Military News

Major Charles H. Gray, 146th Battalion, was returned last week from overseas in France for several months with the Imperial Army. He left Kingston under Lieut.-Col. G. A. Low and is one of the best known Kingston officers in the service. He returned because of the surplus of senior officers.

The charges made by Dr. J. W. Edwards in the House of Commons on Wednesday night surprised the local military officers. They regretted the fact that the doctor had spread such an erroneous opinion abroad of the staff here. The doctor said that there were two veterinary colonels to be sent to "only one sick horse last winter and only three the winter before." The Whig learns that the reason for two colonels being on the staff at one time was political influence. One was struck off the strength of the list of 1917 to give the position to Lieut.-Col. Taschereau a returned officer of the permanent force. Col. Taschereau went overseas with the First Canadian mounted Brigade, and was with the Imperial force for ten months. Being on the permanent force and thus receiving pay, he was given the position here vice Lieut.-Col. W. J. Morgan, a veteran of the South African war. Col. Morgan was re-appointed and remained on duty until the first of this month. That there were two colonels cannot be blamed on the local military authorities. In connection with the statement of the sick horses, it is learned that there are 550 horses in the district. Forty-one are now under treatment. There were eighty-six treated in hospital, and ninety-six out of hospital since last year's camp. The officers want an inquiry.

The contradictory orders of the Militia Department are causing anxiety to the agricultural officials of the country. Some time ago it was in orders that owing to the urgent need for farmers, all soldiers now on special service work and of such a category as to make them unfit for overseas service were to be given their discharge. A recent order contradicted this by stating that only men in category E were to be discharged. The farms need these men badly. Another order to cover the question will likely be forthcoming shortly.

The Military Service Act is relentless in its action, and one case which has just come to light affects a man thirty-seven years of age and a German. He was rounded up at his home near Pembroke some time ago and brought here. He has proved that he was born in Germany. He is medically unfit for overseas service.

The extensions to the Ongwanada Military Hospital will likely be started in a few days.

An infantry draft of 200 men and an artillery draft of 100 men left the city very quietly on Sunday morning. Officers of headquarters and of the Depot Battalion and batteries were present to say good-bye, and were also a handful of citizens, mostly relatives of the boys going. The train pulled out on scheduled time.

With the amalgamation of the Royal Naval Air Service and the Royal Flying Corps into one unit, known as the Royal Air Force, there will be several changes apparent at the Mohawk Flying Camp, which opened on Monday at Deseronto. The medical department will be handled directly by the Toronto officials, although Captains McGee and Bissell, of Kingston, are now on duty.

Major W. J. McMannus, officer commanding instructional cadre, returned on Monday to duty after three months' sickness. He has been receiving treatment for that time for injuries to his eye. His many friends are pleased that he is at last back on duty.

Daylight saving has been adopted by the military element of the city, and already is working out satisfactorily.

Nursing Sister B. Bourault has been taken on the strength of the A.M.C. of the C.E.F.

Capt. H. A. McKay left on Saturday for Cobourg to go on duty with the Ontario Military Hospital there.

The following officers have returned to Canada recently: Major Robert F. Masie (who raised the 34th Battery here); Major C. H. Gray, 1st C.O.R.; Capt. R. G. H. Travers, 1st C.O.R.; Lieut. A. W. McMinn and Lieut. H. S. Hill.

Major E. C. Woolsey has been appointed to the C.E.F. reserve of officers.

The Depot Battalion is now drilling on the Cricket Field and at Barriefield. The recent drafted depleted the ranks, but more men are coming in gradually.

Judge Lavell is reviewing some thirty-five exemption cases this week.

Men in category B are being sent questionnaires, and it is likely that their exemption cases will be heard shortly by the county judge tribunals.

The Theatres

At the Grand.

All those who miss seeing June Elvidge in her latest five-act world picture, "The Tenth Case," which will be shown at the Grand to-night and Tuesday matinee and night only, will miss the treat of the season. In this elaborate production Miss Elvidge will be seen at her best and because she is supported by an exceptionally good cast it ought to be a feature picture that would be well worth going a long way to see. Some of California's world famed beauty spots will form the backgrounds for scenes in this picture. Interwoven throughout the plot is a very delightful love story which greatly increases the interest of the audience. The reliable Pathe News with its animated, world-wide current events and two reels of the most laughable comedy booked here in many days, will also be shown. These films together with a big-time vaudeville act will complete this attractive bill.

"20,000 Leagues Under the Sea."

The Universal Film Company has taken Jules Verne's famous mystery story "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," and dramatized it for production as a big feature photoplay. This wonderful imaginative story was pictured on terra firma and under the surface of the ocean. Many of the most thrilling episodes of Captain Nemo and his famous boat Nautilus have been photographed under the water; and with the love story interwoven a big spectacular photoplay has been produced. A special musical score has been prepared and will be played by an augmented orchestra. The first presentation of this picture in Kingston will take place at the Grand Opera House Friday and Saturday, April 19th and 20th, with matinee daily. This spectacle comes direct from Paris and has had engagements at Massey Hall and Princess theatre, Toronto.

At the Strand.

A special super production entitled "The Grand Passion," with Dorothy Phillips in the stellar role, will be the headline attraction at the Strand for the first three days of this week. It's the story of a beautiful girl for whose love a masterless boss reformed himself and revolutionized his town. Ethel Barrymore will also be seen in a five act Metro wonderplay, "Life's Whirlpool," a photoplay filled with opportunities for splendid human emotion. The life of Esther Darey (Ethel Barrymore), is one of those strangely selected by fate to be filled with storms and dangers. But at last the fury of the storm breaks and passes and a rainbow of happiness gives promise of peaceful days to come. Comedy and topical reels will also be shown.

At Griffin's.

Handsome Wallace Reid, the popular favorite of movie fans all over the continent, will be seen at Griffin's to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday in his latest Paramount release, "Kinrock Jones." This is a breezy story of an Oriona copper mine, which fairly breathes the spirit of the west, and furnishes a glove fitting vehicle for the energetic young star. In fact, this story was made for Wallace Reid. His superb physique and his handsome carriage never showed to more dazzling advantage than in this story of love, happiness, hair breath escapes and a worthy climax. "The Maid of Belgium" is the attention riveting title of the new Alice Brady picture, which is another feature of our programme. This picture tells of the thrilling and surprising experiences of a pretty Belgian girl whose memory is destroyed by her sufferings, and who is brought to America by a kindly American couple. "The Maid of Belgium" grips attention at the very start of the picture, and holds it constantly throughout. An interesting episode of "Vengeance and the Woman" completes a noteworthy programme.
