

Had Bronchitis FOR THREE YEARS. COULD GET NO RELIEF.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather. It begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty in breathing, and a wheezing sound comes from the lungs. There is also a raising of phlegm from the lungs, especially in the morning. This is at first white, but later becomes of a greenish or yellowish color, and is occasionally streaked with blood.

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and thereby prevent it becoming chronic and perhaps turning into some more serious lung trouble.

Mr. Theodore P. Beers, Upper Main River, N.B., writes: "I was troubled with bronchitis for three years and could get no relief. I was always worse when I got wet. I tried lots of different medicines, but none did me good until a friend told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I got three bottles and before I had them half used I was better."

"My mother is now using it for asthma. It is a great medicine and we never want to be without it." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pins across the trade mark; price 25c and 50c, manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

R. J. EILBECK IN MISSOURI IN CONNECTION WITH AN OIL COMPANY'S INTERESTS.

He Tells of His Son "Jack" Who Died Some Time Ago—Father and Son Like Boys Together.

A Dawson City newspaper has the following article regarding a former well-known resident of Kingston: Robert J. Eilbeck, former sheriff of the Yukon, is with a large oil company in the States, the same concern with which his son, the late Jack Eilbeck, was right-of-way man until the time of his death.

Mr. Eilbeck states that Jack was manager of the right-of-way and had charge of the purchasing and leasing of land over which to conduct the pipe line, and that it was due to his close application to his duties that he broke down. His heart gave way under the strain. Jack came home to the hotel one evening and complained of being very sick. His father called a doctor at once, and the patient was ordered immediately to the hospital. While being carried from his room on a stretcher Jack expired, and was just in the act of leaving over to speak to his father as he uttered the last word. His remains were interred at the old home in Ontario.

Jack and his father were like boys together, and the son was the idol of the father. The two were the greatest promoters of sports and athletics in general in Dawson in the halcyon days of the camp, and the son had a host of friends everywhere who were grieved over the loss of the young man. He passed away just at a time when growing himself of great value in his new calling and when promising to become one of the most valued experts in the old business in America. Jack will be remembered by his Klondike friends for his very happy disposition, and his father always will have a deep sympathy in the North in his great loss. Jack's last visit to the North was when he stamped in company with his father to Christina, via Whitehorse and Klunane.

THE WAR LECTURE BUREAU "FIVE MINUTE MEN" IN THE VARIOUS THEATRES.

They Sought to Create Confidence and Hope in the Final Triumph of the Allies—The Duty of Hope.

Last evening at nine o'clock Abraham Shaw on behalf of the War Lecture Bureau stepped before the footlights at Griffin's with the words: "Five minutes with the greatest war on record, speaking of it as a war for peace, the world anxious for peace and the British Empire entering the war to procure a lasting peace, and closing with the words: 'The hope of the world is bright with the assurance that the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes will come out of the war victors, honored by the world, while Canada will become greater, larger and more honorable than our brightest hopes anticipated.'"

The theatre was crowded and the speaker was enthusiastically received. George E. Smith gave a thrilling address in the Strand Theatre, quoting history and poetry extolling the British navy and closing with the thought that hope and confidence was felt in the ultimate triumph for the Allies.

J. A. Gorrie and J. G. Elliott were "the five minute men" respectively at the King Edward and the Grand. The audiences appreciated the cheering words uttered. Their themes were "The Duty of Hope."

Scolding The Children Nervous mothers, worried from morning to night by the care of children and the duties of the household, nervous children, perhaps worn out by overstudy, unable to sit still or stand still, or keep their minds concentrated on anything, both need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the blood and strengthen the nerves.

Try a short treatment with these strengthening, tonic pills and watch the color return to pale cheeks and lips; see how the worn tired nerves recover their poise, note how much less irritating the children become, and how much less scolding they need. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blessing to nervous people everywhere, men as well as women, boys as well as girls, because they build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. They lighten the cares of life because they give you new strength to meet them.

In the case of nervous children the trouble should be corrected at once, as it is but a short step to St. Vitus dance. Give them Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the blood, and whether boy or girl they will become pink-cheeked and rugged. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in every home as a precaution against the many troubles due to watery blood and weak nerves. You can get the pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
