TARTAREAN GOES TO SASKATCHEWAN

King's Plate Winner of Three Years Ago Sold to M. M. Lane.

John Nixon reports the sale of Tartarean, King's Plate winner of 1915, to Maurice M. Lane, Southview, Sask., who is taking him to his ranch for the purpose of improving the breed of the western saddle horse, as he purposes mating him with western mares to raise cavalry remnants.

A bright future is predicted for Tartarean in the stud, as he is of royal breeding, being by Stanhope II.—Tarleton, and, besides the King's Plate, has won many valuable races, having shown speed and ability to go a route, being successful in races from three-quarters to two and a half miles. He is well set up, and every inch a horse, and Toronto racegoers will watch his future with interest.

Tartarean, with J. Watts up, won the plate when three years old in the colors of Charles Millar, was trained by John Nixon, and was bred by Mrs. Livingstone, of Cobourg.

BREAKS OWN SWIMMING MARK.

Australian Girl, Coming to America, Does Quarter in 6.03.

The world's record for women for the 440-yard swim was broken by Miss Fannie Durack at the Australasian championships at Melbourne, February 16th. Word to this effect was received by mail by William Mack, an official of the Pacific Athletic Association.

Miss Durack swam the distance in six minutes and three seconds, bettering the former record, which she also held, by three-fifths of a second. She won every championship on the programme. Miss Durack is to arrive here in June for an exhibition tour of the United States.

WILLARD TO FIGHT JULY 4.

Champion Signs to Meet "Unknown" at Oklahoma City.

Jess Willard will fight someone July 4th next, according to word reaching the United Press from Jacksonville, Fla.

Col. J. C. Miller, one owner of the 191 Ranch, near Oklahoma City, telegraphed that he secured Willard's signature to a contract calling for the champion's appearance next Independence Day against some opponent.

"I'm trying to arrange a match with Fulton," he said.

VITT BLEED TIGERS.

Detroit Third Baseman Has Upper Hand of Management.

Oscar Vitt, the Detroit third baseman, refused to sign last year until after the baseball season had opened. Then President Savin was forced to yield to his demands. Vitt now believes that he knows how to get another increase in pay. He has sent word from California that unless Navin agrees to his terms he will remain on the coast all summer.

Football for Women!

Though it always has seemed football is one of the sports that must forever remain beyond the reach of womankind—excepting only the teams of "professional ladies"—it appears that war is breaking down even that barrier and that selling footballs to women, on a limited scale, at least, is one of the after-war possibilities.

At any rate, the women workers in the munition factories in the Midlands district of England have taken up the sport which a conservative British trade authority declares is "going ahead by leaps and bounds." It adds that the girls play "serious, earnest, football," and that there is enough of it being played to make likely the formation of a woman's soccer league.

Archer Back to Pirates.

Jimmie Archer, former Chicago National and Detroit American catcher, has signed a contract to play this season with the Pittsburgh National League club. Archer, who was given an unconditional release by the Chicago club last year, started his major league career with Pittsburgh in 1904.

Cain Expected To Play.

"Jack" Cain, of the De la Salle hockey team, who had his nose broken in the Kingston-De la Salle game at Toronto, is in St. Michael's Hospital, but is expected to be in condition for the U.S.-De la Salle game on Wednesday night.

ENGLISH HORSE RACING.

The Grand National Will be Run March 21st.

The Grand National will be run on the Gatwick course on March 21st. The big steeplechase, which will not be the winner nearly $7,000 in stakes and the value of the cup, has attracted thirty-nine entries. Eleven horses who started in 1917 will again face the starter, including the first four, Ballymacal, Chang, Ally Sloper and Vermouth. The latter was successful in 1916. Ally Sloper is the only animal engaged that has won over the famous Aintree course.

For the King's Plate.

While no mention is made in the conditions of the King's Plate this year, breeders and owners of horses foaled in the Province of Ontario are permitted, for the period of the war, to take their horses out of Canada and not suffer disqualification for the plate, so long as they have been registered with the Ontario Jockey Club. The race will be run this year as usual at the Woodbine on Victoria Day, May 24th.

Girls Play For Red Cross.

The Alert ladies' hockey team of Ottawa met the lady stars of Renfrew last night in a good game, the proceeds of which, less expenses, were in aid of the Red Cross. A big crowd was present and enjoyed a well-contested game. The Ottawa ladies proved themselves the better team and won by 3 to 2. Ottawa led by 2 to 0 at the end of the first period.

Lee Magee To Reds.

Lee Magee, infielder, was released by the St. Louis Americans, Monday, to the Cincinnati Nationals. A three-cornered trade was involved.

In return for Magee, the St. Louis Americans receive from Cincinnati Tim G. Hendrix, outfielder, and the New York Americans will get a player later, either from Cincinnati or St. Louis.

Allan Cup Second Game.

STAR PINGER WANTS "TEN"

Whatever May Happen to Bonus, Alexander Will Join.

Grover Cleveland Alexander, star pitcher with the Chicago Nationals, who has been holding out for $10,000 as a bonus for his transfer from Philadelphia, advised President Weeghman of the club that he would join the team en route to the Pasadena (Calif.) training camp at Kansas City.

Weeghman exchanged telegrams with Alexander at his home in St. Paul, Neb., but he said the subject of a bonus was not discussed. The pitcher's willingness to join the club is taken to indicate that his demands will be adjusted. Weeghman declined to make a statement in this regard.

The players have left for California.

MORALE IS SPLENDID.

Officer Talks of the Fighting Men of the Empire.

"To my mind the greatest mistake the Kaiser and his assassins made was to think the other races of the world degenerate," says Capt. David Fallon, M.M.C., late of British and Australian armies. "He thought that because the French and the British were not plotting for war and dreaming of worldly conquest they were falling to pieces. From the German point of view we were all that. They could see us only as a sport loving, peaceful and unemotional race. They were not wrong, either. We had made sport of our God and God of our sport. Our civilization had taught us to have a good time, and a good time we must have, no matter at whose expense. And so we were living until the Huns were let loose.

"No proof is needed of the valor of the Belgians, the French and the British. It would be idle to speak of it, because for three years they have shown the height of human courage in most damnable and deadly places. The self-sacrifice and heroic deeds of ancient days which have come down to us as legends lack significance when compared with daily deeds performed in this war.

"I have heard of nothing finer than the heroic defence of the Belgians at Liege. Although totally unprepared, they resisted for ten days a great, disciplined force forty times their number; or the impossible standing at Gallipoli made by the Anzacs; or the defence at Verdun by the French; or the Canadians charge through poison gases at Ypres; or the brilliant British attack on the Somme.

No nation is degenerate whose men can endure months of exposure in torrents of rain and bitter cold winds, lying out in pools of freezing water, half starving at times and suffering the tortures of a hurricane of shell fire, and laugh through it all. The allies have proved themselves made of finer stuff than were Napoleon's Old Guard, who were supposed to be the best trained soldiers in the world. The old soldiers were not brought up on farms or trained in factories, on homesteads and on sheep runs, as were the boys from England, Scotland, Australia, Canada, New Zealand and South Africa.

"Napoleon once remarked that 'In war morale is three to one more powerful than material force.' 'This moral superiority was proved by the allies during the early part of this war, when they were greatly outnumbered in men and material. What must happen now when we are superior to the Huns, both morally and materially? Sure victory, of course.

"I have a Canadian to thank for my life. I have told in the Magazine of War of the incident that put me out of any further active part in the war. After three days in a water-filled shell hole, with my arm mashed, my jaw broken and my whole body a wreck. In the end I lost my way. Suddenly I heard a Canadian sentry challenging. I called. 'An English officer, wounded.' I had stumbled into a Canadian post, and one of the boys came through the wire after me. When we were almost safe a very light went up, and a Boche sniper got him through the shoulder. I still have part of my arm, but he has none of his."

Tommy Atkins' Hardships.

"They put me in barracks," wrote a young soldier to his parents; "they took away my clothes and put me in khaki; they took away my name and made me 'No. 575; they took me to church where I never was before, and they made me listen to a sermon for 40 minutes. Then the parson said: 'No. 575. Art thou weary, art thou languid?' and I got seven days in the guardhouse because I answered that I certainly was!"
