THREE TRAINMEN BADLY SCALDED

Lloyd Chambers, of Sharbot Lake, May Not Recover.

A LOCOMOTIVE EXPLODED

TWO MILES EAST OF GANANOQUE THURSDAY MORNING

The Three Men Were Brought to the General Hospital—They Suffered Intense Agony.

One man lies in a dying condition and two other men are in a precarious state in the General Hospital as the result of serious accident two miles east of Gananoque at 9.30 o'clock Thursday morning. When the dislocation of the crown shield of a G.T.R. freight locomotive caused the explosion of the boiler, Lloyd Chambers, aged twenty-two, of Sharbot Lake, J. G. Skelcher, aged forty-two, of Belleville, and Howard Bertram, aged twenty-four of Belleville, three of the trainmen, were terribly scalded.

The men were brought to the city by Dr. Bird of Gananoque, who did everything possible to alleviate their distress. They were taken to the General Hospital, where Dr. C. A. Morrison dressed their burns. At a late hour on Wednesday afternoon it was not thought that Chambers would recover. The other two men are suffering excruciating pain. The burns are extensive.

Familiar Quotations

The first step toward greatness is to be honest, says the proverb; but the proverb fails to state the case strongly enough. Honesty is not only "the first step toward greatness," it is greatness itself. —BOVEE.

The Theatres

At the Grand.

"The Strong Way" is the strong title of a strong new photoplay which will be shown at the Grand to-night and Friday, matinee and night only. June Elvidge is the strong star of this production, thereby assuring an entertainment of particular merit. "The Strong Way" deals with life in certain circles in New York city. These circles are not of the upper society set, but still have plenty of money to spend and plenty of acquaintances who are big people in the world of big things. We see various phases of this life in this picture, and one particularly notable scene shows a carbaret performer on ice skates on a large expanse of natural ice in the middle of the floor. A notable cast has been assembled for this production, and all of the parts are played in an effective, convincing manner. Besides this feature there will be the Pathe News, two reels of the best comedy and the Valadons in a novelty wire act that is a winner and sure to please.

Coming—"The Brat."

Oliver Morosco's delightful and refreshing comedy success, "The Brat," written by Maude Fulton, is to make a welcome return visit here on Saturday, matinee and night, May 4th, at the Grand Opera House, and the brilliant New York cast which supported Miss Rea Martin in the leading role which she will again present this wholesome laugh maker. "The Brat" has just concluded a coast to coast tour, in which every city of note in the Dominion has been visited and great crowds have flocked to see this bright little star in her now famous role. She has proved beyond peradventure that she has exceptional talent and the play itself has been hailed as one of the most delightful and entertaining comedies on the American stage to-day. "The Brat" does not have to use double meaning phrases to get a laugh, clean wholesome humor doing all that is necessary in that line. Supporting little Rea Martin will be Beryl L. Robinson, A. Pacific-Ripple, Edwin Burke, Arthur LaRue, Edna M. Holland, Dorothy Baldwin, Leonora Guito and Vivian Suckling, the original company which left New York in October for the most successful theatrical tour ever made in Canada.

At Griffin's.

Douglas Fairbanks will be seen at this theatre to-day, Friday and Saturday, in a new Arriarat picture, entitled "Headin' South." It is a thrilling tale of two borders—Mexican and Canadian—dealing with the capture of a notorious band of Mexicans, who defy all laws and governmental warnings. There is an undercurrent of fascinating mystery that runs through the story, with a strong element of suspense that is maintained to the very last scene of the picture. Douglas Fairbanks built his great reputation on pictures like this. This is the greatest he has ever done. In short, "Headin' South" is typical "Fairbanks." That's all you want to know. That means it's a riot. That means it's thrilling, and that means a wonderful picture. Another photodrama of unusual interest will also be shown, entitled, "The Girl with the Champagne Eyes," and has as its star beautiful Jewel Carmen. Here is a drama that has thrills of a new sort and a story that will live in one's memory. The play deals with the career of a woman who chooses what she believes to be the lesser of two evils, and commits a theft that is fastened on a man who she later realizes she loves. The play is presented in excellent fashion and not for a moment does the interest lag.

A Daughter of Uncle Sam.

In this new thrilling serial for patriotic audiences, there is also a splendid red-blooded strain of romance to be found throughout the whole twelve chapters. This most remarkable serial "A Daughter of Uncle Sam," abounds in exciting thrilling action and encounters which have resulted from conflicts between African patriots and German secret agents, who have been striving to interfere with "Uncle Sam's" great war machine. First episode at the King Edward Friday and Saturday. Tonight "The Mystery Ship." Usual admission.

It doesn't take extra strong soil to sprout the seeds of doubt.

DETECTIVE CAME HERE.

But Man Who Was Wanted in Toronto Was in Peterboro.

There was a good joke on a Toronto detective to-day. He came down from Toronto, on the noon train, to get a prisoner at the police station, but on his arrival he found that the man he wanted was in Peterboro, and that he should have gone to Peterboro for his man. He was quite surprised when told by the local police that they did not have a prisoner for Toronto, and on looking up his warrant, he found that he should have gone to Peterboro. The local police headed him for Peterboro. The detective stated that one of the Toronto sergeants gave him instructions to come to Kingston.
