At the Theatres

At The Grand.
Carlyle Blackwell and Evelyn Greely were starred in the new Brady-Made World Picture entitled "His Royal Highness," which was shown at the Grand last evening, and this strikingly entertaining dramatic offering pleased everyone. Mr. Blackwell appeared in the role of Jack Christie, a famous football star who, through a strange set of circumstances, became the king of a small European country. In this position he goes through a great number of exciting experiences and with true Yankee pluck and ingenuity he comes out on top. The production has been lavishly staged, and in one instance a whole village street was constructed for the sole purpose of forming a background for a few of the scenes in the picture. Don't miss "His Royal Highness" because it is the kind of a picture that you will enjoy. It will be repeated again to-night and also on Saturday both matinee and night. The other films on the programme were an O. Henry story, a Lonchome Luke comedy and the Pathé News, along with Gray and Edwards in their novelty musical act that is comical as well as musical.

At Griffin's.
Appearing in a new and novel characterization, William S. Hart, the popular Arcturion star, was seen last evening in his latest production "Selfish Yates," and as usual with the Hart photoplays the picture scored a decisive triumph. This is one of the strongest and most unusual pictures in which Mr. Hart has appeared. The folly of selfishness and the power of innocence and love to transform the natures of men form the basic ideas of the story, and it is dramatic and thrilling in the highest degree. Alma Rewben, renowned motion picture beauty, was also shown in a super production of seven reels entitled, "I Love You." This is in itself a complete entertainment, highly dramatic and of absorbing interest. The usual episode of "The Eagle's Eye" pleased all followers of this serial and completes a worth while programme.

ORANGEMEN AT SYDENHAM.

About Three Hundred Went Out to Join in the Celebration.

Bright sunshine, the beating of drums, and bright yellow regalia of the members of the Orange Order, greeted the Glorious Twelfth of July. About three hundred members from Kingston and district went to Sydenham, where the big celebration was held. The members went out via train, auto and horse vehicles. Quite a number of the outside Orangemen paid a visit to the Orange Hall, Princess street, before going out to Sydenham.

The flags on the city buildings were hoisted in honor of the day.

Presented With Bouquet.

Ex-Ald. Joseph Pitt, Canada's oldest Orangeman, could not let the Glorious Twelfth of July pass by without calling at the Orange Hall. He was there for some time on Friday, and received the congratulations of his host of friends. He was presented with a handsome bouquet of flowers by some of his admirers. He received a special invitation to attend the demonstration at Sydenham, but had to decline.
