LIEUT.-COL. R. CROCKER

ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE KINGSTON G. V. V. A.

A Secretary Not Yet Chosen - The New President Served in France With the Canadian Artillery.

A strong executive was elected at Monday night's meeting of the Great War Veterans' Association. The general satisfaction is expected on every hand. The retiring officials had practically been the organizers of the Kingston branch, and to their energy and ability may be attributed its numerical strength and the high place it occupies in public esteem.

The new officials were elected by acclamation. They are as follows: Honorary president, Brig.-Gen. J. S. Maunsell; honorary vice-president, Principal Bruce Taylor of Queen's University; president, Lieut.-Col. R. Crocker; first vice-president, C. W. Topping; second vice-president, C. W. Bowker; honorary treasurer, Comrade Connor; members of the executive committee, Comrades Sergt.-Major A. T. Tugwood, Sergt.-Major J. E. Allen, F. J. Pollitt, Captain McCulley.

The position of secretary made vacant by the retirement of Lieut. W. Topping will be filled by Lieut. F. W. Smith, who has acted as assistant secretary during the past five or six months pending the action of the new executive. Lieut. Dyte was elected sergeant-at-arms.

The new president, Lieut.-Col. Crocker, upon assuming the chair, gave a brief address, in which he expressed his intense interest in the welfare of the association. He regretted that there were two veterans' associations in Kingston, thus causing a breach between the returned soldiers, and hoped that if a union of the two bodies could not be effected, they might come to work together in harmony.

The honorary vice-president, Dr. Bruce Taylor, was called upon for a speech, and responded in his usual manner. He referred to the Dominion Convention held at Toronto, at which he was a delegate, and expressed his confidence that despite some unfavorable reports that had been made, he had great hopes in the future of the G. V. V. A.

The president appointed C. W. Topping chairman of the entertainment committee, Lieut. Bailey chairman of the complaints committee, and Comrade Spargo chairman of the membership committee.

TWO KINGSTON OFFICERS GOING TO SIBERIA

Capt. J. H. Box, M.C., and Lieut. Hendry Connell Have Been Selected.

Announcement is made of the selection of Capt. J. H. Box, M.C., and Lieut. Hendry Connell from this division as members of the medical staff to go with the Siberian expedition. Capt. He will be attached to the stationary hospital.

Capt. Box in addition was in field ambulance service in Macedonia with a British regiment, spending a year or more on the borders of Bulgaria, and there he met with malarial conditions. He has lately been attached to the field ambulance at Barriefield camp. Capt. Box is a Queen's graduate, and was one of the champion football and hockey players.

Lieut. Connell will be in charge of the laboratory department. He is a son of Lieut.-Col. J. C. Connell, of this city.

Not only is the model of great value in teaching soldiers trench construction, but it is of very great interest to every person following the progress of the fighting. The ground work of the model is built up from sand, and the wire entanglements, behind them being the front line trenches equipped just as they are in France and Belgium. Then the communication trenches, from the support line in the rear are indicated, and dugouts fitted to the company. Every detail is faithfully carried out.

At the Theatres

At the Grand. "The Little Runaway," the Vitagraph five-reel feature that was shown at the Grand last evening, was an entrancing love story of a little Irish lass who made her way all alone to America to get back some money that had been stolen from her in Ireland. Gladys Leslie, petite and irrepressible, with her "million dollar smile," remembered especially for her work in "The Wooing of Princess Pat," was again ideally cast as the Irish lass, and Edward Earle, one of the photoplays most finished and popular men, had the part of the lord of the village. This picture was a whimsical love drama of sunshine and happy romance, and Miss Leslie romped through her role with the charm and vivacity of a sylph. Don't miss this film when it will be shown again at the Grand to-night and also to-morrow, both matinee and night, along with the other films on the bill, which were the Pathe News, an O. Henry story and a screamingly funny comedy, besides Zareff and Elva in their exceptionally novel vaudeville act that drew rounds of applause last night, and will no doubt do the same for the rest of their stay in Kingston.

"Daddy Long-Legs."

Jean Webster's delightful romance, "Daddy Long-Legs," as romanced to the stage by Henry Miller, will dispense good cheer at the Grand Opera House on Thursday, Sept. 19th. The story of the modern Cinderella, who finds herself, through the magic of a rather crusty bachelor of means, lifted from the drab existence of a slavey in an orphanage and packed off to a select school, where she has everything a young woman could wish for, blossoms into radiant womanhood, and, unconsciously lays siege to the heart of her unknown benefactor is a tale that has found favor with over a million theatre-goers. The company that Mr. Miller is sending here is an excellent one, and is composed largely of those who have played in the piece during several of its successful seasons. Edna Walton, who will be seen as "Judy," the heroine of the story, has played the role for two seasons. Robert Phillips, who has the role of Jervis Pendleton, the "Daddy Long-Legs" of the story, is an actor who served his apprenticeship in the famous Castle Square Theatre, Boston, Stock Company.

At Griffin's.

Charles Ray, well loved screen star of many popular photoplays, was seen at this theatre last evening in his very newest picture, "The Hired Man," which proved delightfully entertaining to the audience and evoked much applause. This is the sort of picture that made Mr. Ray one of the favorite stars of the day, a typical red-blooded characterization, full of pep, inspiration and surprises. Seldom in the history of motion picture photography has so startlingly vivid a reproduction of a fire scene occurred as in "The Hired Man." Charles Ray as the farm hand performs deeds of real heroism, having been actually quite severely burned during the filming of these scenes. Another very attractive feature of our programme is Gail Kane, in "A Game of Wits," a charming and appealing story is told in this picture in an artistic manner by this talented star. Don't miss it. William Duncan, in "A Fight for Millions," lends the right touch of variety to an altogether delightful programme, which will be repeated to-night and to-morrow.

Mrs. Kip Weds Again.

The marriage took place in the First Congregational Church, Kingston, on Tuesday last, of Mrs. Katharine Flower Kip, of South Orange, N.J., to Dr. Melford Runyon, superintendent of the Kip Convalescent Hospital at Leek Island, below Gananoque. The ceremony was performed by Dr. A. W. Richardson, of this city, formerly pastor of the First Church. Dean Starr entertained the wedding party at breakfast after the ceremony. Mrs. Runyon secured a divorce last May from Ira A. Kip, Jr. Her nine-year-old son was lately married to Miss Flora Rees, of Gananoque.

To Have a Bible Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Hassard, of the British and Foreign Bible Society, was in the city arranging for a Bible Sunday in the city churches in November. Mr. Hassard says the society has not closed its quarters in any of the enemy countries, and, though told to close in Jerusalem, their agent held on until the British arrived, and the society's name once more decorated the building it occupied.
