Kingston's Famous Fur Store.

At Low Prices

Furs are not dear this season. We would say unhesitatingly that they have not advanced as much as other merchandise. We know there is a widespread impression that furs can no longer be sold at popular prices. They can be—we sell them—come and look with no obligation to buy. Don't be misled by out of town advertisers whose prices are far higher than they should be. Take a look at one of our big show windows, filled with furs at reasonable prices within reach of everybody.

OBITUARY

Late Mrs. William Duffy.

On Friday evening the death occurred in the Hotel Dieu of Mary Elizabeth Hanley, wife of William Duffy, William street. The deceased was a native of Kingston, having been born here sixty-eight years ago, and was a resident of the city all her life. For the past two years she was in poor health and latterly has been confined to the Hotel Dieu. The late Mrs. Duffy was a Roman Catholic in religion and closely identified with the activities of her church. Besides her husband, the deceased is survived by two sons, Thomas A. Duffy, of Kingston, and John Vincent Duffy, of New York, and two daughters, Sister Duffy, of the local Hotel Dieu, and Sister Duffy, of the Hotel Dieu in Cornwall.

These Enjoy the Whig.

J. A. McKay, of Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, writes: 'Enclosed please find cheque. We are always looking for your valuable paper from dear old Kingston. Kind regards to all our friends.'

Mrs. Elizabeth Cramand, Elkton, Mich., writes: 'Enclosed is my subscription price. I enjoy your paper very much, and would not like to do without it. I am a Canadian, eighty-two years of age, and used to live in Kingston.'

Great Clearing Sale.

Prevost, Brock street, has made a great reduction in ready-made clothing and gente' furnishings. His order clothing department is still well assorted. This sale is to make room for fall and winter importation.
