The Theatres

At Grand.

It is generally acknowledged that John Barrymore, who impersonates Peter Ibbetson in John N. Raphael's dramatization of George Du Maurier's famous novel of the same name, which will be presented at the Grand to-night and again for the last time Tuesday night, is one of the most brilliant young actors on the stage to-day. Coming from a great actor family, and trained from his boyhood on the stage, it is but natural that John Barrymore should achieve a great place for himself in the drama of to-day. His grandmother was the great Mrs. John Drew? His mother was Georgie Drew Barrymore, and so his uncle is John Drew of to-day. His sister Ethel Barrymore, is one of the most popular stars of our time.

Mr. Barrymore and Miss Collier have enjoyed an extraordinary success in this play in other cities, produced for the first time at the Republic Theatre, New York, the early part of last season. It has since been played at six other New York playhouses. "Peter Ibbetson" is generally acknowledged as being one of the most extraordinary plays ever seen on the stage. This will not seem extravagant praise to those acquainted with the extraordinary novel from which it was made, with Mr. Raphael's dramatization, or with the brilliant company that was organized by the Messrs. Schubert? It has been called "one of the happiest love stories ever told." Unlike many dramatized novels, it is not at all necessary, it has been said, for the auditor to have read the book to enjoy the play. Mr. Raphael has divided the play into four acts, and three scenes.

At Griffin's.

For to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday this popular theatre will present for the first time in this city William N. Selig's wonderful feature film dramatization of Robert Dickens' lone romance of the Sahara, "The Garden of Allah." This is the half million dollar production which has created such speculation in Hollywood. The world famous star, Helen Ware, plays the role of "Somnia Effilden, and she is supported by an all-star cast. A succession of bona fide scenes of the great Sahara desert are shown, and the love interest in the story is both intense and absorbing. Critics assert that Helen Ware has performed the most artistic work of her distinguished career as an actress. Thousands of supernumeraries, caravans of camels, Arabs, native bedouins, etc., participate in the action. The Selig company is known for the worthiness of its spectacular film specials. A fortune has been spent in producing "The Garden of Allah," which is the last word in cinematography. See the world's greatest love romance at Griffin's.

At the Strand.

For the first three days of this week a double feature bill of high-class photoplays will be exhibited at this popular theatre. Julian Eltinge, the famous woman impersonator, will be seen in his latest Paramount screen success, "The Widow's Might." In this production, Mr. Eltinge appears as Dick Tavish, an enterprising young New Yorker, who decides that there is money in cows and establishes himself on a western ranch. How he is obliged to disguise himself as a woman in order to entrap the cook, who is trying to steal his farm, and how he finally wins out against all sorts of odds, makes a thrilling and entirely humorous picture. Charley Chaplin in "The Immigrant" and topical reels will also be shown. Dr. Zell Hunt, hypnotist and mind reader, will also hold the boards at the Strand each evening, with a special matinee Wednesday and Saturday.

Fighting Blood.

Hanging to the guide rope of the bridge, Virginia holds on by one hand and reaches for her gun with the other. As one of her pursuers is about to cut the rope with a hatchet, she fires at him and he falls over into the canyon. See the rest of this exciting episode in "The Red Ace," at the King Edward Theatre to-night. (Continued on Page 5.)

Military News

Lieut. W. K. Clarke, son of the late E. F. Clarke, M.P., Toronto, has been killed in action. He trained with a Kingston battery and went overseas two years ago.

General Mausel has gone to Ottawa. Major A. E. Bywater, commanding Fort Henry Discharge Depot and Major G. L. Starr, chaplain, are now issuing cards to soldiers receiving their discharge. The wording on the cards is as follows:

"We extend to you best wishes for a happy return to your home and friends. Canada is proud of you, as she is of every man who has done his duty in this war. Remember that the future of this land we love—its religion, its politics, its home life, and its business deals—will be determined largely by you and other returned men. Let each of us then assume a personal responsibility in this reconstruction period and by a consistent life and earnest purpose, do a second "BIT" for God and Home and Empire. Make Canada all you wish it to be, so that all who come to her shores may find here the ideal Democracy, and "fairest spot in all the world."

"Land of the forest and the lake, Land of the rushing river Our prayers shall rise for thy dear sake Forever and forever."

Cadet Gordon Small, Royal Flying Corps, is seriously ill in the General Hospital.

The storm piled the snow so deep around Fort Henry on Sunday morning that Major G. L. Starr, chaplain, was unable to hold the usual divine service there for the men. This was the first Sunday in which the service had to be cancelled.

Lieut.-Col. R. J. Gardiner, A. D. M. S., has returned from an inspection trip through the district.

Lieut. A. J. Haldane, late 13th R.H.C., Cornwall, was in the city on Saturday.

300 SOLDIERS TO COME MONDAY.

Word has been received by Capt. W. J. S. Sharpe, casual-ties officer, that a party of 300 returned soldiers will be arriving in the city about Monday next. This is the largest party of returned men which has come to Kingston, and a big reception will likely be given by the citizens. No information about the arriving of the first contingent of men on furlough has been received, and it is not known whether there will be any in this party or not.

An appeal for books and magazines is being made by the Khaki Club to the citizens. At a recent meeting the matter was brought up and several important changes will be brought about.

Capt. J. G. Galbraith, 197th Battalion, has arrived in Canada for the disposal of the adjutant-general.

Lieut. R. R. De Puyjalon, late 22nd Battalion, and Capt. C. A. Pultow, C.A.M.C. (permitted to resign), have been struck off the strength of the C.E.F.

Pte. T. Masters, No. 3 casualty unit, has been discharged to return to his work on the farm.

Lieut. J. S. McDonnell, assistant vocational training officer to Major F. A. Gooden, has resigned that position and left for Ottawa on Monday. Lieut. McDonnell was overseas as a private in Queen's Engineers. He returned and secured a commission in the 154th Battalion. While in Kingston he has made a large circle of friends, who regret that he is leaving the service.

Appreciate Dr. Milligan.

Toronto Presbytery has issued a resolution of congratulation and appreciation passed at its last meeting to Rev. Dr. G. M. Milligan, minister emeritus of St. Andrew's church, Toronto, on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination, which was recently celebrated. Reviewing his life and work, the Presbytery says: "Dr. Milligan has impressively illustrated the value of expository preaching. He had a message for the social and political life of the land." Dr. Milligan lived in Kingston in his early days and studied at Queen's.

Capt. Nelson Palmatier has engaged with the Ottawa Transportation Company for the season. He will have charge of the steamer Glenn Allen, Ottawa to Oswego, via St. Lawrence river and canals.

You can never get the best results from boys or horses by whipping them.

See Dr. Hunt, hypnotist and mind reader at Strand to-night.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of the late Capt. J. E. Smith, who passed away on March 11th, 1917.

A husband and father was called away From sorrow, grief and pain. No more he'll know the cares of life. Nor shall he suffer death again.

One year has passed, our hearts still sore, As time goes by we miss him more, One of the gentlest, one of the best; We miss him most who loved him best.

In the grave yard softly sleeping Where the flowers gently wave, Lies the one we loved so dearly In that lonely, silent grave. Sadly missed by his wife and son, Barrack street, Kingston.
