CONCERT AT BARRIEFIELD

BOYS AT THE CAMP HAD SPLENDID TIME WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

A Number of Kingston People Took Part in the Programme, Which Was of a Very High Merit—Last Concert For Many of the Soldiers.

What was perhaps the last concert for many of the men in camp, was given Wednesday night, at the big "Y" tent at Barriefield, by members of the Amundale Chapter of the I.O.G.D.E., and considering the excellency of talent presented, it is a certainty that the boys will carry with them pleasant memories of camp concerts in Canada. The huge "Y" tent was crowded and each of the ten numbers on the programme received ringing applause, encores being numerous.

Before the regular programme was started, a merry "sing-song" was indulged in, under the able direction of Capt. J. K. Fairfull, the chairman for the evening, and as one of the guests from the city put it, "It was worth coming miles to hear the boys sing and to watch their happy carefree faces."

Mrs. Bearcroft made a decided hit with the boys, her singing being especially good, and her encore numbers provided a real treat.

Miss Polly, who is always warmly welcome at "Y" concerts, brought the house down with a matchy rendering of "Kitty," the boys demanding more and more, and joining in the chorus. "Kitty" will surely be sung and whistled by the boys when overseas.

Master O'Connor, the lively little chap, who is a great favorite with the men, was again in the limelight with his solo singing. The singing of Miss Foster was of very high order, which immediately took the soldiers, she being encored to the echo, and on popular demand, she sang the "extra" of the evening.

Prof. Klugh, gave a banjo and singing selection of southern songs, which caught the popular fancy. Miss Ewell has a delightfully sweet voice, she being enthusiastically received.

A masterly violin selection, given by Master Fair, received deserving applause. Mr. Pettigrew sang a catchy comic song, which took well, and, on demand, came back with a much appreciated encore.

Special mention should be made of Miss Nesbitt, who was accompanist for the evening. Her masterly playing was in no small way responsible for the splendid success of the evening.

Rev. J. J. Ross, D.D., of Chicago, who will give a series of lectures in connection with the "Y" work at camp, was introduced by the chairman, and gave a five-minute talk, which was greatly enjoyed.

In closing Capt. J. K. Fairfull talked to the men, and in an earnest and inspiring style, gave some advice that will prove valuable to them when they arrive overseas.

Capt. Fairfull made a great impression with the men, and, on their own initiative, they arose and gave him three hearty cheers.

The evening's entertainment closed at the first sound of "Last Post," with hearty singing by the men of "The King."

TRIP THROUGH HOLY LAND.

Rev. J. J. Ross, D.D., Giving Series of Lectures For Military Y.M.C.A.

Rev. J. J. Ross, D.D., of Chicago, who will give a series of lectures here for the next week, in connection with the Military "Y" work, will talk to the men. To-night he will give an illustrated lecture in the big "Y" marquee entitled "Things Seen in Egypt." This is a most unusual lecture, and the slides shown are from actual photos taken by Dr. Ross in a recent trip through this most interesting country. Saturday evening, Dr. Ross will give an illustrated lecture to the men, showing what he saw in his trip through the Holy Land. In this splendid lecture many incidents of the great world war, as it is being fought in the Holy Land, are aptly depicted.

LIVED IN KINGSTON.

Charles Cetewayo Claimed to be Son of Zulu Chieftain.

Charles Cetewayo, who, as announced in the Whig on Wednesday, died at Brockville on Tuesday, lived in Kingston for some time, being engaged as a mining expert, and was well-known to many Kingston people. He boarded on Ontario Street. He claimed to be a prince of royal Zulu blood, the son of the late King Cetewayo, of Zululand, and the protégé of Queen Victoria. He was engaged in investigating mining properties near Westport. He was about sixty years old. Deceased served in the South African war, was wounded and received a pension for his service.

Did Not Reach Decision.

A mass meeting of the G.W.V.A. was held Wednesday evening to consider the report of the "Over the Top" committee. Much information was presented and invitations to visit a number of American cities were reached. No definite conclusions were reached, however, respecting a tour of the American cities by the company, owing to the presence of a number of matters requiring further consideration.

HEAT CLAIMED VICTIM

MRS. IRA REYNOLDS EXPIRED ON THURSDAY MORNING.

She Fell Into the Arms of Mrs. Charles Forte in Flat on the Corner of Wellington and Princess Streets.

The excessive heat claimed its first victim on Thursday morning when Mrs. Ira Reynolds expired in the third floor of the building at the corner of Wellington and Princess streets, where the C.P.R. ticket office is situated, and above Dr. S.A. Ackroyd's office.

Several days ago she came to live with the two other residents of the flat, Mrs. Charles Forte and Miss Marie Prive, who stated that she had subject to recurring attacks from her heart. They stated that about eleven o'clock she had begun to dress, when the oppressiveness of the atmosphere proved too much and she called for help.

Just as Mrs. Forte reached her she cried out, "Oh, I'm dying! I'm gone!" She fell into Mrs. Forte's arms unconscious, and had to be removed to a sofa. Corbett's ambulance was summoned and the remains were taken to the morgue for preparation for burial. Dr. Mundell, coroner, viewed the body and pronounced death due to heart failure.

The late Mrs. Reynolds was about thirty-seven years of age and was a native of Odessa. She had been residing in Kingston for the past three years and both Mrs. Forte and Miss Prive remarked that she was a very kind and genial woman with whom to live. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Henry Hopkins, Oshawa, and Miss Jennie Kingston, and one son, Giddie, Kingston.

Mrs. Street, who suffered quite serious injury in a recent automobile accident is progressing favorably. The wound to the arm and the one on the head necessitated a number of stitches. One of the boys was rendered unconscious but has made a good recovery.
