LIEUT. GEORGE F. BROOKS MUST FIGHT TO THE FINISH
 KINGSTON OFFICER REPORTED AS BEING SEVERELY WOUNDED.
 Was Two Years With the P.P.C.L.I. Originals in France Before Taking a Commission.
 The speaker told a story about a war that was fought many years ago. A battalion was making an advance, and one of the men carrying the colors got quite a distance ahead of the other men of the battalion, and proceeded to place his colors. The commanding officer gave orders that the man with the colors should come back, fearing that he was on dangerous ground. "Come back to the battalion," was the order of the officer in command. "I can't come back; bring the battalion up to the colors," came the reply of the soldier making the advance.
 "And this story applies to-day in this great struggle," declared the speaker. "The blood-stained banners are in front, and this is not the time for any man to say 'let us play safe.' Bring the battalion up to the colors. This is the time that the last man and the last ounce of strength must be used."
 Dr. Wilson chose as his text, Hebrews xii. 35: "Women received their dead in arms, and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance, that they might receive a better resurrection."
 "This is your anniversary day," said Dr. Wilson. "Behind you lies a great and noble past. You have great reason to be proud of your service. Having accomplished so much as you now to accept deliverance?"
 To-day, the speaker said, there were many men saying, "What have I done for thee?" They were men too old to go, but they were asking themselves what they could do to be worthy of what had been done and what is being done for them. There were girls who were wishing they had been born a boy, so they might help at the front. Even little children were saying, "What can I do?" It was up to the church to help bring the world not to a artificial peace, but to the foot of the Cross, where all men would be made one in Him. It was so easy to escape the Cross and so hard to accept it.
 The present great struggle was for the upholding of the principles of justice and truth, and so with a brave heart we declared that the fight must go on, whatever the cost of blood, until the world is made safe for democracy.

"THE TRUE MANHOOD."
 An Address by Dr. E. J. Forsythe, of Chicago.
 Dr. E. J. Forsythe, of Chicago, spoke in Griffin's Theatre on Sunday afternoon on the subject, "The True Manhood." The doctor is a clever speaker and well versed in the work of the Y.M.C.A. He drew an example from the story of the life of David and his advice to his son Solomon when the latter went to take over the throne for himself. He told Solomon to "acquit himself as a man." David himself was not an ideal man and one has only Christ as the ideal of manhood.
 The quartette of Queen Street Methodist church, with A. B. Haffner as soloist, provided several musical numbers.
 E. P. Jenkins, chairman of the religious work committee of the local Y.M.C.A., presided. Rev. J. D. Ellis was also on the platform.

Theatrical News
 "Gus Hill's Minstrels."
 Something out of the ordinary in the way of minstrel entertainment may be expected at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday, April 10th, matinee and night, when Gus Hill's big minstrels make their initial bow to Kingston audiences. The first thing Gus Hill did when he decided on a minstrel troupe was to summon James Gorman to his presence. Mr. Hill laid a blank contract before the famous producer with the magic name of Gus Hill signed at the bottom, and aconically said "Fill in your own figure," but give me the best minstrel production to be had. And "Jim" Gorman, did just that and possibly a little more.
 In days gone by a burnt-cork was put together every night. To-day it is produced exactly like a big musical extravaganza, with the same attention to detail that characterizes the general run of that type or style of entertainment, and it was this same James Gorman who has so many phenomenal successes to his credit, that Gus Hill told, "To fill in his own figure."
 "Pollyanna" will be brought to the Grand April 11-12, by Klaw & Erlanger and George C. Tyler. When the joyous young heroine "Pollyanna" stretches out her hands and asks everybody to play the glad game her appeal reaches far beyond the confines of the theatre. It goes throughout a whole community, carried by willing messengers, to spread an optimistic urging that finds eager response. Most people are anxious to be glad. The "Pollyanna" treatment for real and fancied ills is extremely pleasant. It is needed in schools and homes and in the marts of trade. There is deep significance in the fact that so many men prominent in professional, political and big business affairs have become "Pollyanna" enthusiasts. All womankind loves the glad game for its romance and comforting philosophy. The cast includes Patricia Collinge, Oswald York, Beatrice Morgan, Joseph Jefferson, Helen Weathersby.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS
 Cleanses the Little Liver and Bowels and They Get Well Quick.

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will go out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.
 If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs" to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.
 Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.
 Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."
 If hopes were every time realized there would be a whole lot of little people in this old world. Our idea of a society man is one who neglects to say anything when he speaks.

Died At Alliston, Ont.
 Alliston Herald.
 Mrs. Maria McArthur, mother of Miss McArthur of the high school staff, died on Thursday of last week at the age of eighty years. Mrs. McArthur was a helpless invalid the result of a couple of paralytic strokes the first of which overtook her a couple of years ago. She came here from Washburn, in Frontenac county, to be with her only daughter, who was teaching here, and was living on Albert street. On Saturday the remains were forwarded to Kingston from which place they were to be taken to Washburn for interment in the family plot. Miss McArthur was the only member of the family. She was just recovering from an attack of pleurisy and was set back by the shock of her mother's death. She will not resume teaching till next fall.
 The flags of America and Great Britain floated Saturday over the Mansion House in London. Ambassador Page was the guest of honor at the luncheon given in honor of the entry of America into the war a year ago the 6th.
 The world is full of individuals who are anxious and ready to eat the cake the other fellow earns. The man who plays poker for part-time usually passes more, or less coin over to the other fellow.
 The man who is not sometimes staggered by the questions of children has had little to do with them.
