$500,000 for Gay Crusader.
I have been told that an offer of $300,000 has been made on behalf of an American speculator for Gay Crusader and declined by A. W. Cox, but cannot vouch for the statement being true. That owner was many times tempted with huge offers for Bayardo, and it may be that his pride in the son is great enough to ignore money where his triple-crowned hero is concerned, though I imagine this would constitute a record offer, the nearest approach to it in my knowledge having been when J. B. Joel refused $400,000 for Sunstar to go to Russia.—"Vigilant" in London Sportsman.

Baseball Briefs

Rube Marquard continues to pitch good ball for the Robins. Now and then he is defeated, but the scores of opposing clubs usually are low.

Heathcote, the former college star, who is making his major league debut with the Cardinals, continues to shine. He is a member of the National League's 300 set.

Southern League players are doing very well in their return to the majors. Most of the players picked up in the south had previous experience in the big leagues.

Eddie Murphy and Fred McMullin of the White Sox are now found in the 300 class of American League hitters, the former with a mark of .312 and the latter with .306.

The United States Second Naval District baseball team has a real major league outfield. The trio consists of Powell, Kelly and Rehg, formerly of the Boston Braves.

The St. Louis Browns are living up to past performances in their work against Walter Johnson. Walter always found the Browns the most troublesome team in the league.

Jim Thorpe is beginning to show that he can hit major league pitching after all. James has a rating of .294 in the latest clubbing statistics. He had a home run that won yesterday's game.

The Chicago White Sox carry plenty of strength, despite the loss of several players of prominence. It would not be surprising to see the Sox jump into the fight for first place in a short time.

The Cubs cannot pick up to big a lead if they are to lose Killifer and Hlocher. They will need quite a lead to hold first place after these stars get away. The Giants beat them yesterday.

Should anything happen to the New League before the first of August the Toronto club would be hard hit. They have taken little money on the road, and are expected to spend the greater part of August at the Island Stadium, when there might be a chance to reap their harvest.

"Bunny" Hearne, the former Toronto pitcher, who was sold to the Boston Braves last fall, is now employed in the Fairbanks-Morse plant at Beloit, Wis. He works during the week and plays baseball on Saturday and Sunday. George Zabel, who quit the Toronto team last year in the middle of the season, is also employed at the Fairbanks-Morse plant at Beloit.

IN SPITE OF HUNS

Sports of All Kinds Thriving in England and Scotland.

Sports of all kinds are thriving in Great Britain despite the air raids of the Huns and the stress of war business. During the soccer season, which recently came to a close in Scotland, the total gate receipts amounted to nearly $50,000, of which the Government tax was a trifle less than $18,000. Some of the games for the championship of the Scottish League drew 100,000 spectators.

Racing is booming and popular as ever, although now confined to Newmarket. On Derby day there were eight races and the victory of Gainsborough in the Blue Riband was a popular triumph for Lady James Douglas, who is the first woman to win the Derby. Her success was all the more pleasing because she is also the breeder of the winner.

Baseball is also taking a great hold on the English people, and in connection with the Fourth of July celebration King George was a prominent figure.

Boyle Born in Woodstock.
The Col. Joseph Boyle, whose exploits in Rumania and Russia are extolled in the cable despatches is a native of Woodstock, and third son of the veteran turfman, Charlie Boyle. "Joe" Boyle was also active on the turf, and was owner of Detective and other good horses. Some years ago he went to the Yukon, and also introduced to that region the famous pugilists, Frank Slavin and Jim Hall. The "popular hero of Rumania" is a big, powerful man, like his father, and well known throughout the Dominion. Canadians everywhere will be proud of his achievement.

Jack Dempsey knocked out Bob Devine at Joplin, Mo., in the first round of a scheduled twelve-round bout.

CULTIVATION OF SPORT.

Has Had Much to Do With Britain's Success in War.

"The sportsman is one of Nature's most complete and elaborate productions," says Dr. Clave Shaw in the current Baily's, in the course of a striking article entitled "Defence of the Sportsman." Dr. Shaw is an eminent physician, who is writing of what he knows when he speaks of the fusion of muscle and mind. He is, among other things, examiner in mental physiology at the University of London and to the Board of Studies, Army Medical Service. A most eminent and everlasting tribute to the value of sport is contained in the sentence: "When we have won this war, it will be acknowledged that our cultivation of sport has had largely to do with it."

The testimony of Dr. Clave Shaw, given above, was endorsed recently from an entirely different quarter, but by an authority equally eminent, General Sir W. Pitt Rivers Campbell, G.O.C., Western Command, speaking at Liverpool, said: "So long as we have sport England will always come out on top." General Pitt Rivers Campbell is not the only distinguished officer who has publicly expressed similar views. These are the men who know of what they speak; with their finger on the national pulse, they are able to diagnose the nation's need.

Right now the best bet in the American League is Boston, with New York a close second.

PLACE HITTING RARE SAYS TYRUS R. COBB

Declares It Is Impossible to Place Hits With Very Much Accuracy.

If there is any secret in place hitting, as any one in baseball. But Cobb admits that it is impossible to place hits with any great degree of accuracy.

This is the opinion of Ty Cobb, who comes as close to real place hitting as any one in baseball. But Cobb admits that it is impossible to place hits with any great degree of accuracy.

"It might be," the coach says, "if every ball delivered by the pitcher cut the plate at a certain pre-determined spot. In fact, when a batter gets one in his 'groove' he is able to place it with pretty fair accuracy."

"But the wise pitcher is keeping the batter guessing—throwing him off his balance—keeping him from getting a toe hold."

"Now, Willie Keeler," the pride of Georgia continued, "perhaps was the best of the so-called place hitters. Keeler combined several things to make this possible."

"He gripped his bat far down toward the middle and poked at the ball, rather than hit at it. His swing was short and naturally more accurate than the longer swings of the average batter."

"He was able to wait until the ball was almost upon him before poking at it. Many of Keeler's hits were poky little flies, just past the infield."

"The delayed swing made it difficult for any pitcher to outguess Keeler. His record of going through a season without striking out is evidence of this."

"The angle at which the bat meets the ball is a determining factor in the ball's ultimate direction."

"If the ball is met squarely in the middle of the swing it will go to centre field, varying a trifle to the right or left, according to whether the batter is right or left handed."

"The left-handed batter hits naturally to right field. The right-handed batter hits naturally to left field. "If the batter meets the ball back of his body, the angle at which the ball is met will send it into opposite fields."

Miles Main quit the Phillies early last week. He told Pat Moran that his arm was bad and that he could not do himself justice. He said he was going to his farm in the middle west, but instead landed with the Lehigh team, of the Steel League, bad arm and all.

Advertising To Be Successful Must Be Backed Up by Value

This is a well-established fact which will be corroborated by every business man who has ever spent money for publicity. You may advertise your head off and get the crowd once, twice or three times, but no successful business can ever be established on mere advertising alone. As one of the large advertising clothing merchants in Kingston, I want you to know that I appreciate this fact, and that no Lion advertisement is ever published that is not well backed up by values within the store. With this fact in mind I have prepared this week some special values in Panama Hats, Caps and Trousers.

We are selling a splendid tweed trench raincoat, guaranteed to turn the water, for $14.00

Youths' first long trouser Trench suits, sizes 33 to 36, in grey and blue pencil stripes, to go $16.50

MEN'S WORKING TROUSERS
This trouser cost $2.25 wholesale, at today's market price. $1.60
Saturday to go at

Boys' Wash Suits, in the middy style and Norfolk, direct from New York at those same low prices.

A visit to this store will convince the most skeptical.

Men's grey working hose to go at less than wholesale 23c price

A REAL SALE OF GENUINE PANAMA HATS

Owing to the backward season and having a very large stock of Panamas we have decided to close these out at a sacrifice, for these are without doubt the finest quality made and the style is the season's latest—no old stock.
