The Ukrainians are burning their grain rather than let it be used to appease German hunger.

The Rochester Post Express calls to the attention of profiteers the fact that the national song of the United States is "Yankee Doodle," and not "Yank the Doodle."

A western Ontario man, who uttered disloyal remarks on a train, was this week sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

Secretary McAdoo has fired all the railway presidents in the United States, and will appoint federal officers in their place.

Russia's withdrawal from the war weakened the striking power of the Allies, but the present military collapse of Austria-Hungary, now admitted by German newspapers, goes a long way towards balancing the loss.

Sir Robert Borden, as the defender of a titled aristocracy, is not a popular figure. Sir Robert Borden, as a champion of the rights of the private member, would have appealed strongly to the people of this democratic Dominion.

It is just one year ago since the late Major J. M. Lanos of the Royal Military College, at the call of his native land, went to France for active service, shortly afterwards returning home to die.

At the present rate of transportation there will be 2,000,000 American soldiers in France by Christmas. Where is Germany to secure sufficient reserves to enable her to hold her lines against an Allied offensive when this great body of reinforcements is thrown into action?

The 24th of May has lost its old time significance. Coming, as it now does, between Empire day and the king's birthday and so close to both, it can almost be said to be a superfluous holiday, and one that could hereafter be easily dispensed with.

Before bank amalgamations are permitted in Great Britain they must prove that such amalgamations are to the advantage of the public.

Similar legislation would tend to safeguard the interests of the Canadian public. The financial power of this country is fast falling into the hands of a few men in Toronto and Montreal.

Thirty young women this week finished a special course at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph in every kind of farming, and have already been placed on different farms throughout the province.

These girls will do regular men's work, milking cows, cleaning the stables, working with the horses, putting in crops, hoeing, etc.

A few thousand girls trained as these are would be a source of great help on Canadian farms.

THE INDEPENDENCE OF PARLIAMENT.

When W. F. Nickle, member for Kingston, introduced in the house his motion to restrict the conferring of titles in Canada, he probably never dreamed that a premier of this Dominion would stake his political life on the defeat of the measure and of the amendment moved thereto.

Supporters of Union Government were elected for the purpose of vigorously and loyally carrying on the war. On all other measures they were expected to vote—not at the crack of a party whip—but as their consciences dictated.

No travelling permits for pleasure trips will be granted by the Ontario Registrar to any men in Class One under the Military Service Act.

Capt. Roy Brown, Carleton Place, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brown, in the Royal Naval Force in France had the honor of bringing down the celebrated Baron von Richthofen, said to be the best flyer in the world.

The young ladies of Brook street Methodist church entertained the men in khaki Thursday night in the Military Y.M.C.A. rooms.

Major E. A. Seely Smith, general staff officer at No. 11 Military District headquarters, Vancouver, B.C., has reached Ottawa, having been appointed second in command of the Canadian Tank Battalion.

Lieut.-Col. Smart is in Winnipeg attending a court convened to review the findings of a recent court-martial which dealt with a deserter.

A Great Reserve. The Algonquin Park of Ontario is easily accessible by the Grand Trunk railway from all the principal centres.

The Algonquin Park of Ontario is easily accessible by the Grand Trunk railway from all the principal centres. It is about two hundred miles north of Toronto, and may be reached also through Ottawa, being about one hundred and seventy miles west of the Capital city.

"Industrial Canada" realizes the importance and the immensity of the task when it points out that there will be no time for gaining experience after one has entered upon his employment; and that each individual member of the staff should be selected with an eye single to the qualifications he possesses for the work in hand.

The employer who sees to it that his employees are all registered before or upon the day of registration will thereby relieve himself of penalties to which he might otherwise be exposed.

Rippling Rhymes LOOK PLEASANT The news that comes from o'er the seas oft makes my face with fear grow pale, and I can feel my toothless grin, while I peruse the dismal tale. I read how Teutis has pushed a wedge right through the allies, deep and wide, and I exclaim, "It's time to hedge—the tail is going with the hide. Some moons ago I used to scoff at those who said the Teuts would win; but at this hour all bets are off, and here's where hedging must begin." My wife remarks, "Don't talk that way when you are mingling with the bunch; you might dishearten some poor Jay, and make him think we've lost our punch. You know as well as I do, James, your lamentations are a fake; we'll lose, perchance a brace of games—the series we are bound to take. What if our armies sometimes slide, and lose a hill, a tower or town? You know we'll get the Teuton's hide, and nail it deftly to the barn." Thus comforted by my wife, I shut my door, and go kerwhopping down the lane, to make the neighbors feel more gay. Men stand around and sweat and quake when news of evil luck arrives, but there is nothing that can shake the Spartan courage of their wives. Oh, woman, in your hours of rage, you play bridge whist for fun or kale, but when the war flags hit the breeze, you shame the rabbit hearted male. —WALT MASON.
