A PATRIOTIC MUSICAL

HELD AT HOME OF MR. AND MRS. W. J. FAIR, KING STREET.

The Proceeds Exceeded $150 and Will Be Devoted to the Blue Cross Society—It Was a Delightful Function.

The spacious grounds and beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fair on King street were gaily decorated on Saturday afternoon for a delightful musicale and the dance held under the auspices of the Blue Cross Society. Flags and bunting waved in the bright sunlight and a blue cross flag surmounting all was a reminder of the claims of the society.

In the early part of the afternoon many charming musical numbers were rendered in the drawing-room. Piano solos were given by R. B. F. Harvey, Master Bernard Hiron and Miss Knight. Miss "Goldie" Bartels played sweetly on the violin, as well as Master Howard Fair, who was accompanied by his brother, Master Peter Fair. Vocal numbers were rendered by Mrs. Arthur Craig, Miss Ethel Kent, Miss Phyllis Devlin and the R.M.C. cadets.

Shortly after five o'clock dancing was engaged in and continued until after seven o'clock. The R.M.C. orchestra rendered several delightful dancing selections and were followed by G. C. Lloyd Hellwell, who proved himself a master of the pianoforte.

During the afternoon many dainty homemade articles were sold at the various tables, and as a result of the most successful and pleasant event over $150 was raised to be devoted to the activities of the Blue Cross Society.

At the Grand.

Little Madge Evans, "The World's Kiddie Star," who is the best child actress on the screen to-day, will be seen at the Grand to-night and also on Tuesday and Wednesday, matinee and night in "Gates of Gladness," her newest World Picture, Brady-made. This new offering presents little Madge in a most attractive role where her splendid acting abilities are given full opportunity. The story is a robust, man-size tale telling a most intense drama of modern life. The settings are beautiful and the players who support Madge in this production are all very capable film favorites. One of the most magnificent country estates ever seen in motion pictures appears in this picture. It is the property of a famous millionaire who was glad to co-operate in the making of the picture by giving his estate for the taking of these scenes. To round out this top-notch bill there will be a Lonesome Lake comedy, the Pathe News and other reels besides Keough and Nelson in a novelty vaudeville act that is sure to go big.

At Griffin's.

Conceded to be one of the most dramatic photoplays ever produced "The Whispering Chorus," a Cecil B. de Mille production for Arctcraft, will be shown at Griffin's to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday. The picture is based upon the novel of the same name by Percy Poore Sheehan, and presents a galaxy of action soldiers, if ever, gathered together in a single Arctcraft picture. The theme of self-sacrifice which is the dominating note of this great Paramount picture, was treated in a highly artistic manner, and from every standpoint ever seen in this city. The plot revolves about a man who is convicted of his own murder, whose wife had remarried in the belief that she is a widow and he chooses death to sacrificing her happiness, which the admission of his identity must inevitably occasion. The "Whispering Chorus" is one of the most notable presentations of this season.

At the Strand.

For the first three days of this week a double feature bill of exceptional merit will hold the boards at this popular playhouse. Dainty Anita Stewart will be seen in her latest six-act screen success, "The Suspect," a story of Russian life in which Miss Stewart is caused to become a militant by the harsh and inhuman treatment to which her family is subjected. In this production Miss Stewart wears a number of exquisite gowns. Viola Dana will also be seen in a five-act Metro Wonderplay, "Weaver of Dreams." Comedy and topical reels will also be shown.

"Love and Friendship."

Caste and adult chorus meet Mr. Bird Tuesday evening, 7.30, in St. Andrew's Hall.

It is said that a new steam laundry may be started in Kingston in the near future. A gentleman from Toronto was in the city looking over suitable sites, and negotiations have even gone so far that the name of the new company is said to be "The Home Laundry."

Did Not Like Jail Fare.

A young man who was in jail a week on remand, and who got his liberty on Monday morning, made a bee line to get some ham and eggs, as soon as he was free. It was his first time in the jail, and he did not take very kindly to the bill-of-fare. "I'm off to a restaurant to get some ham and eggs," he remarked to the police constables at the police station, as he started out, in company with some friends, who had come to meet him.
