WHISKEY LOOKED LIKE HOME-MADE VARIETY

But It Had Sufficient "Kick" In it to Put Man Under.

Has a start already been made by some party or parties to manufacture liquor now that the "lid" has been put off?

The liquor a man had, in his possession when arrested on Saturday, and which was produced in police court on Monday, looked somewhat like the home-made variety. It was not in a regular liquor bottle, bearing the name of a liquor dealer or manufacturer, and the entire make-up gave the impression that it had been made at home as it were. However, it evidently had sufficient "kick" in it to put a man under, and Magistrate Farrell did not give an order for an official test to be made, much to the sorrow of some of the thirsty ones, who would have liked very well to have got in on this deal.

Someone was heard to remark that it might be maple syrup and whiskey. The magistrate has heard of many things bringing on intoxication, but he has yet to put maple syrup on his list.

On Saturday afternoon it answered its first fire call, to a small fire on Victoria street.

The hose team is now in use on the steamer, thus again completing the equipment of the department in that line. The men of No. 2 station are highly delighted with the machine and expect to make many rapid runs while they have possession of it.

The public spirit shown by Mr. Boyd is to be highly commended, and shows what faith he has in the ability of "Reo" trucks to answer every kind of service that they may be put to.

AIR LINE OVER LAKES FOR PASSENGERS

Detroit Concern Organized Ten Years Ago Ready to Act.

Detroit, April 29.—Transportation of passengers up and down the Great Lakes by airplane just as soon as the machines can be secured is the ambitious programme of the Detroit and Cleveland Aerial Navigation Company, composed of a number of Detroit's wealthiest men. Organized some ten years ago, when flying was in its infancy, the company has quietly bided its time, held on to its charter, and is now prepared to engage actively in the sky transportation.

Owing to Government demands, the purchase of a suitable type of airplane is proving a difficult matter, and this may delay the inauguration of the flying service for a time, but President A. Shantz, who is also head of the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Company, is working actively on the idea, and as soon as he is able to sign contracts for a number of planes of the size contemplated in an official note.

The plan is to start machines from Buffalo and Detroit simultaneously, so that there will always be flyers available for quick service at either end of the route. The great development of the airship since the outbreak of war has simplified the flying proposition so much that no serious obstacle is looked for in the carrying out of the project. Buffalo in two hours is the hope of the steamboat men via the air route.

Aviators Signalled Correct Results Until Correct Range Was Obtained.

Paris, April 29.—A description of the destruction by French artillery of one of the long-range cannon with which the Germans have been bombarding Paris is published to-day by The Petit Parisien.

"All the signs that Bertha (a French nickname for the big German guns, referring to Bertha Krupp) was going to fire had been noticed. The smoke curtain had gone up. All around there was a chorus of loud reports. Undoubtedly Bertha and two or three hundred 700-millimetre naval guns were all firing simultaneously to disguise the whereabouts of the big cannon.

"After a short pause the firing was resumed. This time ten naval guns supplied the obligato. French air observers were on the look-out, however, and French guns opened fire in their turn. The aviators signalled quickly and the result of the first salvo was most promising. Two heavy shells exploded 250 yards north of the big gun, tearing up the railroad tracks leading to the concrete gun platform. The firing was continued, getting closer and closer, until finally two enormous shells went through the camouflage. Two formidable explosions were heard, and the discomfited Germans saw Bertha damaged beyond repair, with a rent fifty feet long in the barrel. The aviators reported that they could see plainly through the camouflage two gaping craters in the platform.

"French gunners then set about preparing to destroy the third Bertha, but thus far they have not succeeded, for shells arrived in Paris again during the small hours of the morning."
