SOLDIERS MAY FILL OUT SENIOR O.R.F.U.

Suggestion From Niagara Toronto, St. Vincents Have Some Rare Material.

Lieut. Harry Fleming, formerly of the Hamilton Tigers and now manager of the Niagara Camp football team, has come forward with a suggestion for the solution of the O.R.F.U. senior series muddle. He suggests that the O.R.F.U. form a three-team series, consisting of St. Vincents Capitals and a team made up of soldiers now in training at Niagara Camp. His suggestion is undoubtedly well worthy of the consideration of the O.R.F.U., and it remains to be seen what action that body will take in the matter. The soldiers have already organized and have enrolled such sterling players as "Dutch" Burton, Lang and Patterson of the Tigers, Peterson of the Argos, Ashworth, M.A.A.A.; Hoon and Bee of the Capitals and Allan Dowling, a brilliant middle wing of the Queen's University team of 1910. Several other well-known players have signified their intention of joining the soldier team.

It has been suggested that in the event of the O.R.F.U. failing to recruit enough teams for a senior series, the City League abolish its age limit in the senior division and operate as the major section of the Ontario Union.

JAPANESE WILL SOON HAVE BASEBALL GAMES

A Seattle Japanese baseball team is going to Japan to show the home folks how the American national game is played. The Asahi, composed of the pick of the Oriental diamond stars in the Northwest, will leave on a tour which will last six months. The Japanese team is not the best amateur aggregation, but it can give any of them a battle. With a record of 15 games won and 9 lost for the season, the Asahi have shown that they rank well with the American players. While a little weak in batting, the fielders are wonderful. Kikuda, who is managing the Seattle team, is managing the club. The club will play more than 30 games. Among the crack teams they will meet are the Keio, the Fusuda and the Meiji University teams. These three have made tours in this country.

WAR AND ATHLETES

The Conflict Is Not Ruining All of This Class.

Jim Duncan, the New York athlete, who is now a sergeant in the 11th Engineers in France, shattered the world's record for throwing the discus at a set of athletic games held in Paris last month before over twenty thousand people. In doing so, Jim shattered an existing theory that the war and its hardships will ruin all athletes. Duncan has been in France for some time and was a member of that famous engineering company that saved the day at Castigny. But in spite of the rigors of army life, good-natured Jim seems to have thrived on it, for he hurled the disc 45 metres and 48 centimetres. Duncan's new mark of 45 metres and 48 centimetres, is equal to a toss of a little over 149 feet. Another notable example of the fallacy of this theory is the remarkable performance of R. E. Walker in a military meet at Woking recently. It is exactly ten years since Walker did any active campaigning on the cinders, yet he managed to win the two sprint races in excellent style from a smart field of youngsters. His time for the "century" was 10 3-5 seconds, and for the furlong, 23 4-5 seconds. Walker spent two years with the English army on the western front and was wounded twice, and the fact that he could run at all has puzzled the military experts and the medical sharps of the war department.

The western Ontario Regiment, First Depot Battalion will figure on the hockey map this winter, as there is plenty of material to muster a strong sextette for the Ontario Hockey Association series.

Rugby at McGill

The revival of Rugby football at McGill is with the sanction of the governors of the university, and it is now assured that at least three matches will be played this season on the new stadium. The McGill season will be opened by McGill with a match with Royal Military College of Kingston. The date set for the match is Saturday, Oct. 19th. The team will play in Ottawa on October 12th, and will have a return match with the Ottawa team here on October 26th. It is likely that a game will be arranged with a Hamilton team which is composed largely of returned officers and men.

Hod Eller, of the Reds, although he is married and has a child, is making plans to go to war. He was formerly in the Illinois National Guard, and has had considerable military training.

Low Tendler, the Philadelphia lightweight, has followed the example set by Jack Dempsey, and has obtained a position as "labor agent" in a shipbuilding concern.

BOXERS IN REAL FIGHT.

Nearly Nine Hundred From Antipodes in British Army.

According to a statement issued by "Snowy" Baker, Australian boxing promoter and internationally famous sportsman, who has arrived here in San Francisco, 875 Australian boxers are now fighting with the British forces on the various battle-fronts of the world war.

With most of the prominent pugilists in the service the boxing game at present is rather quiet in the Antipodes, but Baker expects it to come back strong after the war and says the glove sport is exceedingly popular among the "Anzacs."

Jimmy Clabby, the most popular American boxer with Australian fans, is serving with the Australian soldiers. At present he is engaged in recruiting duty, but will soon go to France. He has been kept on the recruiting detail much longer than the average man assigned to that branch of work says Baker, because he has been remarkably successful in obtaining men for the army.

For

Thrift

TO win the war, Money is needed. So that—Thrift is a War Service. Every dollar you save instead of spending thoughtlessly, releases labour in some form—labour sorely needed for war purposes.

Thrift is enforced in the use of many things today, such as flour, sugar, and coal, by the simple expedient of limiting the amount one may buy.

But thousands of extravagant habits flourish unchecked, and these are contributory hindrances to an early peace. Such habits are accomplices of the Kaiser.

For instance, there is no excuse for a man hiring another man to shave him. It wastes time, money and vital labour. You can shave yourself better with a Gillette Safety Razor in five minutes.

Buy a Gillette and wipe out the dollar a week expense. At the end of a year you have saved practically $52!

With such a saving you can buy a $50 War Bond (the purchase of which enables the Government to produce 15,000 cartridges), and you still have the finest razor in the world, good for an unlimited number of inimitable daily shaves—shaves that leave the skin perfectly smooth. The touch of the Gillette is thoroughly agreeable to the most tender skin.

Thrift will help to win the war. Gillette Razors are doing their share—at home and at the front.

THE BOYS "OVER THERE"

Don't forget the boys "over there" use and lose more Gillette Blades than you would. Make a practice of enclosing a packet of blades in letters going overseas. Keep a CARTON of packets handy.

Any jeweler, druggist, or hardware dealer will be glad to show you his assortment of Gillette Razors today. The price is five dollars.
