EGG EXHIBIT AT FAIR

To be Shown by Department of Agriculture. A very interesting and attractive exhibit is staged at the Kingston exhibition, specially prepared by the live stock branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture under the supervision of the poultry division. This exhibit is entirely new and presents a somewhat different phase of the marketing end of the poultry industry to that presented last year.

The main feature in evidence is co-operation in marketing. There are three large panels illustrating the marketing methods followed in Egypt, Denmark and Prince Edward Island. In the Egyptian scene the "open market," where the producer sells directly to the consumer, an ideal system of marketing is shown. It is one that is practiced here, worked over by those producers who are fortunate enough to be located close to a market. Co-operation, however, brings to the producer who is a long way from his market, and who may be beset by keen competition in marketing all the advantages of the open market. Denmark is illustrated because that country may be rightly called "the home of co-operation."

The necessity for intensive farming operations, keen competition and the necessity for exporting a large part of their agricultural products to Great Britain has resulted in making the people of Denmark strong advocates of co-operative marketing and, incidentally, one of the richest nations in Europe. Her people are happy and contented and her agricultural products have an enviable reputation on the markets of the world.

During the past five years the Dominion Department of Agriculture, through the live stock branch, has been instrumental in conjunction with the provincial department, in perfecting on Prince Edward Island a system of co-operative marketing that has entitled that province to be called the "Denmark of Canada." A large panel is devoted to Prince Edward Island, and by means of small white electric lights the location is indicated of the 51 egg circles which are now operating and known collectively as the Prince Edward Island Co-operative Egg and Poultry Marketing Association. During 1916 this association, comprising 3,000 members, sold nearly one million dozen eggs and twenty-five tons of poultry at a gross turnover of a quarter of a million dollars.

The system followed in collecting eggs in any particular community, delivering to the local station, shipping to the Central Canning plant at Charlottetown, and from there to the dock for transportation by water to our large Canadian markets is illustrated by means of models.

At the front of the exhibit the standards for eggs, "specials," "extras," "No. 1's," and "No. 2's" are illustrated by electrical means so that the effect resulting is the same as that seen in the actual candling of an egg.

MAIL CLERK INJURED AT OUTER STATION

When Theatrical Baggage Car Was Attached to West-bound Train.

Two cars were partially wrecked and two employees of the mail service were injured at the Outer G.T.R. Depot on Sunday, about midnight, as a result of a poor connection made between the cars. The baggage car with the equipment for "The Daughter of the Sun" Company, which played in Kingston on Saturday, was attached to train No. 19, bound west, to be transferred for Peterboro. Apparently the brakeman had not taken precautions to make a sure connection, with the result that when the brakes were applied they failed to check the course of the baggage car and it crashed into a mail car, injuring two employees.

J. Cain, Toronto, superintendent of the mail service, was thrown to the floor by the impact and suffered severely from shock and bruises about the hips. A French mail clerk from Montreal was also injured and seven stitches were necessary to close a nasty gash over his eye. Dr. Hanley was summoned from the city shortly after the accident occurred and the attending to the injured men, who were taken to their homes on the next trains.

The canteen at Barriefield Camp conducted by the N.C.O.'s of the school, has been robbed on two or three occasions, but efforts to apprehend the culprit were unsuccessful until Sunday, when Sergt. This included 200 packages of cigarettes, candy, matches and cash taken from the cash box, which had been broken open and thrown over a fence. Sergt. Clay is one of the instructors of the N.C.O.'s school, and is on the strength of the 3rd Battalion, C.G.R. The case will be the subject for a Court of Inquiry.

SHORTAGE IN GRAIN CARGO.

Members of Crew Suspended and Investigation Being Made. Although no official information has been given out, it is learned that members of the crew of a vessel sailing between Kingston and Montreal have been suspended from their position on account of a shortage in their grain cargo.

An investigation is being made, and it is understood that charges will be laid. From the information at hand it appears the suspension came as a result of the work of Government detectives, who have been on the job for some time, following a report made about a shortage in grain cargoes shipped to Montreal.
