UKRAINE NOT FOR GERMANY

Feeling Strongly Against Domination by Autocratic Hun. London, May 9.—The Germans are worried about the Ukraine. They made peace with the Ukraine and the peace is inconclusive. They anticipated large food supplies from this granary of Russia, but the supplies are in the hands of the peasants, who refuse to give them up.

HELP WANTED

A Junior Salesman, 17 to 20 years of age. Steady position, with prompt promotion. The Wm. Davies Co., Ltd. GERMANY DISAPPOINTED. Events in Ukraine Proved Failure—Press Angry. The Hague, May 9.—The Berlin papers openly criticize the terms of events in Ukraine. The Tagblatt, considers it was a great mistake to make the Main committee debate so secret, pointing out that the Ukrainian failure has created much excitement, and that the press naturally endeavors to learn something of the proceedings. Even the Vossische Zeitung admits that Kraberger was right in saying that mistakes were being made. The Vossische, however, considers the mistakes were made long ago, and with the consent of the Reichstag. The paper says the peace was one of necessity. It deplores the policy toward the Russians and the celebration of the peace as a "bread peace" and the shortsightedness of Vienna's policy. KAISER BILL'S COFFIN. Headed $12,000,000 War Savings Stamp Parade. New York, May 9.—Men and women, boys and girls, through whose efforts more than $12,000,000 worth of war savings stamps have been sold in this city, took their places joyfully last night in the funeral procession which wound its way through the city behind a coffin whose plate was inscribed "Kaiser Bill" had "died of W.S.S., 1918." As the cortege moved slowly down Park Row, a navy band softly played Chopin's funeral march. Then as the coffin was placed at the foot of Benjamin Franklin's monument, the band struck up "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town to-night."
