BOY HOME FROM TRENCHES

HE WAS AT LENS, HILL 70 AND FRESNOY.

Enlisted When He Was Fourteen—Has Grown A Foot Taller and Has Gained 38 Pounds Since He Was In The Army.

Waterbury, N.Y., Times. Private George Edward Bristow, Kingston, Ont., probably the youngest of the Canadian veterans of the great war, arrived in this city Saturday from Hamilton, to visit his two sisters, Mrs. E. J. Healy and Miss Emma Bristow. Private Bristow is sixteen years of age. He will not be seventeen years old until April 23rd. Bristow enlisted in Dec. 12th, 1915, at the age of fourteen years. Because of his weight and his height he succeeded in passing the physical examinations. At that time he weighed approximately 130 pounds and was about five feet tall. The examining physicians slightly doubted his age and would not let him go an infantryman. He was enlisted at Hamilton as bugler in Company A, fourth platoon, City of Hamilton Battalion.

Private Bristow has grown considerably since his enlistment more than two years ago. At the present time he stands slightly over six feet tall and tips the scales at 168. Despite his height and weight it can easily be seen that he is very young. Following his enlistment in December he remained in training in Canada until July 1916. The battalion then sailed for England where he stayed until April 1917. He tried several times to get drafted in the battalions leaving for France, but each time the staff officer said he was too young, and would not allow him to go with his battalion. Finally, however, he was drafted as an infantryman in the 19th battalion in April, 1917.

Shortly after the arrival of the battalion in France he participated in a battle at Fresnoy, on May 9th. He escaped without injury. On August 15th however, he was seriously injured in a gas attack near Hill 70. A platoon of Canadians numbering sixty were resting in a wine cellar of a shattered house of a French peasant, when a gas shell struck the place. The men beat a hasty retreat from the cellar but when they reached the exterior many of them swooned, overcome by gas. The enemy was half a mile away.

Private Bristow was removed to a base hospital. He was in an unconscious condition and was blind for more than two weeks. He was later removed to the Shrubland Park hospital in Suffolk, where he remained up to November. He then was sent to the Canadian Convalescent Hospital at Epsom where he was a month. He left England the first part of 1918 and arrived at Hamilton in February. He applied for his discharge at Toronto, and was readily given service. He is still suffering from the effects of the gas attack, and it is difficult for him to sleep, being quite nervous.

While in Cuffley, near London, Eng., in Sept. 1916, he witnessed a most spectacular battle between an English airplane and a German zeppelin. Capt. Robinson, who is now a prisoner in Germany succeeded in bringing down the first zeppelin of the war. Private Bristow said that the destroyed zeppelin came down in a ball of flame and the sight could be seen for miles away. Capt. Robinson was given the Victoria Cross.

Private Bristow spent some time in the trenches. At one time he said while the company was assuming the offensive near Lens, thirty Germans came out of their trenches, and holding up their hands, walked to the Canadian dugouts and surrendered. Private Bristow led the men to a cellar where they were kept for a short time. They were then taken farther back of the lines and used in carrying ammunition.

The young Canadian is the possessor of a German cap which he took from one of the prisoners. He also secured a number of German post cards. Bristow has a number of photographs taken of himself when he enlisted. He was then in knickerbockers, which he had to discard before applying for enlistment. His father, Fred Bristow, resides in Kingston.

MAN IN THE "PEN."

Claims That Fellow Under Arrest Tortured Him in Crime.

"Lieut." Wallace, alias "Jack" Roberts, arrested at London, after a lively gun fight with the police, and who is now in Toronto to answer to serious charges, is said to have tortured a man now in Portsmouth penitentiary in crime. The man who makes this serious charge, according to reports, is George Marston, who is serving a seven year term. Marston belongs to Ingersoll. He broke jail in London, after pleading guilty to a series of burglaries.

The Cost of Tea.

Owing to the war, Ceylon teas are now costing 14 1/2c per pound freight and about 3c war insurance, while freight on Japan teas including insurance is only 4c per pound. Japan teas are the only cheap teas to-day. Before the war, Ceylon teas were laid down in Kingston for 3c per pound, including insurance. Canada imports from Japan about twenty million pounds of tea per annum. Many of the Canadian ladies in England are paying $1.00 per pound for tea. England has a duty of 25c per pound, while in Canada tea comes in free.

The Alien Question.

A joint meeting of the Committee of the Dominion Trades and Labor Council and the G.W.V.A. is to be held to-night to discuss the alien question. Much valuable data respecting the employment of aliens will be available for consideration, and will form the basis of resolutions calling upon the Government to act in all fairness to labor on the one hand and the returned soldier on the other.

LAIID OVER FOR A MONTH

A report was also received from Inspector Houghton, who recently visited the Collegiate Institute and who had good words to say of the work being carried on by the teaching staff. Some new equipment he recommended is that of a filing cabinet for the commercial department and blinds for the physics department. The management committee was instructed to take up these matters.

Report on Convention.

Before the board adjourned the members were given a most interesting review of the meetings held in Toronto last week by the trustees' section of the Ontario Educational Association, at which Trustee J. G. Elliott had the honor of attending as the board's representative.

Trustee Elliott reported the annual gathering to have been most successful, and that his fellow members to the benefit of the impressions he had picked up by his attendance at this most important gathering. Among other things he mentioned the address of the president, Dr. Waugh, who had spoken of the early age at which some children were allowed to quit school. One reason for this was the desire of the parents to get their children earning money as soon as possible. Many left for work after they got as far as the third book. The speaker referred to excellent addresses given by Dean Coleman, of Queen's University, and Inspector Putman, and also Dr. Foght, an expert on school work in the United States. Trustee Elliott stated that Dr. Foght will be in Buffalo in the near future and that he promised to make a visit to Kingston. He suggested that the Canadian Club extend him an invitation to speak here. His address on school work would be most interesting and profitable.

Trustee Elliott referred to various matters taken up at the convention, and at the close of his address the Board tendered him a vote of thanks, on motion of Trustees Renton and Anglin.

Chairman Farrell was in the chair, and the other members present were: Trustees Anglin, Campbell, Craig, Elliott, Lemmon, Macdonald, Macnee, Meek, Monk, Mills, McKay and Renton.

DIED OF MEASLES.

A Verona Soldier Boy Passes Away in England.

Miss Edith Dixon, Verona, received the sad tidings on Wednesday that her brother, Private William Dixon, had passed away on March 19th in the Isolation Hospital at Bramshott, Eng., of measles. Private Dixon was twenty-nine years of age and a member of the C.O.F. Lodge No. 283. Deceased leaves to mourn two sisters and three brothers: John, Sharbot Lake; Henry, Bellrock George, Verona. The sisters are Mrs. Thomas Wattap, Harrow-smith, and Edith, at home.

Compliment To Y. M. C. A. Work. Perhaps the highest compliment ever paid to the Y. M. C. A. association work in France is that of Germany. Rev. Dr. MacRossie, on his return from the front, asserts that Germany is turning her hate against our Y. M. C. A. all along the line. Realizing the strengthening of French and British morale all along the battle-line through Y. M. C. A. work, Germany now strives to wreck the huts. Every effort is now being made by the German gunners to blow these huts to pieces with high explosive shells.
