Object to Sunday Baseball.
The English sporting pot is boiling over because American soldiers have introduced Sunday ball in public places. The conservative English sportsman does not like the innovation. Of course ever since the war started there have been ball and soccer games on Sunday around the military camps, but the Yanks have come right out in the open with their ball games with the avowed intention of making the Englishman like the American National game. Sporting writers are recalling the fact that not long ago a U.S. eight-oared crew lost a place in a big Continental cup race by refusing to row a heat on Sunday and that American crews at Henley consistently refused to hold Sunday workouts. This old war is responsible for a lot of things.

Baseball Briefs

It seems strange to see that Detroit club trailing. The pitching is not the best, but with a club so strong in other departments this weakness should not make such a difference.

Miller Huggins says that Joe Fineran was the smartest pitcher in the American Association last season, and he believes that Joe will pitch good ball for the Yankees.

Outfielder Jack Graney is another of the Cleveland cripples who is almost ready to return to duty. When he gets back Joe Wood will draw a vacation or he may be tried out at first base.

Clyde Milan is batting in the clean-up position for the Senators. In other seasons Milan usually batted nearer to the top.

The Tigers have recalled outfielder Flagstead, who was with the team last season and let out this spring to the Southern League.

The punch of the Cleveland club centres around Chapman and Speaker, batting in second and third positions. With these players out of the way the club does not appear very formidable.

Clarence Rowland is trying hard to find two boxmen to replace Faber and Williams, but he has a most difficult task on his hands.

Joe Gedeon has established himself as regular second sacker of the St. Louis Browns. Pete Johns was a rival for the place, but Gedeon won out.

Joe Jackson, who is painting ships at Wilmington, Del., says he will never return to baseball.

Max Carey, of the Pirates, classes with the best centrefielders in baseball.

Jack Hendricks has a likely looking young pitcher in Bill Sherdell, a slightly built southpaw.

Good idea to have star players in the army come back to their clubs now and then when furloughs are granted.

When Bill Killefer, of the Cubs, joins the army Bob O'Farrell will do most of the catching.

Jack Hendricks entered the Polo Grounds last week for the first time since John McGraw released him more than fifteen years ago. Hendricks was a Giant outfielder in those days.

The Washington club is having a slump after making a spurt early in the season which led the fans to believe that Griffith's team was in the fight for the pennant.

Clifford Heathcote, recently returned to the Cardinals by the Houston club of the Texas League, appears to be very weak with the stick.

Harry Gasper, former Cincinnati pitcher, has just retired from baseball after sixteen years of service. His farewell performance as a member of the St. Joseph club was a 1 to 0 victory over Joplin.

Gene Paulette, since the Giants tried him several years ago, has developed into a crack first baseman for St. Louis. He bats from either side of the plate and is very fast on the bases.

It is a peculiar fact that, as a rule, when the Reds make a lot of hits they are beaten, while a majority of their victories are scored on just a few blows.

Kopf of the Athletics established himself as a real speed marvel before leaving to join the colors a few days ago. He was in the fight for base running honors with ten steals.

With Marty Kavanagh in the National League, Nick Altrock now has an undisputed claim as the Adonis of the American League. They were bitter rivals in the matter of pulchritude.

Girl Athlete Beats Boys.
Lenore Aitken, aged fifteen, is the champion athlete of McKeough School, Chatham, this year, and at the annual sports won the James Brackin medal for highest scores. She had 55 points. Max Tyrell had 44 points and Ivy Biddell and Glenn Jackson were even at 33 for third place.
The honor of winning the medal is keenly contested. This is the second time it has been won by a girl.

AutoStrop SAFETY RAZOR

Mechanical Perfection

There are many reasons why the AutoStrop is the ideal aviator's razor, but one stands out more prominently than the others and will instantly appeal to every "knight of the Air", that is, its mechanical perfection.

Every aviator knows and appreciates what mechanical perfection means—his plane must be perfect in every detail to avoid accidents.

His razor must be perfect itself to give complete satisfaction. The AutoStrop is the one razor that will give continuous service without the annoyance of buying new blades, because it is the only razor that sharpens its own blades automatically—the 12 blades you receive with the AutoStrop will give you at least 200 clean, comfortable shaves.

ENCOURAGING SPORT.

It Tends to Make Better Employees of Munition Workers.

Word comes from England that munition-manufacturing firms which promote games among their employees will be repaid out of the excess profits tax for all money so spent, under an order of the Health and Welfare Department of the Ministry of Munitions. Experience has shown that the output of munitions is best at factories where games are played freely by the workers during the spare hours each day. Thousands of women and girls in munition works have taken up football and lawn tennis, and the competition has been keen.

The Same Old Method.

Fred Mitchell is doing with the Chicago Cubs just what he and George Stallings did with the Boston Braves in 1914. He has built a veteran club around a great shortstop, and has three great pitchers working with a great catcher. In 1914 the Braves built around Maranville. Evers, of course, got a lot of credit, but Maranville was the keystone of the club's defence. Just as Maranville was the star of the Braves, so Hollocher, the Chicago shortstop, is the star of the Cubs. He has more than made good all the nice things that were said about him when he came up.

Toronto Takes to Cricket.

England's national game, which owes its popularity to the fact that a man is never too old to play and the young can commence to play as soon as they are "knee high to a grasshopper," is going through a rejuvenation period in Toronto at present. The Toronto and District Cricketers' Association formed last fall, are making a great effort to teach the schoolboys of this city more about the grand old game. King George is reported to have said that the reason the Germans committed so many atrocities was because their "Kultur" failed to teach them to "Play Cricket."

Polo Field for Aviators.

Arrangements have been made by the directors of the Back River Polo Club to convert their grounds on the Bois Franc road, at Back river into an aviation field, for the use of military aviators coming to and leaving Montreal. This was decided during the past few days, following the visit of Lieut. Flaehaire, the noted French airman.

Proving the Rule of Lion Extra Value With Suits at $12.50, $15.50 and $19.00

Lion extra value has grown to be a rule—even a rule needs to be freshly expounded now and then—we're offering these suits to show you what we mean. The value is intense to a pronounced degree. Not one of those values that may make you shrug your shoulders and say "maybe,"—a clean cut super-value that's undeniable. If anything were needed to prove the value efficiency of Lion organization these suits would "turn the trick."

But see them—an ounce of looking is worth a pound of reading—the clothes can tell their story better than we can tell it for them.
