OBITUARY

Late Mrs. Erwin, Sharbot Lake.

The death of Mrs. Erwin, wife of James Erwin, Sharbot Lake, occurred on Monday. She had been in failing health for the last two years from paralysis. She leaves to mourn the loss of a kind, loving wife and mother her husband and two sons, Archie and Edgar, of Sharbot Lake. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon from the Methodist Church, and was attended by a large concourse of people. The service was conducted by Rev. C. Mills, who preached an appropriate sermon from the text "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints." Reference was made to the 40 years of service for the Methodist Church, and the tributes, consisting of wreaths from family and friends, Ladies' Aid and Sunday school, were very beautiful. The bearers were her four brothers, John, Peter, Archie and Robert Gray, and J. McConnell and R. Munroe, brothers-in-law. The casket was borne by H. Thompson. The body was laid to rest in Maberly cemetery.

The Studio Twilight Concert.

Shortly after 7 p.m. on Tuesday, with the studio and hall full of eager listeners and Prof. Brenner seated at the piano, the rich musical treat commenced, and for nearly two hours held an audience delightedly that extended to the balconies and door-steps across the way. Some passages from Rossini's Semiramide (which the gifted artist has so wonderfully transposed to suit the pipe organ) were included in a varied and appropriate selection of instrumental pieces, also several fine songs, "The Deathless Army" being particularly liked, also a comic song of Romance. Mrs. Brown's three original songs were well received. The "twilight concert" is to be repeated by request soon.

RELIEVE FROM PUNISHMENT

All Deserters, Etc. Who Report by 24th August.

Information has been received from Ottawa by the G. O. C. M. D. No. 3, to the effect that a special Gazette would issue Friday night containing a proclamation relieving from punishment, but not from arrest or duty, all men who have failed to report deserters and absentees under the Military Service Act, provided they report to-day for duty by August 24th, 1918.

It is hoped that all defaulters, absentees and deserters will take advantage of the act of clemency on the part of the King. By so doing they will relieve themselves of the very heavy penalties imposed by court-martial for these offences. Men drafted under the M. S. A. should realize that they are on active service. For desertion a court-martial may impose a death sentence or imprisonment for life. Absentees without leave is also a grave offence, and may involve a long term of penal servitude.

"LEST WE FORGET."

The Grand Opera House was besieged Friday evening by throngs of people anxious to see the great historic play, "Lest We Forget." Hundreds could not secure a seat in the galleries and were turned away.

"Lest We Forget" is a truly wonderful picture. Rita Jovillet, a beautiful French actress, and her love affair with a young American form the centre of the scene. Baron von Bergen, a German intriguer, is an admirer of Rita's and he is shown in Paris, before war was declared, directing the spy system. Rita volunteers to operate the telegraph for the French commander and she is engaged at the key when Uhlans appear and she is taken prisoner and sentenced to be shot. She is led to a secluded spot by a firing party of Huns and the officer is about to give the command to fire when he is interrupted and ordered to take his prisoner before his superior, who desires to use her services as a dispatch carrier. She, however, refuses to drink the health of the Kaiser or send their despatches and ultimately makes her escape to Holland. Here she enters into an engagement with a New York theatre and sails for America. Baron von Bergen also comes to New York and tries to persuade her to go to her lover Harry. When he finds that she has taken passage for Europe on the Lusitania he warns her that the ship is to be sunk by orders from Germany. Again, as in Paris, his residence here is the centre of the German spy system. He is shown taking a secret elevator to his wireless station, where he sends the fatal order to the waiting submarine in the Atlantic telling of sailing of the Lusitania and where she is to be sunk. The pictures of the submarine, its attack on the monster ship, the panic among the passengers and the sinking of the vessel are all vividly shown. Rita is rescued and reaches England.

Saturday's Market.

The market on Saturday morning was the largest of the season, with dairy quantities of produce offered. Dairy prices continued high, but vegetables were down considerably. During the early part of the morning potatoes were as low as 25c a peck and 90c a bushel later prevailed. Berries continued high, raspberries ranging from 25c to 35c a box, and blueberries at 25c a quart. There was also some corn on the market, with prices from 30c to 40c a dozen. The bountiful corn crop should lower the price very considerably in the next few weeks.

A CO-OPERATIVE STORE

Will Be Opened by Labor Men of Kingston.

In the City Hall on Friday evening George Keene, of Brantford presented a picture of the various successes made in co-operative distribution of the various commodities of life. At the conclusion of the meeting, on motion of Charles Duberry, it was decided that a co-operative store, to be operated by the Kingston Co-operative Society, in conjunction with the Co-operative Union of Canada, would be opened in the city. The following board of directors were elected at the meeting: T. Morris, T. Disney, W. Foster, William Halliday, Charles Duberry, Edward Hill, James Ward, Hugh Ferguson, Richard East, Joseph Gott, Mrs. T. Jones and Mrs. E. Hill.

In opening his address the speaker pointed out the innumerable miseries that resulted from the free play of competition. An historical resume was given of the growth and development of the co-operative movement from the middle half of the eighteenth century, through the period of the industrial revolution up to the time of the Rosedale experiment, upon which special emphasis was laid.

Bringing the statements of the successes in other places to a practical bearing upon the situation in Kingston, Mr. Keene stated that in this city there were seventy-eight grocery stores serving 21,000 inhabitants, while under the co-operative system only nine stores would be needed, and the profits would be returned to the workingmen who invested in the share capital of the co-operative enterprise.

Referring to an interview in Friday's Whig with E. C. Compton, representative of the Department of Labor, who was in the city, and who stated that as a general rule co-operative stores were not successful, Mr. Keene stated that he had no reason to deprecate Mr. Compton's ability as a fair wage officer, but that he believed that he was not an authority on co-operation, and that his knowledge of the subject was limited. He instanced a number of stores throughout Canada, and especially that in Sydney Mines, N.S., where twelve cents was being paid every three months on every dollar invested by the working man, thus reducing substantially the cost of living.

The speaker expressed the opinion that he believed that about $2,500 should be subscribed for the inauguration of a successful store in Kingston, and stated that with the spirit of co-operation marking the endeavor the local enterprise could not fail.

William Foster, president of the Machinists' Union, was chairman.

Boy Caused Fire.
