Blue Satin Dress in Eton Style.

size requires 5 yards 40-inch satin, with 3/4 yard 34-inch lining for the underbody.

The Eton is removable and fastens in surplice style. If desired, the front may be finished in open effect.

To properly cut the dress the material must be divided into three distinct parts, as shown in the guide.

The first piece, section and-eton and front are cut from an open width of material, doubled so that both sections will be cut in duplicate.

Now, fold enough of the satin in half to accommodate the front and back gorges, the collar, eon back and girdle.

To cut the underbody, fold the lining in half, placing the back with the center of the material and turn over each edge so that the selvage will meet in the center as shown in the guide.

Canada's production of wool for 1917 will show a considerable increase over that of last year.
