

In The Realm Of Woman--Some Interesting Features

CONSTANT PAIN AFTER EATING

The Tortures of Dyspepsia Corrected by "Fruit-a-lives"

St. Martin's, N.B.
 "For two years, I suffered tortures from Severe Dyspepsia. I had constant pains after eating; pains down the sides and back; and horrible bitter stuff often came up in my mouth.
 I tried doctors, but they did not help me. But as soon as I started taking 'Fruit-a-lives', I began to improve and this medicine, made of fruit juices, relieved me when everything else failed."
 MRS. HUDSON MARSHBANK, 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

If hair's your pride, use HERPICIDE

SKIN TROUBLES THAT TORTURE

and Disfigure Quickly Healed by CUTICURA SOAP and OINTMENT

Such as eczemas, rashes, pimples, dandruff, sore hands and most baby skin troubles.

Sample Each Free by Mail With 32-p. Skin Book. Address: Cuticura Dept. N, Boston, U. S. A. Sold throughout the world.

The "Wilhelmina," 242 Mountain St. Montreal. Warm, comfortable rooms, reasonable rates. A home for transients. Tel. Uptown 5346.

ARTFUL DODGER HAS NO CHANCE

Put a few drops on that old touchy corn, then lift it out without pain

Ouch ! ! ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain. A delightful surprise awaits all who try this.

He says freezezone is a sticky substance which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissues or skin. A quarter of an ounce of freezezone which will cost very little at any drug store, is said to be sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

TORONTO MONTREAL & BRANCHES

You can most times conquer a brute by kindness, and it works that way with the human kind, too. The man who thinks too much of money is quite likely to think too little of humanity and the Lord.

The Woman Who Changed

By JANE PHELPS

MRS. SEXTON ARRIVES

A Better Impression.

CHAPTER XXXVII.
 About four o'clock I heard a commotion in the front hall and upon looking out I saw that Mrs. Sexton had arrived. Bag and baggage I afterwards told Evelyn.
 I wondered if she would have me called, if she would think it necessary to consult me in any way. I needn't have been in doubt. Everything had evidently been attended to by George before he left.
 I heard James, talking to her, then they both came up the stairs, past my room, and to my relief, James ushered her into a guest room, across the hall, and a little further down than my room. I had been so afraid she would stop at the room connecting with mine, that I breathed an audible sigh of relief when they passed on down the hall.

I saw nothing of her until dinner time. She informed me she had been unpacking, and making herself feel at home.
 "A hard thing to do in unaccustomed surroundings," she said pleasantly.
 "I should imagine so," I curtly replied.
 But she had evidently made up her mind not to pay any attention to my inhospitality, as she at once commenced to talk of other things. The last book she had read, which she pronounced most interesting; the play, which she criticised as rubbish, not worth seeing, and adding that she hoped something worth going to would follow it, as then we might enjoy going. In every way she seemed to be endeavoring to make me, her whilom hostess, and the mistress of the house, at ease—instead of trying to be entertaining on her own account.

I saw nothing of her until dinner time. She informed me she had been unpacking, and making herself feel at home.
 "A hard thing to do in unaccustomed surroundings," she said pleasantly.
 "I should imagine so," I curtly replied.
 But she had evidently made up her mind not to pay any attention to my inhospitality, as she at once commenced to talk of other things. The last book she had read, which she pronounced most interesting; the play, which she criticised as rubbish, not worth seeing, and adding that she hoped something worth going to would follow it, as then we might enjoy going. In every way she seemed to be endeavoring to make me, her whilom hostess, and the mistress of the house, at ease—instead of trying to be entertaining on her own account.

A Day of Surprise.
 At breakfast the next morning she remarked:

"Mr. Howard said we were to use the cars all we wished. How would you like to take the touring car—it is too lovely to use the closed one—and call for Mrs. Reeve, and take a spin out into the country? Perhaps we might lunch somewhere, and come home in the afternoon."
 "Oh, that would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically, then, remembering who had proposed it, I said more coldly, "I should enjoy it very much—if Evelyn can go with us."
 "Suppose I teach you. I am called rather an expert at the game, and often when there are two people spending the evening together it helps pass the time."
 I agreed and was soon completely absorbed in the game. So much so, that I was surprised when she laid the cards down and said:
 "It's eleven o'clock. Suppose we stop for tonight. I am a little weary, you know I am not so young as you. We will play frequently. You are a very apt pupil," and, bidding me good night, she left me.
 To my surprise, I had no uncomfortable thoughts as I picked up a magazine after she left me. The evening had passed quickly and pleasantly. Had I been alone, I should have wandered around the rooms unhappy because George had left me alone; and wondering if he loved me.
 "She isn't half bad," Evelyn said in a whisper.
 "Not today, but wait," was my enigmatic answer.
 After riding about two hours, Mrs. Sexton turned to me:
 "We are nearing an excellent road house. Shall we stop?"
 "Certainly, I am hungry, aren't you Evelyn?"

"Mr. Howard said we were to use the cars all we wished. How would you like to take the touring car—it is too lovely to use the closed one—and call for Mrs. Reeve, and take a spin out into the country? Perhaps we might lunch somewhere, and come home in the afternoon."
 "Oh, that would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically, then, remembering who had proposed it, I said more coldly, "I should enjoy it very much—if Evelyn can go with us."
 "Suppose I teach you. I am called rather an expert at the game, and often when there are two people spending the evening together it helps pass the time."
 I agreed and was soon completely absorbed in the game. So much so, that I was surprised when she laid the cards down and said:
 "It's eleven o'clock. Suppose we stop for tonight. I am a little weary, you know I am not so young as you. We will play frequently. You are a very apt pupil," and, bidding me good night, she left me.
 To my surprise, I had no uncomfortable thoughts as I picked up a magazine after she left me. The evening had passed quickly and pleasantly. Had I been alone, I should have wandered around the rooms unhappy because George had left me alone; and wondering if he loved me.
 "She isn't half bad," Evelyn said in a whisper.
 "Not today, but wait," was my enigmatic answer.
 After riding about two hours, Mrs. Sexton turned to me:
 "We are nearing an excellent road house. Shall we stop?"
 "Certainly, I am hungry, aren't you Evelyn?"

"Oh, that would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically, then, remembering who had proposed it, I said more coldly, "I should enjoy it very much—if Evelyn can go with us."
 "Suppose I teach you. I am called rather an expert at the game, and often when there are two people spending the evening together it helps pass the time."
 I agreed and was soon completely absorbed in the game. So much so, that I was surprised when she laid the cards down and said:
 "It's eleven o'clock. Suppose we stop for tonight. I am a little weary, you know I am not so young as you. We will play frequently. You are a very apt pupil," and, bidding me good night, she left me.
 To my surprise, I had no uncomfortable thoughts as I picked up a magazine after she left me. The evening had passed quickly and pleasantly. Had I been alone, I should have wandered around the rooms unhappy because George had left me alone; and wondering if he loved me.
 "She isn't half bad," Evelyn said in a whisper.
 "Not today, but wait," was my enigmatic answer.
 After riding about two hours, Mrs. Sexton turned to me:
 "We are nearing an excellent road house. Shall we stop?"
 "Certainly, I am hungry, aren't you Evelyn?"

"Oh, that would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically, then, remembering who had proposed it, I said more coldly, "I should enjoy it very much—if Evelyn can go with us."
 "Suppose I teach you. I am called rather an expert at the game, and often when there are two people spending the evening together it helps pass the time."
 I agreed and was soon completely absorbed in the game. So much so, that I was surprised when she laid the cards down and said:
 "It's eleven o'clock. Suppose we stop for tonight. I am a little weary, you know I am not so young as you. We will play frequently. You are a very apt pupil," and, bidding me good night, she left me.
 To my surprise, I had no uncomfortable thoughts as I picked up a magazine after she left me. The evening had passed quickly and pleasantly. Had I been alone, I should have wandered around the rooms unhappy because George had left me alone; and wondering if he loved me.
 "She isn't half bad," Evelyn said in a whisper.
 "Not today, but wait," was my enigmatic answer.
 After riding about two hours, Mrs. Sexton turned to me:
 "We are nearing an excellent road house. Shall we stop?"
 "Certainly, I am hungry, aren't you Evelyn?"

"Oh, that would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically, then, remembering who had proposed it, I said more coldly, "I should enjoy it very much—if Evelyn can go with us."
 "Suppose I teach you. I am called rather an expert at the game, and often when there are two people spending the evening together it helps pass the time."
 I agreed and was soon completely absorbed in the game. So much so, that I was surprised when she laid the cards down and said:
 "It's eleven o'clock. Suppose we stop for tonight. I am a little weary, you know I am not so young as you. We will play frequently. You are a very apt pupil," and, bidding me good night, she left me.
 To my surprise, I had no uncomfortable thoughts as I picked up a magazine after she left me. The evening had passed quickly and pleasantly. Had I been alone, I should have wandered around the rooms unhappy because George had left me alone; and wondering if he loved me.
 "She isn't half bad," Evelyn said in a whisper.
 "Not today, but wait," was my enigmatic answer.
 After riding about two hours, Mrs. Sexton turned to me:
 "We are nearing an excellent road house. Shall we stop?"
 "Certainly, I am hungry, aren't you Evelyn?"

"Oh, that would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically, then, remembering who had proposed it, I said more coldly, "I should enjoy it very much—if Evelyn can go with us."
 "Suppose I teach you. I am called rather an expert at the game, and often when there are two people spending the evening together it helps pass the time."
 I agreed and was soon completely absorbed in the game. So much so, that I was surprised when she laid the cards down and said:
 "It's eleven o'clock. Suppose we stop for tonight. I am a little weary, you know I am not so young as you. We will play frequently. You are a very apt pupil," and, bidding me good night, she left me.
 To my surprise, I had no uncomfortable thoughts as I picked up a magazine after she left me. The evening had passed quickly and pleasantly. Had I been alone, I should have wandered around the rooms unhappy because George had left me alone; and wondering if he loved me.
 "She isn't half bad," Evelyn said in a whisper.
 "Not today, but wait," was my enigmatic answer.
 After riding about two hours, Mrs. Sexton turned to me:
 "We are nearing an excellent road house. Shall we stop?"
 "Certainly, I am hungry, aren't you Evelyn?"

"Oh, that would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically, then, remembering who had proposed it, I said more coldly, "I should enjoy it very much—if Evelyn can go with us."
 "Suppose I teach you. I am called rather an expert at the game, and often when there are two people spending the evening together it helps pass the time."
 I agreed and was soon completely absorbed in the game. So much so, that I was surprised when she laid the cards down and said:
 "It's eleven o'clock. Suppose we stop for tonight. I am a little weary, you know I am not so young as you. We will play frequently. You are a very apt pupil," and, bidding me good night, she left me.
 To my surprise, I had no uncomfortable thoughts as I picked up a magazine after she left me. The evening had passed quickly and pleasantly. Had I been alone, I should have wandered around the rooms unhappy because George had left me alone; and wondering if he loved me.
 "She isn't half bad," Evelyn said in a whisper.
 "Not today, but wait," was my enigmatic answer.
 After riding about two hours, Mrs. Sexton turned to me:
 "We are nearing an excellent road house. Shall we stop?"
 "Certainly, I am hungry, aren't you Evelyn?"

"Oh, that would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically, then, remembering who had proposed it, I said more coldly, "I should enjoy it very much—if Evelyn can go with us."
 "Suppose I teach you. I am called rather an expert at the game, and often when there are two people spending the evening together it helps pass the time."
 I agreed and was soon completely absorbed in the game. So much so, that I was surprised when she laid the cards down and said:
 "It's eleven o'clock. Suppose we stop for tonight. I am a little weary, you know I am not so young as you. We will play frequently. You are a very apt pupil," and, bidding me good night, she left me.
 To my surprise, I had no uncomfortable thoughts as I picked up a magazine after she left me. The evening had passed quickly and pleasantly. Had I been alone, I should have wandered around the rooms unhappy because George had left me alone; and wondering if he loved me.
 "She isn't half bad," Evelyn said in a whisper.
 "Not today, but wait," was my enigmatic answer.
 After riding about two hours, Mrs. Sexton turned to me:
 "We are nearing an excellent road house. Shall we stop?"
 "Certainly, I am hungry, aren't you Evelyn?"

"Oh, that would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically, then, remembering who had proposed it, I said more coldly, "I should enjoy it very much—if Evelyn can go with us."
 "Suppose I teach you. I am called rather an expert at the game, and often when there are two people spending the evening together it helps pass the time."
 I agreed and was soon completely absorbed in the game. So much so, that I was surprised when she laid the cards down and said:
 "It's eleven o'clock. Suppose we stop for tonight. I am a little weary, you know I am not so young as you. We will play frequently. You are a very apt pupil," and, bidding me good night, she left me.
 To my surprise, I had no uncomfortable thoughts as I picked up a magazine after she left me. The evening had passed quickly and pleasantly. Had I been alone, I should have wandered around the rooms unhappy because George had left me alone; and wondering if he loved me.
 "She isn't half bad," Evelyn said in a whisper.
 "Not today, but wait," was my enigmatic answer.
 After riding about two hours, Mrs. Sexton turned to me:
 "We are nearing an excellent road house. Shall we stop?"
 "Certainly, I am hungry, aren't you Evelyn?"

"Oh, that would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically, then, remembering who had proposed it, I said more coldly, "I should enjoy it very much—if Evelyn can go with us."
 "Suppose I teach you. I am called rather an expert at the game, and often when there are two people spending the evening together it helps pass the time."
 I agreed and was soon completely absorbed in the game. So much so, that I was surprised when she laid the cards down and said:
 "It's eleven o'clock. Suppose we stop for tonight. I am a little weary, you know I am not so young as you. We will play frequently. You are a very apt pupil," and, bidding me good night, she left me.
 To my surprise, I had no uncomfortable thoughts as I picked up a magazine after she left me. The evening had passed quickly and pleasantly. Had I been alone, I should have wandered around the rooms unhappy because George had left me alone; and wondering if he loved me.
 "She isn't half bad," Evelyn said in a whisper.
 "Not today, but wait," was my enigmatic answer.
 After riding about two hours, Mrs. Sexton turned to me:
 "We are nearing an excellent road house. Shall we stop?"
 "Certainly, I am hungry, aren't you Evelyn?"

"Oh, that would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically, then, remembering who had proposed it, I said more coldly, "I should enjoy it very much—if Evelyn can go with us."
 "Suppose I teach you. I am called rather an expert at the game, and often when there are two people spending the evening together it helps pass the time."
 I agreed and was soon completely absorbed in the game. So much so, that I was surprised when she laid the cards down and said:
 "It's eleven o'clock. Suppose we stop for tonight. I am a little weary, you know I am not so young as you. We will play frequently. You are a very apt pupil," and, bidding me good night, she left me.
 To my surprise, I had no uncomfortable thoughts as I picked up a magazine after she left me. The evening had passed quickly and pleasantly. Had I been alone, I should have wandered around the rooms unhappy because George had left me alone; and wondering if he loved me.
 "She isn't half bad," Evelyn said in a whisper.
 "Not today, but wait," was my enigmatic answer.
 After riding about two hours, Mrs. Sexton turned to me:
 "We are nearing an excellent road house. Shall we stop?"
 "Certainly, I am hungry, aren't you Evelyn?"

Told In Twilight

(Continued from Page 3.)

Mrs. J. H. H. Coleman, Napanee, is with her sister, Miss Macmorine, in the Le Plaza, Toronto, for a week.
 Mrs. W. C. Craig and family, 486 Gilmour street, Ottawa, are spending the Easter vacation in Kingston.
 Archdeacon Beamish left for Montreal to attend the graduation of his daughter, Margaret, at the Royal Victoria Hospital. She is to receive the degree of R.N.
 Mr. and Mrs. F. Bell, Kingston, are visiting relatives in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis King, Stuart street, have returned from their trip to Bermuda.
 Miss Edith Massie, after a six weeks' visit with friends, returned to Toronto on Tuesday.
 George Northmore, Kingston, spent Easter with his daughter, Mrs. S. W. Simpson, Brockville.
 Jack Williams, Ottawa, spent the week-end in Kingston visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Starr, Toronto, announce the engagement of their daughter Edna to Ralph Walton Harris, B.A.Sc., late lieutenant Royal Engineers, France, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Harris, Cobourg, the marriage to take place this month.

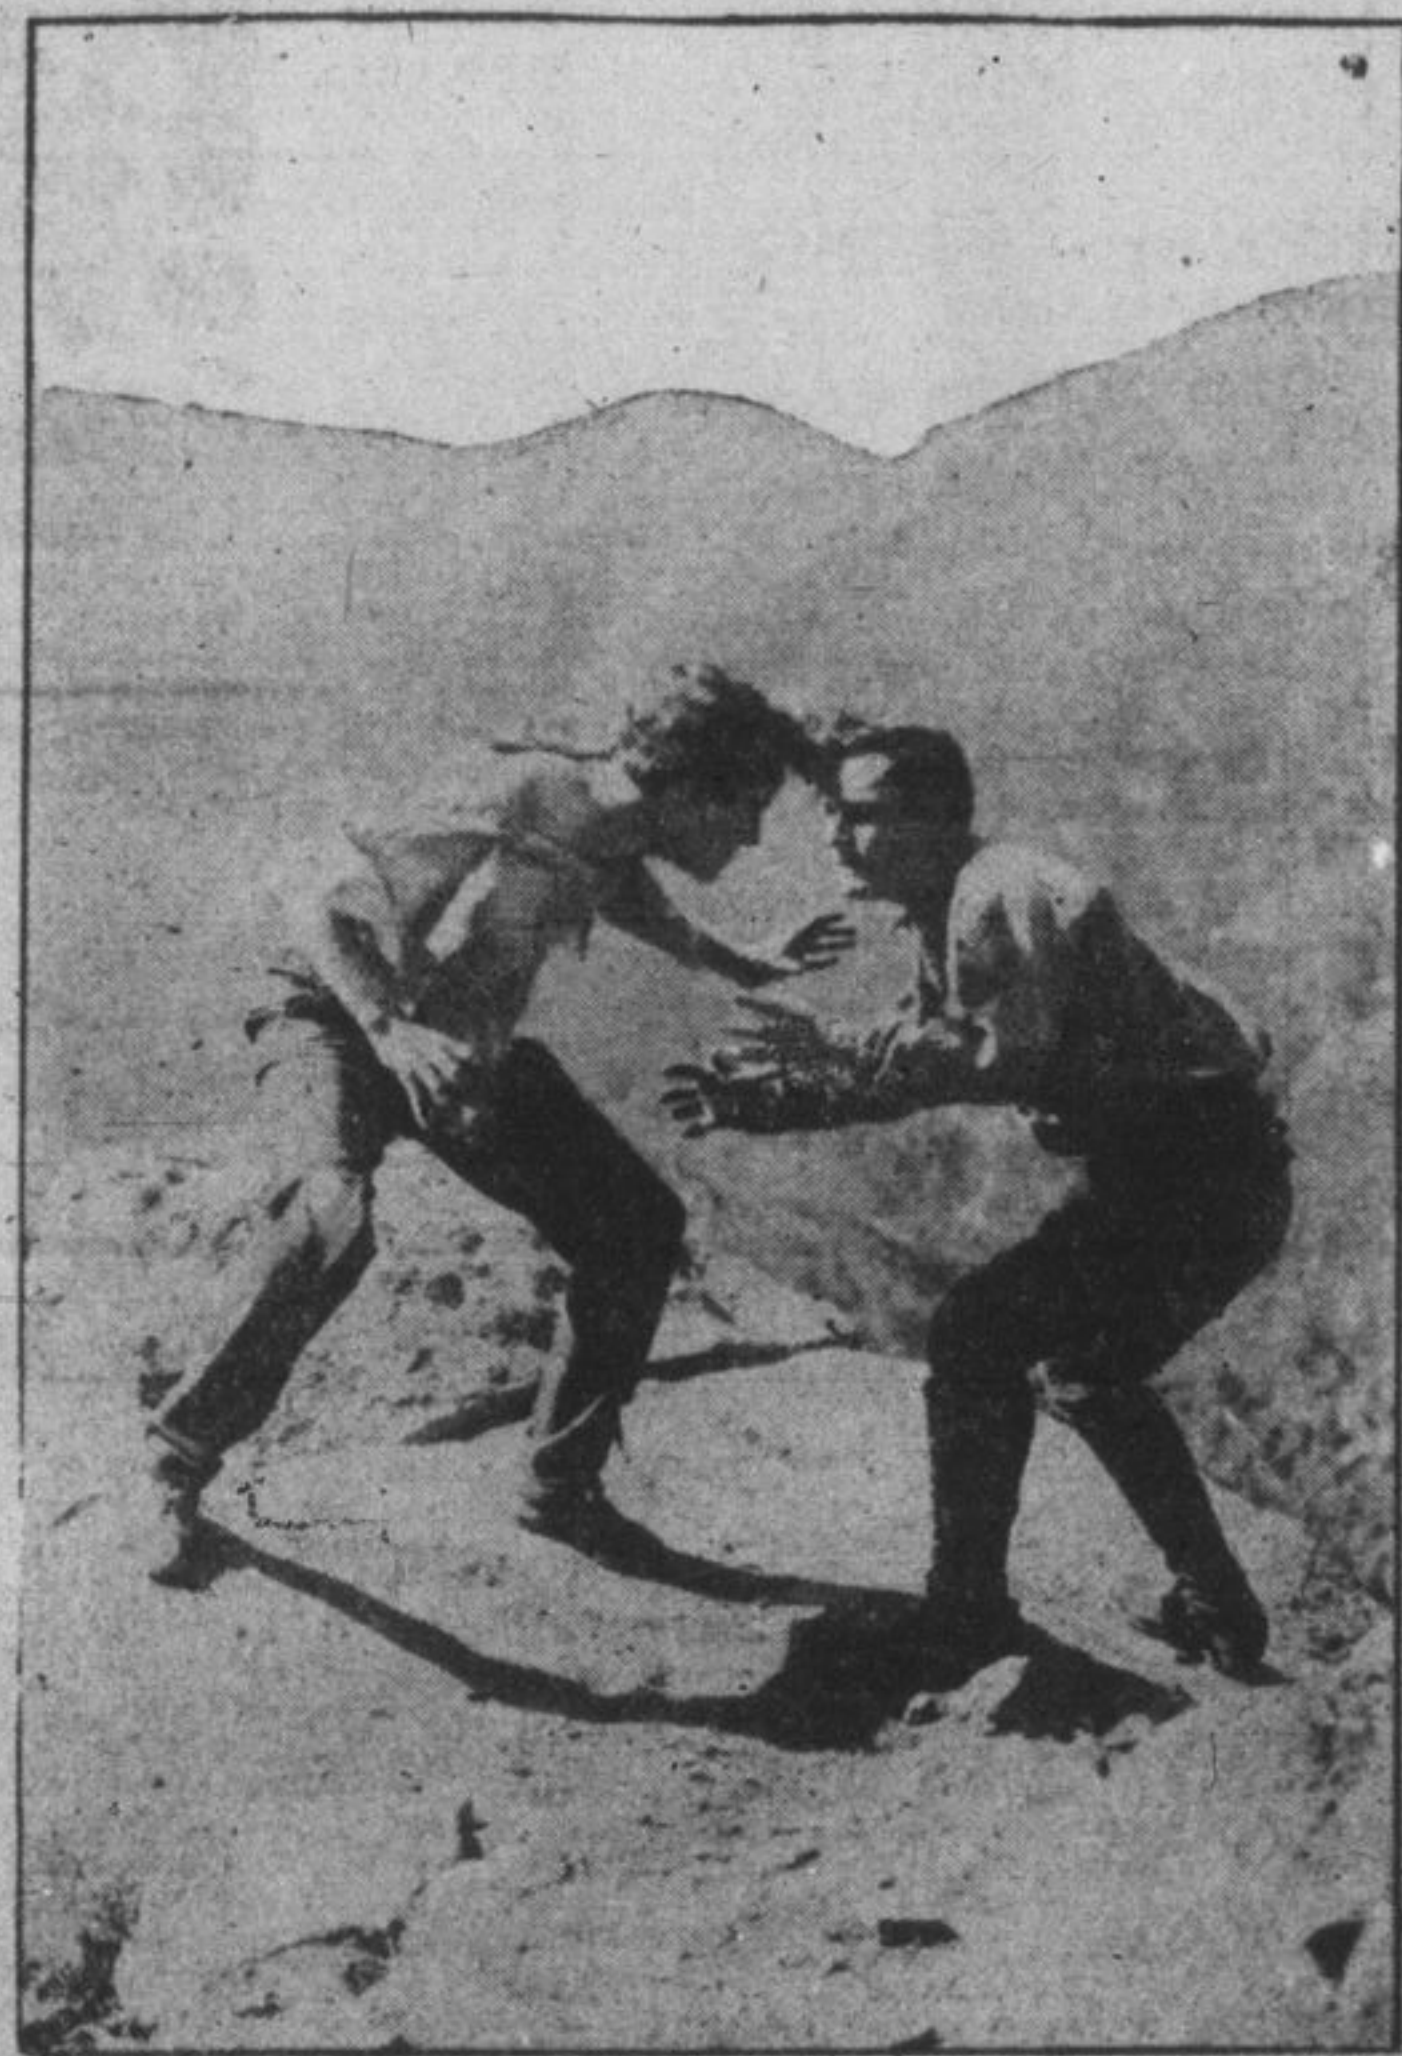

Miss Hazel Browne and Miss Beth Small returned to Ottawa on Monday.
 Miss Mamie Anglin, Earl street, left on Tuesday for Philadelphia, where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wendling Anglin.
 Miss Conna, Ottawa, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Langley.
 Mrs. G. S. Oldrieve, Ottawa, is the guest of Mrs. Andrew McMahon, Wellington street.

Mrs. J. Langley has returned to town after spending a few days in Ottawa.
 Miss K. Tronsdale, Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Leslie, for a few days.
 Reid Rankin, Toronto, spent Saturday in town.
 Horace G. Lockett, M.A., left on Tuesday for Ingersoll, after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Lockett, Stuart street.
 Miss Agnes Johnston, Gananoque, spent Saturday in town.

Mrs. James Davis, Wolfe Island, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. William Langstaff, Prescott.
 Miss Wiseman, Ottawa, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. C. D. MacCallum, Barrie street.
 Mrs. G. F. Emery, West street, spent Easter with the Misses Heasley, Gananoque.
 Cadet W. R. Richardson, of the Royal Naval College, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Minnes, Ottawa, for the Easter holidays.

Miss Margaret Wright, Picton, has left for New York, where she will spend the Easter holidays.
 Chevalier and Madame de D'az Albertina are now at Cobourg, where Madame's daughter, Mrs. Clive Pringle, and her family, have been since returning from Atlantic City.

Miss Victoria Morrison, of the Elphinstone Apartments, Toronto, is in Kingston, called by the serious illness of her mother.
 Miss Grace Clough, Kingston, a very charming and talented young pianist, played on Saturday at the meeting of the Heliconian Club, Toronto.
 Major and Mrs. Goodwill, formerly

A scene from "The Eyes of the World," coming to the Grand Opera House for four nights commencing with a matinee on Wednesday afternoon, April 3rd.

of Prince Edward Island, who since returning from England, six months ago, have been in Ottawa, will leave shortly to reside in Cobourg.
 Mrs. J. L. Heath, Tweed, is the guest of Mrs. G. McCallum, University avenue.

The engagement is announced in Winnipeg of Miss Etheldreda Goughlan to Harry Caldwell Wilson, Vancouver, both formerly of Hastings, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. William Edward Rees, Gananoque, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Flora Rees, to Ira A. Kip, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira A. Kip, Jr., of Walnut Gate, South Orange. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. Kip, who is in the navy, is home on sick leave.
 It's queer, but the man in office thinks everybody ought to implicitly believe in civil service reform.
 The world is continually taking off its hat to the almighty dollar.
 No farmer can plough a field by turning it over in his mind.

CASTORIA
 For Infants and Children
 In Use For Over 30 Years
 Always bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anaemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain.
 The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

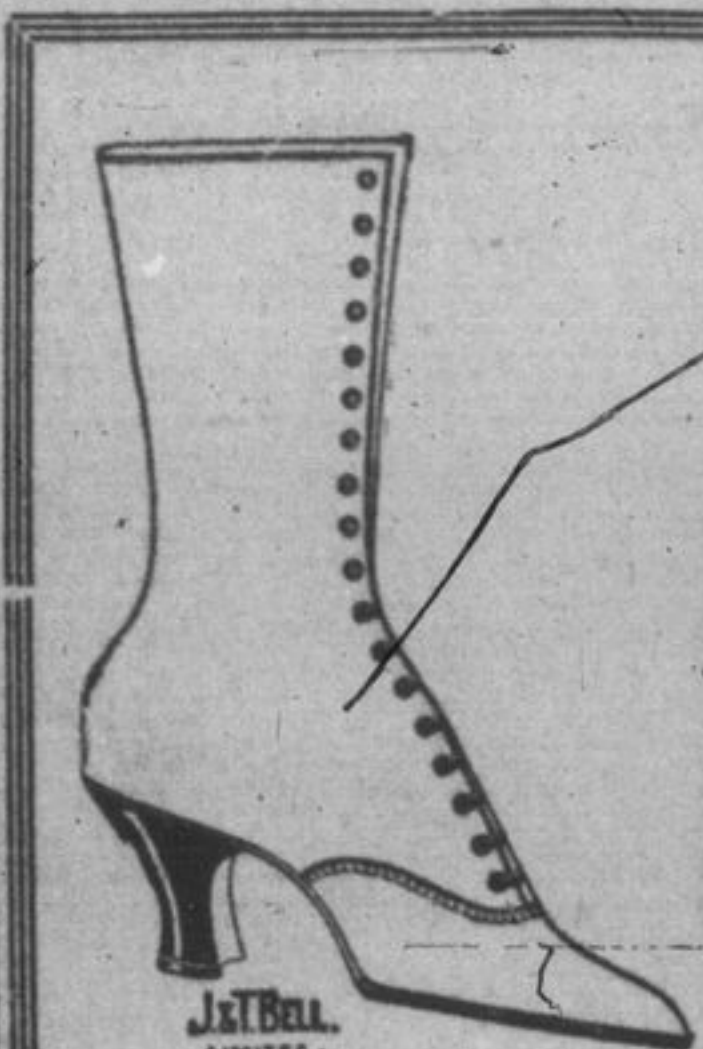

Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptones, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Limes and Soda Glycophosphates, Cascaris.
 Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anaemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.
 You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

Maheed's Drug Store, Kingston. Also at the best druggist in all Ontario towns.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFIES AND DARKENS HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! It Darkens So Naturally that Nobody Can Tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the gray so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.
 Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.
 This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.
 This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

EASTER SHOES
 Shoes that are in charming harmony with Easter styles. Shoes that are noticeably becoming with spring suits. Newest shades.

The Sawyer Shoe Store

Fresh Haddock and Cod, Whiting, Tom Cods, Smelts, Oysters.
Dominion Fish Co.

Improve Your Complexion

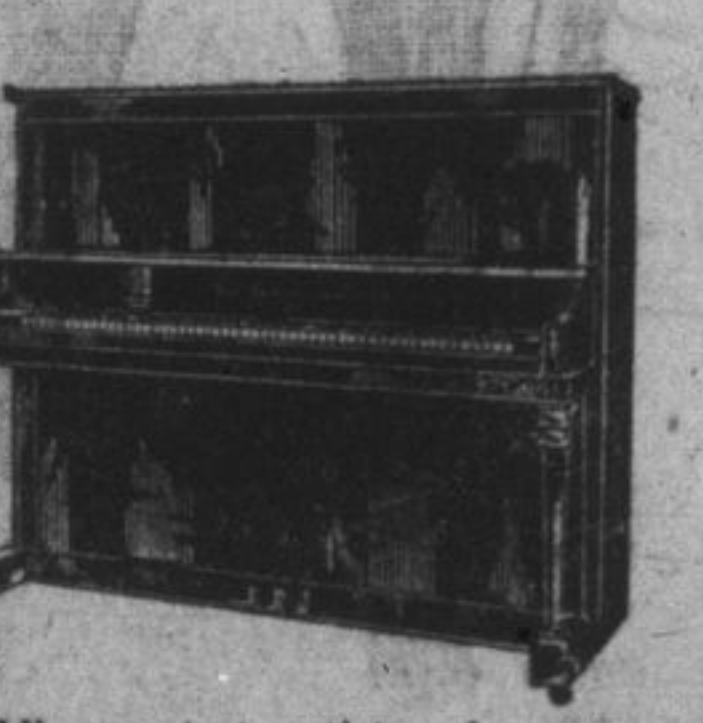

Get your blood pure, keep the liver active and the bowels regular, and disfiguring pimples and unsightly blotches will disappear from the face. For improving the complexion and putting the blood in good order

BEECHAM'S PILLS
 are safer, better and surer than cosmetics. They eliminate poisonous matters from the system, strengthen the organs and purify the blood—bring the health-glow to the cheeks, brighten the eyes, improve and

Beautify the Skin

Prepared only by Thomas Beecham, St. Helens, Lancashire, England. Sold everywhere in Canada and U. S. America. In boxes, 25 cents.

LET ARTISTS WHO KNOW A GOOD PIANO SELECT THAT LIFETIME GIFT FOR YOUR HOME

85 per cent. of all the world's greatest artists who come to Canada select THE WILLIAMS NEW SCALE PIANO. Made to last a lifetime and stay in tune. You are invited to call at our store and see these beautiful models.

J.M. Greene Music Co., Ltd.
 Cor. Sydenham & Princess Sts., Kingston

Returned Soldiers

For the purpose of assisting returned soldiers the Legislature has provided for the formation of an association called "The Soldiers' Aid Commission of Ontario." The Head Office is at No. 116 College St., Toronto. Hon. W. D. McPherson is the Chairman and Mr. Joseph Warwick is the Secretary. All communications intended for either of them should be addressed to No. 116 College street, Toronto. W. F. Nickle, Esq., K.C., M.P. of Kingston, is a member of the above-named Commission, and represents it locally at Kingston and in this neighbourhood.
 The Kingston Branch is located at the Board of Trade Rooms, Kingston. Telephone No. 701.
 The public are cordially invited to co-operate with us in securing suitable employment, and in doing other helpful work for Returned Soldiers and their dependents.

Classes for Vocational Re-Education of Returned Soldiers who have been so disabled as to prevent them from resuming their former occupations have been provided, and every Soldier who regains his disability since such a nature as to entitle him to the benefit of these Classes is requested to make application to Mr. James H. Macnee, the under-mentioned Secretary, or to Mr. W. F. Nickle, Vocational Officer for Ontario, at the Board Office, No. 116 College St., Toronto, when full particulars will be gladly furnished. Arrangements as to course of instruction, and arrangements as to the cost of such courses of instruction, are made on a case-by-case basis, and are subject to the approval of the Board. In addition to setting instruction free, the support of the family and his family dependents during the period of re-training and for one month after it is completed, is provided for according to scale.
 Cases where assistance for the families of soldiers in training are daily reported to us, and subscriptions to the Relief Fund will be thankfully received. Subscribers to this Fund are assured that payments from same are made only after careful official investigation as to the facts of each case, and particulars will be furnished on request to subscribers as to the order of "The Soldiers' Aid Commission of Ontario" to the Board Office, No. 116 College St., Toronto, and in each case an official receipt will be issued therefor. Donations will be expended as far as possible in compliance with the expressed wishes of the donor.
 All services are free of charge. For further particulars apply to the following officers:

James H. Macnee, Secretary, Treasurer, Telephone No. 701.
 His Worship Mayor, Hon. Charles T. Jones, Chairman, Telephone No. 427.
 W. F. Nickle, Esq., K.C., M.P., Hon. Sec.-Treas., Kingston, Telephone No. 701.

Bissell Carpet Sweepers Made in New York.
 All Repair Work Done.
 301 Barrie St. Ph. 1270

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

LOCAL BRANCH TIME TABLE
IN EFFECT MARCH 3RD

Trains will leave and arrive at City Station, Foot Johnson Street, Kingston, Ont.

Train	Local City Arr. City	Local City Dep. City
No. 19 Mail	12:20 a.m.	2:57 a.m.
No. 13 Express	3:10 a.m.	5:52 a.m.
No. 27 Local	5:45 a.m.	10:17 a.m.
No. 7 Interm'l	1:20 p.m.	1:40 p.m.
No. 7 Mail	3:00 p.m.	3:40 p.m.

Going East.

Train	Local City Arr. City	Local City Dep. City
No. 18 Mail	1:40 a.m.	3:17 a.m.
No. 18 Express	3:10 a.m.	5:52 a.m.
No. 6 Mail	10:10 a.m.	11:12 a.m.
No. 14 Interm'l	1:20 p.m.	2:20 p.m.
No. 28 Local	5:45 p.m.	7:17 p.m.

Note: 1, 12, 14, 15, 19 run daily. Other trains daily except Sunday.
 Direct route to Toronto, Peterboro, Hamilton, Buffalo, London, Detroit, Chicago, Bay City, Saginaw, Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec, Portland, St. John, Halifax, Boston and New York. For full particulars, apply to J. P. Mackay, Agent, Agency for all ocean steamship lines, Open day and night.

CUNARD LINE

Passenger Service Between Halifax and Bristol

Money remittances made by mail or cable. Apply to Local Agents or The Bank, Halifax, N.S., or General Agents, 50 King St. East, Toronto, Ont.

For the Boys at the Front
CHOCOLATTA
 "The Ready-to-use Chocolate" Contains the Choceolate, Milk and Sugar. Prepared instantly by Adding Boiling Water Only. No Cooking or Milk Required. For Sale By D. Couper, Phone 750, 341-3 Princess St.

2 IN 1 SHOE POLISHES
 PRESERVE THE LEATHER.
 LIQUIDS AND PASTES. FOR BLACK, WHITE, TAN, DARK BROWN OR OX-BLOOD SHOES.

USED BY THOSE WHO KNOW