CANADIANS MAY AID IN FLANKING MOVE
Counter Stroke by Currie's Men Regarded as Possibility in Ottawa.

Ottawa, March 27.—Military experts at the capital who are following every move of the great battle now in progress, think there is nothing so far over which to be downhearted. The retirement of the British was only to be expected, although undoubtedly the loss of prisoners and material has been greater than was anticipated. They point out that the Germans are now fighting over a desert, made such by their own havoc, and the towns they mention as captured are but uninhabited ruins. The further the Germans advance, the greater will become their difficulties, while the loss of life has undoubtedly been appalling.
The critics are looking for a tremendous counter-stroke at the psychological moment, and when that comes will be surprised if the Canadians do not play a big part in it. The Canadians are holding a line only about fifteen miles from the extreme left of the German offensive. They look for a flank movement by the Canadians on the left and the French on the right, with a view to closing in on the millions of Germans massed in the Somme sector. The tremendous Canadian gas attack is regarded as the forerunner of such a movement.

RECORD CROP IN SIGHT.
But More Effort is Required to Meet Allies' Needs.

Ottawa, March 27.—Hon. Chas. Dunning, director of production on the Canadian Food Board, who has just returned to Ottawa after an extensive tour of Western Canada, states that a record crop, not only for western Canada, but for the east as well, is assured, if weather conditions only co-operate with the producers.
There will be a largely increased acreage cropped in the Prairie Provinces this year, says Mr. Dunning. In the eastern provinces detailed reports as to a range planned indicate a similar willingness on the part of the farmers to get the most out of the soil this year.
From all reports Canada will raise and send to the Allies a food contribution greater in advance of last year. It will not meet the Allies' full requests of Canada this year.

GIRLS! YOU CAN LIFT THEM OFF

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift your sore, touchy corns right out.

A noted Cincinnati authority discovered a new ether compound and called it frezone, and a quarter ounce of it now can be had for a few cents at any drug store.
You simply apply a few drops of this magic frezone upon a tender or painful callus and instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it off with the fingers.
You feel no pain, not a particle of soreness, either when applying frezone or afterwards, and it doesn't even irritate the skin.
Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also touchered calluses, just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! It works like a charm. Try it!
Women should keep it on their dressers and never let a corn ache twice.

GENERAL WOOD SEES MORE OPEN CONTEST
He Advocates Training For This by the United States Troops.

Washington, March 27.—It is Gen. Wood's opinion that the Germans on the western front now are numerically superior, both on the ground and in the air, but that the Allies are in a better position. While confident that the German offensive will be halted before the enemy has gained any material objectives, Gen. Wood suggested that the offensive war change the warfare into a more open contest. For that reason he recommended the training of American forces for open warfare as well as for trench fighting.

The general was before the committee for three hours and frankly discussed the situation in Europe and at home. Chairman Chamberlain said Gen. Wood recommended that an army of 2,500,000 men be maintained in France at the earliest possible moment and 2,000,000 more in training at home. Another committee member placed Gen. Wood's recommendations at four million men, one half in France as soon as they can be sent there. In this connection Gen. Wood also recommended compulsory universal military training.

TO DEVELOP MINERALS

CONTINENTAL CHEMICAL CO. TO OPERATE IN THIS DISTRICT
Authorities Agree on Vast Mineral Wealth of This County and Success Is Looked For.

The Whig learns that preparations are now under way for the better development of the mineral resources of Frontenac county. During the last fifty years millions of dollars have been sunk into all kinds of projects to take minerals of different kinds out of this county. With the exception of feldspar and mica, few have been a financial success to the men who financed the projects.
With the belief that there is minerals of great value and which are urgently needed because of the war, the Continental Chemical Company, this plant will be used to smelt copper, gold, pyrites and various other minerals and because of the management's experience and full understanding of the work it should prove a big success, as the best authorities concede that there is vast wealth in this district and that with proper methods it could be developed.

SCHOOL OF NAVIGATION

RESULTS OF THE EXAMINATIONS AT QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY.
Three Out of the Four Taking Examinations Were Successful—Capt. H. M. McMaster is in Charge of the School.

The examinations at the School of Navigation in connection with Queen's University were held on Tuesday and Wednesday, under Capt. H. King, Toronto, supervising examiner for inland waters. The following candidates were successful:
Matthew Augustus McDonald, minor in tug boat master, and minor passenger steamer mate, Kingston, freight steamer mate.
Joseph Menard, Kingston, passenger steamer master.
Four candidates underwent the examinations and three passed, so the showing of the school is particularly good.
Capt. H. M. McMaster, of the Montreal Transportation Company, is in charge of the school, assisted by Capt. Edward Smith. The school is carrying on good work for the marine service, and is on a most successful basis.

"STAKED EVERYTHING" SAYS THE KAISER

Tells His Pet Correspondent His View—Shakes Hands With Soldiers.

Amsterdam, March 27.—Karl Rosner of the Lokal Anzeiger, who is well known as the Kaiser's pet war correspondent, writes that his Majesty gave him the following message:
"Everyone out here is staking everything; everyone out here knows and trusts we shall win everything. All Germany fights for her future." Rosner says the Kaiser goes about among his troops, who greet him with immense enthusiasm. "Those who are tired are made fresh by his handshake, and those unused to battle are heartened by it."

BRITISH AVOID PINCERS

BY FORCING NORTHERN JAW OF PINNER SOUTHWARD.

While They Drop Back on the Centre—Diverting the Attack Towards the Oise.

London, March 27.—Military observers dissect in the scheme of the German attack a repetition of the German "pincer" system of attack, which was used by von Mackensen in Russia, Rumania and Serbia. This attack consists of two attacks some distance apart, which, after progressing to some depth, turn toward each other, compelling the forces caught between them to fall back or be in danger of capture.
The British have foreseen this danger and have met it by first checking, then forcing the northern jaw of the pincer southward, while they have dropped back on the centre and have not fallen into the German trap. The pressure of the defenders of the Somme front seems to be bending the whole German attack to the south, where it is hoped its force will be dissipated.
The French positions joined the British to the south of St. Quentin, but there have been no reports showing that the French have fallen back from their advanced positions. On the other hand, reports would indicate that the original French lines now virtually outflank the advancing Germans along the Oise River.

In the meantime, the British strategy seems to be devoted to the task of meeting the attack so that it is directed no longer straight at the line, but is diverted toward the Oise, where the German advance has been most rapid.
The fall of Bapaume in the early hours of Monday was a blow to the British, but it was the result of a determination to fall back slowly all along the line that is being attacked.

While the German wedge is still moving, its progress is not alarming; rapid, as it was in the first rush of the Teutonic hordes. The yielding line, it is asserted, has absorbed the impetus of the shock and has weathered the storm remarkably well.

Mrs. Margaret Keany, Peterboro, died on Sunday, aged seventy years. Mrs. James Lawless and Mrs. M. Lawless, Kingston, are daughters. The remains were brought to Kingston for interment.
