At the Theatres

"The Marriage Question," which comes to the Grand Opera House on Monday evening, Sept. 30th, is a ripping play, full of strong comedy situations and dealing with that time-honored theme, that will live eternal—the love of a pure woman. Ketterling and Howard have embellished the play with a beautiful scenic equipment, and the cast has been selected with a special care that each type should fulfill the part that he or she plays to a nicety. Miss Wanda Lindsay, who appears in the leading ingenue role, has been a favorite for the past two seasons. The part in "The Marriage Question" is filled with many lights and shades, which, peculiarly, are adapted to her personality.

At The Grand.

The Grand will offer an exceptionally fine bill for Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in the form of "The Other Man" and it features three of the greatest stars in the picture field. They are Harry Morey in the stellar role and in his support are Florence Deshon and Grace Darmond, and these three alone ought to be enough to draw the attention of the average person. In "The Other Man" the story deals with an eminent surgeon who loses his reputation through the actions of his wife and after much difficulty he again returns to his proper sphere of life through his devotion to a worthy girl. It is a film with a pleasing love interest and refreshing comedy interpolations that make it a photoplay of unflagging interest and one that contains all the ingredients that the fans demand in their screen entertainment. Other films on the programme will be the Pathe News, a Lonesome Luke comedy and two thousand feet of other fine film. The vaudeville, Bush and Bush, in a music and whistling act, are sure to give satisfaction, as they come well recommended to Kingston. This show will be given on Monday afternoon only and then again on Tuesday and Wednesday both matinee and night.

"The Million Dollar Doll" Coming. A decided improvement over the ordinary musical comedy is "The Million Dollar Doll," Harvey D. Orr's production, which will be the big attraction at the Grand Opera House on Thursday evening, Oct. 3rd. This new musical comedy has a well defined love romance woven through the play, and the music was written especially for and fitted to the play, rather than dragged into it, as incidental music, which is so common in the general make-up of musical comedies. "The Million Dollar Doll" takes you through many beautiful and novel scenes. A company of forty people in clever dances, tuneful songs, rousing ensembles and witty dialogue, make you forget all your troubles and think that life is worth living again.

Coming, "The Bird of Paradise." Even the lure of the tropics has been felt in the hearts of men from the lands of the north. Perhaps it is because that lure is eternal that "The Bird of Paradise," which comes to the Grand Opera House for two nights and a matinee starting Friday, October 4th, finds itself going on year after year, playing not only to new patrons, but to many who have seen it not once but many times before. One of the greatest charms of this play is the ever present, weirdly sweet music that steals out of the silence and forces its appeal to deeper emotionalism, giving peace to troubled souls and a sweeter breath to the island love. Manager Moroco is presenting the piece this year, with Miss Rita Romilly in the role of Luana, the little princess.

At Griffin's. To-night will be the last opportunity patrons will have of witnessing our exceptionally interesting programme, which has drawn capacity audiences during the last two days. The main feature, "Ridde Gawne," with the distinguished actor, William S. Hart, in the title role, is alone worth the price of admission, and when in conjunction with this is shown such a sterling little artist as Mary Miles Minter in a charming photoplay entitled "Social Briars," the programme is made a noteworthy one indeed. While to wind up the bill and keep the audience in good humor, we show Charlie Chaplin in "The Roustabout," which brought down the house last night. This is truly a worth-while bill which cannot fail to please.

POLICE MAKE HAUL BOOZE, SUGAR, FLOUR

Five Hundred Pounds of Sugar in Home in North Part of City.

The police made a big haul Friday afternoon. Armed with a search warrant, Chief Nesbitt, Sergt. Bateson and Constable Nayton paid a visit to a home in the northern section of the city, and there they found three hundred pounds of flour and five hundred pounds of sugar stored in a bedroom. In addition to this they found a keg of whiskey and nine bottles of whiskey in a hall rack. A dray was secured and the load removed to police headquarters, and there will be further developments. The police also visited the home of another family and there they confiscated five bottles of whiskey.

Pickpocket Stole $169. Clever work on the part of a pickpocket relieved George Hamilton of Osgoode, of $169 at the fair grounds on Friday afternoon. Mr. Hamilton spent several days driving in a fine horse from his village and sold it here for $150. Added to this was $19, and the whole "wad" of bills was parloined in the midway crush.

A special meeting of the City Council has been called for Monday evening to discuss the matter of fuel controller and the parking by-law.

Military News

On Sunday, Sept. 29th, Brig-Gen. Hemming will complete thirty-six years in the permanent force of Canada.

Sergt. George Clapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Clapp, East Lake, who enlisted last spring and has been in camp here, has been appointed veterinary surgeon with the Siberian contingent. George volunteered for service in Siberia and was promoted to V.S. and given charge of this department of the expeditionary forces.

Lieut. Desmond Emery, Kingston, and Capt. Joseph O'Neil, Lindsay, are among a large number of Canadians who have been awarded the Military Cross.

Lieut.-Col. B. H. Armstrong a graduate of the Royal Military College, is gazetted director of flying, with the rank of colonel.

A Siberian draft, consisting of 109 N.C.O.'s and men and one officer, left Barriefield camp to-day for Niagara camp. This is the quota asked from M.D. No. 3. The draft included 66 men, who came from Ottawa yesterday. The company organization announced, some time ago has not yet been completed and several more officers will be appointed from this district. Sixty-five men, under Lieut. McQuarrie, left Fort Henry at noon to-day to take up duty at the Kapuskasing camp, and 1 N.C.O.'s and men have been transferred from the Barriefield camp to the C.G.R.

A WONDERFUL DISPLAY.

A Firm that Has Exhibited at Every Kingston Fair.

Among the various attractions at Kingston's fair none on the grounds, certainly not in the palace, proved of greater interest, especially to the ladies and children, than did the fur display of George Mills & Co.

The space allocated to this concern was very conspicuous, and the large quantity of skins, muffs, jackets and sheepskins were shown with unusual skill and good taste.

The large Russian grizzly bear, so familiar to those who pass their store, formed the centre piece, and further back was a large mechanical lion, which so greatly attracts the children. In the back ground were the words, "Kingston's Famous Fur Store," "George Mills & Co.—Makers of Fine Furs," brought out conspicuously in letters of white fur. There were skins of every kind, sables, silver fox, white fox, black fox, red fox, ermine, fish, lynx, wolf, and new fur garments muffs, stolls, etc., of the most fashionable sort. Many life size wax figures with elegant fur jackets and pretty hats from their millinery department stood out prominently.

A special feature of the display was that every manufactured article was changed every day—changed to give people a better idea of the enormous stock this firm carry. The last day was devoted to special priced furs and was a great surprise to all who saw it. The very reasonable prices shown in bold letters on each article went far to dispel the idea that furs are expensive this season. They have not advanced in price as have other necessities, and at present prices are a splendid investment. The fur sets from $10 to $40 were really wonderful and certainly cannot be beaten in Canada.

Messrs. Mills & Co. meet or beat all catalogue prices and fear no competition anywhere. This famous concern has been making furs in Kingston for about forty years, and have shown furs at every fair ever held in Kingston, and this season their efforts were very highly commended by the fair management, as well as by hundreds of citizens and visitors. A continuation of the exhibit at their store is announced for all next week.
