SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS.
Light is light, whoever holds the candlestick.—E. E. Hale.
The mole would live beneath the ground and Nature closed its eyes.—Henry Drummond.
The whiteness of his soul, and thus Men o'er him wept.—Byron.
"Hit your wagon to a star," but don't forget the axle grease.—Anon.
Make up your mind what you want and then go after it, and keep after it until you get it.—John W. Gates.
Shines the best age, the next with hope is seen.
To-day sinks off unmarked between; Future or past no richer secret holds.
O friends! Present than thy bosom folds.—Emerson.
A healthy body is good; but a soul in right health—it is the thing beyond all others to be prayed for; the wisest thing that earth receives of heaven.—Carlyle.

You Can Sell Your Property to somebody who has been dreaming and planning for a long time to own just such a home—and who has finally reached the "turn in the road" where the goal is in sight.
It will pay you to tell all about your offering—for people who are trying to decide upon what sort of a home to buy are immensely interested in details. They have studied the matter—man and wife has discussed it together many a time, and know a good deal about what they want. Your property may be what they want—but they will not be convinced of the fact if you confine your advertisement to mere generalities.
