Military News

Among those returning here from overseas are Lieut. W. B. Neilson, Hastings and Nursing Sister M. Bliss, Smith's Falls.

Pte. Harry Young, of the C.A.M.C. has been wounded in the leg. Word was received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Young, Lanark. Harry was one of a number of young men who enlisted with Queen's University Field Ambulance Corps in 1916, and, after training at Kingston, was drafted overseas. He has been on duty in France for over a year, and his injuries are a result of the recent bombing of Canadian hospitals.

Lieut. F. C. Cuthbert, of the Royal Military College, has left for overseas to undergo a refresher course of physical and bayonet training, and also to make a study of the schools of instruction both in England and France, so as to enable the R.M.C. to have the very latest military methods in infantry training and physical and bayonet training. He is expected back in the fall.

Sergt. Thomas W. Mackenzie, of the 2nd Howitzer Battery, Royal Canadian Field Artillery, was decorated on the battlefield by Brigadier-General H. C. Thacker, commanding the Royal Artillery, First Canadian Division. On May 1st of this year he was presented with a military medal and received messages of congratulation from Brig.-Gen. H. C. Thacker, Lieut.-Col. J. George Percy, O.C., 1st Brigade, and Major C. M. Fisher, O.C., 2nd Howitzer Battery. He is a son of Sergt. Thomas Mackenzie, Kingston, late of the Seaforth Highlanders.

Pte. John Vincent Morris is reported wounded in the hand. He is a son of the late Edward Morris, Kingston, and made his home with his aunts, Misses A. and M. Morris, 19 Washington avenue, Toronto. He enlisted at the outbreak of the war when only sixteen and finally left Canada in October, 1916.

Lt. W. J. Risley, quartermaster of the Dental Corps, has gone to Ottawa on duty.

Lt. M. J. O'Brien, late of the 253rd has been appointed Lieutenant in the 1st Depot Battalion.

Col. R. J. Gardiner, A.D.M.S., M. D. No. 3, has returned from Ottawa.

Major Cecil Russell, Pembroke, has been awarded the D.S.O. Major Russell, a graduate of the Royal Military College, was stationed with the Royal Canadian Engineers at Halifax and Esquimaux for some years before the outbreak of war. While in the west he enlisted for service in France and went overseas with a pioneer battalion. His father is Collector of Customs at Pembroke.

WEDDING AT BATHURST

Of Miss Madge Truelove to William H. Harrison.

St. Stephen's church Bathurst, was the scene of an interesting event at eleven o'clock Wednesday, June 5th, when Miss Madge Aiena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Truelove, was united in marriage to William Harrison, Sharbot Lake. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Herbert Pringle, L.Th., incumbent of Sharbot Lake, in the presence of a goodly number of relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom. The charming young bride was gowned in ivory duchess satin, with georgette crepe and pearl trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of white rosebuds and maiden hair fern. She wore the customary wedding veil of silk tulle, arranged with coronet and streamers of orange blossoms, and her only ornament was a pearl-set pendant, the gift of the groom. She was attended by Miss Edythe Wilson, Perth, in a gown of pale pink duchess satin, with touches of georgette crepe and rosebud trimmings, and wearing a picture hat to match. William Truelove was groomsmen.

The bride entered the church with her brother, Thomas Truelove, who gave her in marriage, to the strains of Kobb's professional wedding hymn, "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," which was heartily rendered by the congregation. Mrs. James Truelove, jr., sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the organ.

After the signing of the register, guests numbering fifty repaired to the bride's home, which was profusely ornamented for the occasion with flowers and greenery. The dining room tables were artistically decorated with bridal roses and maiden hair fern.

Shortly after luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Harrison left in their auto for Perth, thence by rail to Montreal and other eastern points for an extended honeymoon, the bride traveling in a suit of navy blue gabardine. On their return they will reside in Toronto, where the groom is foreman of the General Bridge and Building Department of the C.P.R. Railway.

The groom's gift to the bride was a monogrammed gold bracelet, to the organist a bracelet set with pearls and amethysts, and to the groomsmen a pearl set the pin and cuff links to match. The large array of presents, including choice china, silver and substantial cheques amply attested the bride's popularity, and hosts of good wishes follow her to her new home.

LATE SOCIAL NOTES.

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell motored from Salamanca, N.Y., and are stopping with Mrs. Bates, Princess Street.

Senator George Taylor, Mrs. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. O. Hennig, Gananoque, are en route to New York by motor car.

Mrs. Wallace Harro and her little daughter, Marjory, left this afternoon for Peterboro to meet her brother, Walter Gerrard, Kerrobert, Sask., who is visiting his mother, Mrs. E. Gerrard, Peterboro, before going overseas.

The widow's might may be the result of practical experience.

The Theatres

At The Grand.
"Mother," the new McClure picture in which Elizabeth Rindon is starred, is a delightful movie treat. It represents this beautiful star in one of the most charming roles in which she has ever appeared. The story deals with a wild young man who causes his mother all kinds of trouble but is finally won over to her by ways known only to mothers. A two-reel O. Henry story, a Lonesome Luke comedy, the Pathe News and other reels, along with the Musical Shirleys, complete the bill which will be shown to-night for the last time. For the first three days of next week the feature picture will be "The Woman Between Friends" and has Alice Joyce as the leading character. She is supported by an all-star cast, including Marc MacDermott, Robert Walker and other Vitagraph favorites. There will also be the Pathe News, a Judge Brown story of exceptional merit, a single reel comedy of the best kind, besides other films. The vaudeville will consist of Roy and Peggy Crane, singing and dancing comedienne, and this much-talked-of act will round out a most attractive bill.

At Griffin's.
An extra large audience viewed the well selected programme shown at Griffin's last evening, and thoroughly enjoyed the brilliant photo-play "For Liberty," starring Gladys Brockwell. This play is quite the greatest of its kind that has ever been presented on the screen. It is a wonderful story of a woman's love set in the midst of war, the scenes taking place in Berlin at the time America declared war. It gives an idea of the terrific conditions that attend war, which no other picture has done. As a clear-cut, thrilling photoplay, it is of the very highest order. To-night this picture will be given a final showing, along with Charlie Chaplin in "His New Job," and the fifth episode of "The Eagle's Eye." See this fine programme this evening.

At the Strand.
For the first three days of next week an exceptionally high class double feature bill will hold the boards at the Strand. Constance Talmadge, who will be remembered for her excellent portrayal of "Scandal," will be seen in her latest screen success, "The Studio Girl." Viola Dana will also be seen in a five act Metro wonderplay "Breakers Ahead," a story of the sea and seafaring people. Comedy and topical reels will also be shown.
