We have that the extreme pleasure of the stantial and noticities. never be connected with one exactly like the Leafs of this year.

There were days when we banged it into Howley, but at the time we felt that we were perfectly justified in doing so. However, that does not make our good wishes one whit less than they would have been had we boosted him off the map all season, and, any way, why boost when you really and truly think that you should rap?

Once more Toronto is the home of the International League pennant, and this season the citizens may attribute the win to the hard work of the various players. In saying good-bye to the boys we also wish them all the gool luck in the world and when this war is over and the Germans are licked to a frazzle we trust that every player in the gang will once more be back in the game. In the meantime, than the Boston Red Sox as regards the infield departments of the team, the difference is easily made up when comparing the outfields. Here the Red Sox have the advantage. And that in spite of the fact that Amos Strunk, a natural .300 hitter, has only batted .249 this season.

The four outfields that the Cubs will use in the big series are Paskert, Mann, Flack and Barber. The Red Sox will oppose them with Hooper, Ruth, Strunk and Whiteman.

Just glancing at the names of these players, the average fan would without hesitation pick the Red Sox outfield as the stronger. Strunk, Hoop-er and Ruth, he would say, outclass Paskert, Mann and Flack. Barber and Whiteman do not figure much.
