CONSTABLE ROBBED ON A STREET CAR

Believed Young Fellow "touched" Him For $21 on Car Steps.
Constable Tomlinson, of Ebarbot Laie, was one of the many outside visitors who came to see the sights at the fair on Tuesday. He boarded a car for the fair grounds. The car was crowded, so he stood on one of the steps. Shortly after he got on the car a young fellow jumped on, and stood back of him.

"Can I hang on to you?" asked the young fellow.

"Sure," replied the genial officer of the law.

OBITUARY

The Late Archibald Knight.

The death occurred on Thursday night at his residence, 346 University avenue, of Archibald Knight, after being in failing health for a year. Deceased was born near Cataragui seventy-five years ago and resided on a farm two miles north of that place for over fifty years. About five years ago he removed to the city. Mr. Knight was keenly interested in military matters, having been a veteran of 1876, and eventually attaining the rank of major in the 4th Hussars. His wife died a year ago. Deceased is survived by three sons and one daughter: Dr. Stephen A. Knight, of Rochester, N.Y.; Dr. Louis Knight, of Winnipeg; J. S. Knight, gardener, of Cataragui, and Mrs. Alfred Knight, of this city. Mr. Knight was a Methodist in religion and a member of the Chosen Friends.

Late Rev. J. D. Fraser.
Rev. John D. Fraser, aged sixty-nine years, passed away in the General Hospital on Friday afternoon after being ill there for several weeks. Deceased was formerly of Belleville.

MUST WORK OR FIGHT POLICE ARE ON THE JOB

Young Man Must Tell Why He is Not Engaged in "Useful Employment."

Work or fight. This is the crusade in which the police are now paying special attention to, and every person who is not engaged in some "useful employment" had better take a gentle hint and get busy. In these days of war there is work and plenty for willing hands, and also for those who are not willing, and the local police intend to do their "bit" in enforcing the Government regulations.

On Friday morning a young able-bodied fellow was handed a summons to appear before the magistrate on a charge of not being engaged in some "useful employment," and his case will come up in the course of the next few days. Some other summonses are also being issued, so to prevent appearing in court one must be able to show that he has a job.

TWO FLIGHT CADETS WERE SEVERELY INJURED

They Are Now Receiving Special Treatment in Queen's University Hospital.

Dunning is suffering from fractures of the left humerus and tibia, as well as lacerations on the nose. Cadet A. G. Renaud has a fracture of a radial bone on the fore arm and his right cheek and the bridge of his nose are lacerated.

WAS SAUGHT IN ACT

Slick Fellow Tried to Pick a Pocket at Fair But Was Fooled.

A slick fellow was foiled in his attempt to pick a man's pocket at the fair. The fellow who was endeavoring to pull off the theft carried a raincoat on his arm, and used it as a shield in his attempt to get some easy money. A man who was standing close by raised the alarm and the would-be thief made a hasty exit.

At the Theatres

Tonight,—"The Garden of Allah" Allah stands at the head of all gardeners and anyone in doubt should go and see "The Garden of Allah," which, on its sixth annual tour, will come to the Grand Opera House tonight and also tomorrow both matinee and night. For it is a marvel in many ways. The first rise of the curtain reveals a scene of the Great Sahara desert stretching away like an ocean of sand, its countless dunes rising and falling like mighty swells and the morning sun sending its ruddy rays up from the depths—messengers of its gladsome coming to illuminate and revivify the world. And then across the sand strange beings pass like spectres that seem to come into one's presence from that mysterious past and who saying not a word, bow in homage to the new day. In the midst of wonderful scenes, the principals and supporting company, the Arabs, camels, horses, donkeys, goats, pigeons, etc., all their roles and do their parts so impressively that the illusion is very remarkable, with many dramatic climaxes.

The Marriage Question.
In "The Marriage Question" patrons of the Grand Opera House on Monday evening, Sept. 30th, will see a new play by Ralph T. Ketterling and Loria Howard, authors of "A Daughter of the Sun." Its aim is to reveal mistakes made by many who embark on the matrimonial sea and it deals with the question in a frank manner. An excellent moral calculated to guide those who contemplate matrimony is advanced and the entertainment not only entertains but instructs.

The play is rich in bright and telling lines and while they abound in comedy beneath them there is a deep significance. E. W. Rowland, its producer, has brought the play an elaborate setting, and has assembled a cast of unusual distinction.

At Griffins.
Wm. S. Hart, noted screen artist drew a capacity audience at this theatre last evening, who thoroughly enjoyed his new offering, "Riddle Gawne." This is a picture of the type which suits Hart to perfection, dealing as it does with rugged Western life and the character he portrays will rank amongst the finest he has yet been seen in. Many enthusiastic expressions of admiration were heard when lovely Mary Miles Minter was shown in "Social Briars," her most recent photoplay which tells the story of a beautiful girl struggling for fame in a big city, and her triumphs over all odds. It is a pretty story, told in an entertaining manner. "Charlie Chaplin" in "The Roundabout" provided much amusement and lent the right touch of variety to an altogether exceptional programme, which will be repeated this evening and tomorrow.

Coal for Government Buildings.
Coal for use in all the local Government buildings, is being shipped into the city from outside points. Four carloads have already arrived by rail, and some of it has been delivered. It is understood that in all seventeen carloads will be secured. For many years it has been the custom for local coal dealers to put in the supply for the Government buildings, but this year it appears that the Government is looking after the heating of its own buildings.

Newman Electric Co. Work.
The Crystal Palace at the Fair was brilliantly illuminated with the latest improved Nitrogen lamps which gave it a day-light appearance and with the various booths decorated with colored lamps the whole effect was exceedingly beautiful. This work was installed by the H. W. Newman Electric Co.—Adv't.

Now in Hospital.
Mrs. Annie Holtham has received a cable from England, which states that her husband, Corporal William Clement J. Holtham, had been officially reported repatriated as a prisoner of war, and that he had been admitted to the King George Hospital, Stamford, Eng., on Sept. 23rd, suffering from gastritis debility.

Married at Galetta.
On Sept. 11th Rev. E. Frank Salmon, rector of the St. Augustine church, Galetta, united in marriage Lila Jane, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Needham, Arnprior, Ont., and Rev. Lemar Sheldon Throop, B.A., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Throop, Spencer-ville, and formerly of Perth Road.
