of German penetration into Russia.

THOUGHT SON DEAD.

Mother Made Ill by Meeting Her Boy on Street.

Atlanta, Ga., March 11.—Mrs. Rosa Holley Whitehead, Saturday, recovering at her home here from the shock of meeting her son, whom she thought dead, walking along the street in perfect health. A few days ago she went to Louisville and buried the body of a man she believed to be her son Aubrey. Some weeks ago Aubrey went to Louisville. Nothing was heard from him for two weeks. Later the body of a man was found in the Ohio river. Aubrey's sisters viewed the body and hastily concluded it was their brother. The mother then journeyed to the Kentucky city and provided an expensive funeral.

Hair Coming Out?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of Danderrine at any drug store for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

PAST 20 YEARS WAS ONE LONG STRUGGLE

Mrs. Bradbury Cheerful And Happy All the Time Now, She Says.

'My life has just been one long hard struggle for the past twenty years, and the way I have suffered can't be described in words,' said Mrs. Annie Bradbury, living at 24 Wellesley street, Toronto, recently. 'There have been many times when it seemed like I would have to give up and quit trying to get well,' she continued. 'Up to the time I started taking Tanlac, no medicine or treatment had given me relief from my dreadful condition. I was just as near a nervous wreck as a person can be. The least little noise would start me and bring on a trembling spell and I would get despondent and blue and just sit down and cry until I would almost go distracted. I couldn't sleep at night and when morning came I'd be all worn out and tired until I just had to force myself to keep going. I had no appetite and my energy left me gradually until I was so weak I could scarcely move. My heart would flutter and act queer and I lost weight and got so thin that my rings would slip from my fingers. Fifteen years ago I was operated on, but my condition was unchanged, and I have been going down hill ever since until here a while back, my husband got a bottle of Tanlac for me and I started taking it. 'I never saw or heard of anything more wonderful than the way this Tanlac has benefited me. My nerves are strong and steady now and I am cheerful and happy instead of blue and discouraged. I have a big appetite, and enjoy every meal. My strength has increased until the housework is a pleasure to me, instead of a drudgery. I have already gained ten pounds in weight and am gaining every day. Several of my friends are now taking Tanlac, since I've told them what it has done for me, and they as well as I think there never was a medicine made that equals Tanlac. It has done me more good than all the medicine and treatments I have taken in twenty years and I'm delighted over my recovery.'

Tanlac is sold in Kingston by J. P. Chown, in Plevna by Gilbert Ostler, in Battersea by C. S. Clark, in Fernleigh by Erwin Martin, in Ardooch by M. J. Sullivan. —ADVT.

THE VOICE OF THE PULPIT

REV. C. E. KIDD, GANANOQUE, IN SYDENHAM STREET CHURCH.

Rev. Mr. Coates, of Iroquois, Occupied the Pulpit of the Queen Street Methodist Church.

Rev. C. E. Kidd, of Gananoque, preached in Sydenham Street Methodist church Sunday morning and evening. He took as his evening subject the word, "Spending." This, the speaker said, was an indication of the character of a man, his real self coming out in the use he makes of what he earns. According to Isaiah, there are three ways of spending—for necessities, comforts and worship.

The point that Mr. Kidd brought out was based on the words, "Deliver me for thou art my God." If we believe in God, who can deliver us as we profess to. He should have first place in our thoughts, and in our spending. Our worship should not be a matter of conventionality. Illustrations were drawn by the speaker from some years of his work on the Pacific coast, reference being made to coast Indians. They have often done as in the text, cut down a tree from which they would make a canoe, a fire and a totem or high-head. We profess to despise the heathen in their blindness, but it is quite possible that we are working along the same lines, that a good bank balance or an established business has first place in the thoughts.

Two Uplifting Sermons.

Rev. E. W. S. Coates, Iroquois, was the preacher in Queen street Methodist church on Sunday and delivered two uplifting sermons. The morning one on the way of access to God, and the evening one in the evening in the soul's consciousness of the presence of God. The choir was out in force and the singing of familiar hymns was hearty. In the morning Allan Haffner gave a solo and at eight two quartets and the male quartette rendering "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me." and Mrs. Evans, Mrs. McCallum, Messrs. Pettigrew and McCallum offering "Love Divine."

At Princess Street Church.

Rev. W. E. Long, of South Pittsburgh, preached at both services in the Princess street Methodist church on Sunday, and delivered most inspiring sermons. At the morning service he spoke on "The Golden Rule," and in the evening he based his discourse on "If ye know these things, happy are you if ye do them." Rev. H. E. Curry was to have exchanged pulpits with Rev. Mr. Long, but after making the long drive of thirteen miles in the storm, he found that the weather was so bad that the service had to be abandoned. The snowstorm during the night put the roads in terrible condition, and it was almost impossible to drive on the road. However, the Kingston pastor was able to keep his appointment even though the congregation could not attend.
