The Theatres

To-night, "Bohemian Girl."
Speaking of "The Bohemian Girl," which the Boston English Opera Company will present at the Grand to-night, the San Francisco Bulletin says it has a bit of the stuff that makes for immortality woven into her skirts as was clearly shown. The audience was not disappointed; the old friends, "Heart Bowed Down," "I Dreamt I Dwell in Marble Halls," "When the Fair Land of Poland" and "Then You'll Remember Me," were presented most tenderly. Miss St. Clair puts much charm as well as melody in her singing of "Arlene," making her a real heroine. She conjured old dreams in her singing of the "Marble Halls," that song that has long nestled close to the hearts of so many.

Tyler's "Devilshoop" is a rip-roaring chap, with unbounded humor. Tyler plays the part with the use of sublimated slapsticks that no one can find fault with. Paul Edwards extracted everything possible from the role of Florentin, and Miss Hall and Curtis Johns took good care of the small parts. Esther Clark, possibly five years old, displayed as much poise and feminine charm as an "old timer" in the child Arline of the first act.

At The Strand.
Two large audiences yesterday were delighted with the splendid bill which was presented at the Strand, when Alice Brady, in "Bought and Paid For," a strong drama, was shown, and Emily Whelan appeared to good advantage in a five-screen Metro romance, "The Shell Game." Both these strong features will be seen to-night for the last time, and are well worth attending. For the last three days of this week the management has secured a double bill of exceptional merit. Mrs. Vernon Castle, always a favorite with local theatregoers, will be shown in "Vengeance is Mine," and Taylor Holmes, another strong figure on the screen, will appear in "Efficiency Edgar's Courtship." In addition there will be some good comedy shown.

At Griffin's.
Don't fail to see the Theda Bara superfeature, "The Roar of Blood," at this theatre this evening, when a last opportunity will be afforded. Miss Bara's many admirers of witnessing this big spectacle, which combines the name of the noted star with a story distinctly worth seeing. Wallace Reid and Kathleen Williams in "The Thing We Love" is another feature of exceptional interest which has proved immensely interesting during the last two days. The appearance of two such foremost stars is alone worthy, and the excellency of the picture is assured. See this bill, which also includes one of the most harrowing episodes of "Vengeance and the Woman," yet shown.

MR. FIELDING'S VIEW OF YUKON AFFAIR

Refusal to Give Seat to Thompson Would Mean Premier's Disfranchisement.

Ottawa, May 22.—That the Yukon soldiers would not be disfranchised by refusing to give Dr. Thompson his seat but that it would mean the disfranchisement of the Prime Minister, was the basis of an aggressive speech by Hon. Mr. Fielding in the House yesterday afternoon. It was Mr. Fielding's first real effort of the session, and the Opposition cheered him to the echo. He based his argument on the fact that both Mr. Congdon and Dr. Thompson stood for conscription, and that the Premier threw the votes to, what Mr. Fielding called the Conservative conscriptionist as opposed to the Liberal conscriptionist. This meant, he said, that the soldiers voted for conscription and not for either candidate, so that if the votes were lost it was the Premier's loss and not the soldiers'.

"There are men in the House and out of it who, when they have no case to present, must fall back on the glorious story of Vimy Ridge and Ypres," declared Mr. Fielding with withering scorn. "There are those in this House who have veneration for the War Times Elections Act—I am not one of them."

Military News

Officers of the permanent force, who have been on duty in Canada, are to be permitted to accompany drafts overseas, in order that they may be given an opportunity to serve at the front. The position of the permanent officers has not been a pleasant one. They have been held in Canada, and in spite of the good work they have been able to accomplish in preparing Canada's army for its mission across the Atlantic, have been the subject of much unkind criticism; none the less galling because it was made in ignorance of the facts. The barrier, however, has been removed by the new order from Ottawa.
