SPARKERS CAUSE TROUBLE

BY FLYING OUT OF SMOKESTACK AT CITY'S INCINERATOR.

Utilities Commission Asked That City Council Take Adequate Steps to Prevent Fires Which Occur From Time to Time—Public Health Committee to Take Up Matter.
 "How to prevent 'sparking' at the city's incinerator."
 This is the problem that Ald. H. W. Newman, chairman of the Public Health Committee, and his colleagues have on their hands. The "sparking" referred to is not of the kind that goes on in the city parks. It was the case all Ald. Newman could do is call on the police to scatter the "love-makers." This particular kind of "sparking" has to do with the big, tall chimneys on the city's incinerator. In spite of the fact that a hood was placed on top of it some time ago, to prevent sparks from coming out and dropping on nearby buildings, a few sparks came out and started a lively blaze on some sheds nearby. The firemen have been called to the vicinity on several occasions, and it is feared that if not taken, a serious fire will occur.
 The matter came before the Civic Utilities Commission, at a meeting held on Monday afternoon, and it was decided that steps must be taken to protect the property adjoining the incinerator, and with this end in view, the commission forwarded a letter to the City Council, asking that body to take adequate steps to prevent fires. This letter was read to the aldermen at the special meeting of the Council on Tuesday night, and Mayor Hughes, who was present at the meeting of the commission, also spoke about the matter. It was decided to have the Public Health Committee take up the matter at once.

It is believed that the bachelor chairman of the Public Health Committee will be able to get after the "sparkers" so that they will not cause any further trouble.
 A suggestion which has been made by Commissioner R. F. Elliott, and which is regarded as a good one, is that an arrester be placed lower down in the smokestack, which would prevent burning rags and papers making their way out of the stack. It is likely that action will be taken to secure the much needed arrester.

QUAKER REFUSED TO DON THE KHAKI
And Was Brought to the "Pen" to Serve Two Years at Hard Labor.

High Chief Constable Benjamin Waterworth, of London, arrived in the city with Pte. Mabley, a Quaker, who was sentenced to two years, at hard labor, in the penitentiary, as a conscientious objector. Pte. Mabley was tried by district court-martial, as a conscientious objector, and his sentence was read out on parade, before the assembled 1st Battalion. His is the first case in Western Ontario of a Quaker objecting to military service. A short time ago another Quaker was permitted to go to the United States, to join a non-combatant Quaker unit there. Mabley would not go into a non-combatant unit, it is alleged, because he might thereby release some other man to undertake combatant service.

MARRIED ON TUESDAY.

Miss Kelso the Bride of William Warner.
 A very pretty but quiet wedding took place on Tuesday morning, when Miss Irene Marion Kelso was united in marriage to William Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myers Warner, Kingston, late of Yarker. The pretty, fair-haired bride was charmingly gowned in white silk crepe de chene with touches of pale pink satin and pearl trimmings, and carried a pale pink bouquet. Her picture hat was also touched with pink. The bride was attended by Miss Bessie Coyle, gowned in sand silk, with hat to match; the groom by the brother of the bride, Albert Kelso. After the ceremony the guests partook of a dainty luncheon served on the lawn. Mr. and Mrs. Warner left on the noon train for Peterboro and points west. The bride travelled in a mauve and white voile dress and Queen Anne hat. The bride received many beautiful and costly presents from friends, showing the high esteem in which she was held. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful pearl brooch, and to the best man a lovely tie pin set with pearls.

COUNCIL PASSED A BY-LAW

ACTING CHIEF NESBITT TO PROSECUTE IN LIQUOR CASES.

Further Information to Be Secured Before By-law on Agreement Covering New Bathing House Is Passed at Special Meeting Tuesday Night.
 At a special meeting of the City Council, held on Tuesday night, a by-law was passed, appointing the acting chief of police, Robert Nesbitt, to act as inspector for the city, in lodging the complaints coming under the Ontario Temperance Act. The Act calls upon the city to appoint an inspector to lodge these charges. There was a by-law to this effect, but it passed out of existence with the death of the late Chief William Baillie. There has to be a by-law of this character, in order that the fines imposed in cases laid by the police can be handed over to the city. Otherwise, the money would find its way into the provincial treasury.

The by-law to ratify the agreement between the city and the trustees of the new bathing house at Macdonald Park, donated by the late Capt. George T. Richardson, came up, but the passing of it was delayed until more information has been secured, as regards the city's position in the matter. The delay in passing the by-law does not, by any means, show any opposition on the part of the City Council, to oppose the bathing house, but merely to have a definite understanding as to the part the city is to play in the undertaking. For instance, the question was raised as to whether the city, which is called upon to expend at least $800 per year, in the maintenance and care of the bathing house, is to be given possession of the building; whether or not it is to be regarded as city property. It is desired to have these matters cleared up before the by-law is finally passed, and it was for this reason that it was decided, on motion of Ald. Newman, to have Mayor Hughes and the City Clerk, secure all the desired information. There is no need for the rushing through of the by-law.
 Mayor Hughes presided at the meeting, and the other members present were Alds. Armstrong, Black, Couper, Clugston, Corbett, Kent, Cymbal, O'Connor, Simmonds, N. A. Smith, White, Wright, Hewitt, Anglin, Millan and Peters.

A CO-OPERATIVE PLAN.

Labour Men Are Considering Purchase of Goods.
 At a meeting of the executive committee of the Trades and Labor Council called to consider the subject of co-operation, a communication was read from George Keen, organizer of the Co-operation Union of Canada, outlining the objects of the union and telling of the progress made in other centres.
 The members of the local Labor Union are anxious to adopt some practical means to deal with the high cost of living and feel that the solution of the problem lies with themselves. A committee was appointed and a fund provided by subscriptions to defray the expense of a mass meeting. Organizer Kerr states that the labor union men, whose families constitute the great body of consumers, simply must organize and co-operate in purchasing the essential articles of consumption in order not only to get through the trying days of the war but also to secure to each other the maximum of comfort their purchasing power is capable of. Profits are not looked for. Mr. Keen will come to Kingston at an early date.

SOLDIERS GIVEN TREAT.

Returned Men in Hospitals Had a Trip to Collins Bay.
 Through the kindness of Charles Webster in lending his motor boat, "The Sea" (otherwise Herbert Asquith), a party of twenty-five returned soldiers from the military hospitals were given the pleasure of a round trip to Collins Bay and Wolfe Island on Tuesday evening. Major Starr in command. Opinions of sceptics to the contrary notwithstanding, the trip was made without adventure. The presence of Mr. Webster having brought such evident good luck, it is suggested that he act as advocatus diaboli for the ill-fated "M.A.D."
 To-day Dean Starr took twenty of the men in Queen's Military Hospital to Amherst Island to attend a Red Cross picnic.
