OVERWORK PARALYSIS

Doctors Said His Case Was Hopeless—Could Not Walk or Write—Speech Almost Gone—How Cure Was Effected.

St. Ann's Ont., May 25.—Paralysis is far more easily prevented than cured. For this reason it is only wise to be warned by sleeplessness, headache, nervous indigestion and neuralgic pains and begin reconstruction treatment before the nervous system becomes too far depleted.

This letter from Mr. Hyatt is quoted to prove to you that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is effective even after paralysis has set in. It is not advisable, however, to neglect nervous disorders until such conditions are developed.

Mr. Avery Hyatt, blacksmith, St. Ann's, Lincoln County, Ont., writes: "I am a blacksmith by trade, and ten years ago became afflicted with paralysis. I could not walk or read or write, and could talk with difficulty, so that it was a hard matter to understand anything I would say. Being only a young man, I was nearly discouraged. Two doctors told me it was brought on by overwork, and that my case was hopeless."

One day my father read about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and advised me to try it. I bought 12 boxes, and when the fifth was used I saw that I was getting better. By the time the 12 boxes were used I was cured. I am well and strong and working every day, thanks to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

This statement is certified to by Mr. Elmore J. Hodgins, J.P. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, a full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.75, at all dealers, or Elmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations only disappoint.

JOINS HUSBAND IN PRAISING TANLAC

Mrs. Benson Says Results She Derived Have Been Marvelous.

A few weeks ago when James Benson, of 457 Runnymede Road, Toronto, a returned veteran now employed by the Harris Abattoir Company, gave a testimonial, which was printed in this paper, telling how Tanlac had relieved him of a serious stomach trouble, it attracted widespread attention. His wife, Mrs. Emma Benson, has not only corroborates his statement, but in the following story of her own experience, which she related a few days ago, tells of the benefits she has personally derived from the use of Tanlac.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed," said Mrs. Benson, "and that is exactly what I think of this wonderful Tanlac ever since it relieved me of my neuralgia and those awful headaches I used to suffer from so much. "I had been in a badly run-down condition for a long time," she continued, "and I had such terrible attacks of neuralgia and my head ached so that I would just take to my bed and lie there in agony for as long as four days at a time. Going through with this awful experience just shattered my nervous system so that I would lay awake at night for hours before I would doze off, and then it wouldn't be a sound, restful sleep, but I'd get up in the mornings feeling so wretched that I couldn't get a bit of my housework done till almost noon. Many a time when I would start to get out of bed I'd be so weak and nervous that I'd actually faint dead away. I tell you what I was completely worn out and my life was simply one day of misery after another."

"When I saw how Tanlac had relieved my husband of his stomach trouble I decided to see if it would help me too, and I can truthfully say that the results have been simply marvelous. I have taken only three bottles so far and that terrible neuralgia is completely gone. I haven't had a headache since I started on Tanlac, my nerves are quieter and I sleep like a baby. That tired, worn-out feeling has passed away and I am stronger and better in every way than I have been in a long time. My husband and I both think so much of Tanlac, we have even made it our family medicine and have already recommended it to many of our friends."

Tanlac is sold in Kingston by A. P. Chown, in Plevna by Gilbert Ooster, in Battersby by C. S. Clark, in Fernleigh by Evelyn Martin, in Ardoch by M. J. Scullion, in Sharbot Lake by W. Y. Cannon.

Children's Aid "Tag Day."

Kingstonians were in the hands of a band of "taggers" again on Saturday when a large number of young girls took up positions at street corners and collected for the Children's Aid Society. The street corners were well looked after, and few people managed to slip by without opening up their purse strings. It is hoped that a good sum will be realized.
