THE VOICE OF THE PULPIT

MOTORING ON THE SABBATH DAY IS DENOUNCED.

By Rev. D. W. Snider, Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, who preached in Sydenham Street Church. Speaking in Sydenham Street Methodist church on Sunday morning, Rev. D. W. Snider, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, outlined the principles for which that organization was starting and also reviewed briefly the work that was being accomplished. Mr. Snider denounced many of the acts that are being done on the Sabbath which are contrary, he said, to the provision that the Lord's Day should be a day of rest. He deprecated the idea that it is necessary for the successful conduct of the war to manufacture munition on Sunday, and pointed out the increased efficiency that was obtained in England by six-day work. Sabbath motoring also came in for some trenchant remarks and the speaker hoped that here in the United States, joyriding on Sunday would not be permitted.

Queen Street Methodist. Rev. J. D. Ellis, in Queen Street Methodist church, on Sunday morning, preached a sermon on "Connectional Obligations," showing the relation of one church to another and the connexional, rather than the independent, spirit pertaining to the Methodist body. He especially asked for support of the superannuation fund, a fund which maintained the ministers when they were retired from active work. Methodist ministers had no choice of appointment. They went where sent and accepted such salary as was provided by the people to whom they ministered. The mission and sustentation funds, however, were utilized as far as possible to bring the salaries up to a minimum amount.

The anniversary services of Queen street church will be held on Sept. 29th, with Rev. S. G. Blain, D.D., as special preacher.

At St. George's Cathedral. Dean Starr preached a beautiful sermon at the eleven o'clock service in St. George's on Sunday. His subject was reconstruction after the war and the great opportunities it will offer for the fullest exercise of Christian principles and virtues. He laid particular emphasis upon the great importance of charity and kindness in human relationships, the results of which might be likened to a fountain in a mountain which overflows forming a stream down through the hills causing vegetation to flourish, flowers and fruit to grow and the birds to sing. He referred to international relationships after the war and predicted that the practice of Christianity would pave the way for better understanding.

RESTRICTION ON GASOLINE

SEVERAL SERVICE STATIONS CLOSED SUNDAY IN KINGSTON.

It is Believed That From 2,000 to 3,000 Gallons Will be Saved if an Order is Issued—Regulations are Expected.

Kingston had its first experience of restriction on the sale of gasoline on Sunday. At a number of garages, besides the service stations of the Canadian Oil Company and the Imperial Oil Company, gasoline was not sold during the day in order that the present supply may be conserved. Following the advice regarding the serious inadequacy of the gasoline supply, which were issued by the United States Fuel Administration, local dealers were induced to follow the instruction, though no official word was received from the Canadian Fuel Administration. Over in the United States motor car owners were asked to patriotically obey the instructions of the department requesting the abolition of driving for pleasure on Sunday. Orders were received from the head office of the Canadian and Imperial Oil Companies curtailing the sale of gasoline here on Sunday, and Kingston motorists who did not know of the order could secure the necessary liquid at only a few garages.

It is expected that very shortly an order will be issued by the Canadian Fuel Administration abolishing Sunday joy riding for the rest of the season. Only motor trucks and cars which are absolutely necessary will be permitted on the highways and special facilities for providing gasoline for them will likely be provided. It is estimated by one of the local gasoline dealers who has been in the business for years that about two thousand gallons will be saved each Sunday in Kingston. Other dealers estimate it as high as three thousand gallons, which will mean a loss to local dealers of from $740 to $1,110 on their sales each Sunday. One business firm states that they sold three hundred gallons on each bright Sunday, and as there are nine garages, some selling more and some selling less, it is believed that between two thousand and two thousand five hundred gallons will be saved in the city.

One dealer stated that eventually the order will be issued to conserve the present supply of gasoline and to ensure the storing of an adequate reserve to meet the extraordinary demands of war. Of course, persons may secure their gasoline on Saturday, but once the order is issued it will be counted unpatric to motor, and this will be a powerful deterrent.

R.C.H.A. FELL DOWN IN SATURDAY'S GAME

The Unlucky Thirteen Said to Have Brought About Their Defeat.

After showing up as an aggressive and well-balanced aggregation at the Labor Day celebration the baseball nine of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery absolutely fell down at the game on Saturday afternoon played against the Red Sox. It was the most spectacular exhibition of flagrant errors ever played on a local ball field, and there was not a vestige of team work on the soldiers' part. How they managed to revert from their excellent showing on Labor Day to the mess they concocted on Saturday is a mystery. Thirteen errors were chalked up against them by the scorer, but several were allowed to pass by so numerous were the mishaps. The final score was 13 to 1 in favor of the Red Sox, and adherence of the soldiers stated that the unlucky number was the cause of their defeat, inasmuch as thirteen runs and thirteen hits were registered by the Red Sox and thirteen errors by the battery.

DRY ISLAND VALUABLE

For Convalescent Hospital—Offered To the Government.

Brig.-Gen. Hemming, C.M.G., and Lieut.-Col. R. G. Gardiner, A.D.M.S., have returned from a visit to the island residence of J. W. Corrigan at Dry Island, and report that it will be of great value as a convalescent hospital. J. W. Corrigan is a New York millionaire, and offered his beautiful residence to the Canadian Government for hospital purposes. Dry Island is situated in the St. Lawrence river just opposite Morrisburg. The residence is a very large one, and so expense was spared in fitting and furnishing it. There are a splendid wharf and two large steam yachts.

No decision has been made yet respecting its acceptance by the Government but in view of the need for hospital accommodation and large capacity of the residence, the offer of Mr. Corrigan is a valuable one.

Shows Great Falling Off

There has been a marked falling off in the number of cases of drunkenness before the police magistrate. Over the week-end there was but one case. In the days before the "dry" law came into effect it was very seldom that a Monday passed by without a half dozen or so tipplers being arraigned before the magistrate.

DISTRICT MEETING.

R. F. Greenlees Was Appointed Statistical Secretary on Monday.

Practically all the Methodist ministers of the district answered the roll call at the financial session which opened in Queen Street Methodist Church on Monday morning. There was also a large representation of Methodist laymen to take part in the discussions.

A review of the work in the district since the last meeting was given, and R. F. Greenlees was appointed statistical secretary. Arrangements were made for missionary, educational, social service and evangelistic campaigns at the various centres in the district. Following a report from H. E. Curry regarding the sustentation fund, a resolution heartily endorsing his endeavor was passed. Rev. D. W. Snider, representing the Lord's Day Alliance, also made a few remarks respecting the accomplishments of that organization.
