SECOND WORLD HAS ENDED

AND WE ARE LIVING IN THE THIRD WORLD.

This is the View of I. B. S. Speaker, Who Says That Millions Now Living May Never Die.

Ernest Whelpton, who is lecturing under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association, spoke to a small gathering of the members of the association in the Sons of England Hall on Sunday afternoon. His subject was "The World Has Ended; Millions Now Living Will Never Die." In opening his address he appealed to the reason of his hearers by stating that "we live in a time when people do their own thinking. If the world has ended we ought all to know it. There are Bible reasons for this assertion. The Bible speaks of three worlds: First, the world that was, from Adam to the flood; second, the evil world; and, third, the new world, or world to come. Millions now living may never die. Death will be destroyed in this third world in which we are now living. Bible evidence shows that the second world has ended. The prophet Daniel said 'many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased in the time of the end.' The end referred to the end of a period of time not the destruction of the earth, 'for the earth abideth and will never end.' There shall be a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation."

The speaker said that modern transportation by means of the railway, aeroplane, steamship and submarine marked the "running to and fro" and the multiplicity of educational institutions the "increase of knowledge" and the present great war the "time of trouble." When the disciple asked Jesus "What shall be a sign of Thy coming?" the answer was: "It will be a time when men's hearts fail and they will be filled with fear, a time of trouble." The present time is the time of trouble; all men are filled with trouble, and there is distress of nations. When Jesus prayed he said: "Thy kingdom come," and at another time he said "My kingdom is not of this world." His kingdom will come in the third world. The second world has ended. His disciples showed how the Jews have been scattered into all the world and Christ promised that they would be gathered together again. In A.D. 70 the Jews were entirely driven out of Judea, and in 1878 they began to receive God's favor when Benjamin Disraeli presided at the Treaty of Berlin, when, at the conclusion of the Russian-Turkish war, favorable conditions were secured for the Jews in Palestine.

Here the speaker stated that there was a coincidence in dates. From the time of Christ's ministry in 33 A.D. to the utter destruction of the Jewish nation in 70 A.D., there elapsed forty years, and from 1878, when the Treaty of Berlin secured them some recognition to 1918 when the British drove the Turks out of Palestine, there elapsed another period of forty years. This shows that the favor of the Lord is returning to the Jews. The British Government is the only government likely to restore Jerusalem to the Jews. The Lord's Kingdom will then come to earth and the Lord will be King of all the earth. This marks the third era—the present time—and the blessing to all the earth through the Jews. It is the Lord's purpose to bring blessing to all the families of the earth in the new era. The Son of man is coming to seek and to save that which was lost. We have come into the time of restitution. The British Government has declared that it will restore Palestine to the Jews and has sent a commission to Jerusalem.

In the future religion will be controlled from Jerusalem, and the elect of Christ will reign with Him for 1,000 years. Satan will remain bound during this period of a thousand years. The dead will be restored. By the sin of Adam death passed upon all young and old. Jehovah said to Abraham, "In thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed." Christ gave Himself a ransom for all. If one died for all then were all dead. Millions are dead. How can they be blessed? Christ restored the dead to life in His miracles and He will do so in this age of restitution. For He said "The hour cometh when all that are in their graves shall hear His voice and come forth." The condition that must be met is obedience. The reward of life is the result of obedience. When these in the tomb come forth those living in obedience will not need to die and the result will be life. Many now living will continue to die. There are two salvations and two ways of salvation: The first was "straight is the gate and narrow is the way that leadeth to it and few there be that find it." The second is, "and an highway shall be there and it shall be called the way of holiness; the redeemed shall walk there—sorrow and sighing shall flee away." The speaker here predicted that the deserts and all desolate places will be restored to productivity. The world will be filled with population.

Familiar Quotations

There is nothing beautiful and good that dies and is forgotten. An infant, a prattling child, a youth well taught, will live again in the better thoughts of those who loved it, and will play its part, though its body be turned to ashes or drowned in the deepest sea. There is not an angel added to the host of heaven but does its blessed work on earth in those that loved it here.
—CHARLES DICKENS.

The Theatres

To-night, "Within the Law."

As a stage success "Within the Law" ran for sixteen months on Broadway and now that it has been screened it has even greater power as a photo drama than as a stage production. Alice Joyce is starred in the picture and she is supported by Harry Moray and a capable cast such as Walter McGrail, Adele de Garde, Billie Billings and Anders Randolph. This girl sent to prison, innocent of any crime for which she was convicted, she rises with a vow of vengeance on her lips, and though she comes forth broken in spirit and health, she seeks out those who wronged her and makes them suffer as she has suffered. What if her social outcasts—the law could not touch her, for like those who had wronged her, she played the game to the very edge of danger, but stayed always "within the law." Audiences numbering hundreds of thousands have been stirred by the astounding story of this girl and you can see it also by coming to the Grand to-night or Tuesday and Wednesday, either matinee or night.

"Seven Days' Leave."

"Seven Days' Leave," the big spectacular London military drama, which Robert Campbell will present at the Grand Opera House for two days commencing Friday, May 17th, with a matinee Saturday, is now in the fourteenth month of a continuous run at the Lyceum Theatre, and Park Theatre, New York, to tremendous business.

The story of the play concerns principally a rollicking young major back in London on a leave of absence with buoyancy and heart enough to fall in love with a certain young woman who ardently welcomes his wooing. But cupid has fairly opened his eyes to this affair, when enters again sinisterly the clutch of the conflict whose disarms can still be heard within the bowers. And from romance the play instantly stiffens to the tense thrill of danger for both the furlough's principal, his finance, and indeed all about them who are dear to both. Many of the phases of life in the London zones as they are at present—lazzards of spies, leveling of castes, awakening of a finer spiritual note—fall into the alembic. There is a thrilling denouement when a submarine is exploded in view of the audience.

At Griffin's.

Immortal Tan Sawyer, Mark Twain's famous hero, the battling, whistling youth who sold out the rights to the irksome job of white-washing a fence for his friend's treasures while he sat on a barrel and superintended the operation, is coming to town. He will appear at Griffin's Theatre to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday in the person of clever young Jack Pickford, brother of "Our Mary," and a boy who knows how to depict American youth on the screen as it has never before been done, incarnating the very spirit of the freckle-faced whistling lads that all of us know and love and many of us have been. In addition to the above picture dainty, clever Peggy Hyland will also be shown in a new William Fox production entitled, "The Debt of Honor," in which this beloved star has her vehicle a play that is topical in that it has to do with the pernicious spy system that is still tearing at the roots of American preparation for the big war. Miss Hyland has a thrilling play and an excellent supporting cast. The usual interesting episode of "Vengeance and the Woman" complete an exceptionally fine programme.

At the Strand.

Lois Weber has completed a companion picture to "The Price of a Good Name." Under the title of "The Doctor and the Woman," this new Jewel production will be shown at the Strand Theatre on the first three days of this week. "The Doctor and the Woman" is the photographic adaptation of the popular Rinehart's popular novel. As a moving picture drama, it is confidently stated that its popularity will exceed that of its immediate predecessor, "The Price of a Good Name." Mildred Harris, the dainty little star who enacted the principal role in the latter production, again assumes the stellar part in "The Doctor and the Woman." With her appears True Boardman, whose work in recent serials showing him as a gentlemanly highwayman, has made him one of the really popular film stars. Edith Storey will also be seen in a five-act Metro Wonder-play, "Revenge." Comedy and topical reels will also be shown.

Dr. J. H. Bell of Hamilton spent the week-end in the city.
