Will Russia come back?—Watch her!

The Hun is on the run. Help pay for guns to help him on his way.

King Kerdinand of Bulgaria now knows, what it means to back the wrong horse.

It is quite likely that Germany will get all she can manage on the Eastern front at an early date.

Does what our boys are doing in France please you? Buy Victory Bonds that they may be able to keep it up.

An American soldier in France has just married a French widow with ten children.—News despatch. No one can question the bravery of the American boys after this.

The fox of the Balkans, King Ferdinand, has seized the first opportunity to save his skin. His reputation was such that his act was not a surprise. He will get all that's coming to him in good fashion.

As soon as the Allies crossed the Bulgarian border, the Bulgars threw up the sponge. They are not made of the same fighting stuff as the Serbians, whom they betrayed. Bulgaria is the first of the Central Powers to yield to the demand of "unconditional surrender."

Our Canadian boys at the front are most in evidence where the fighting is heaviest. When the Allies wanted to put the finishing touches on the Cambrai assault they called in the Canadians. "And they advanced singing," cables a correspondent. May we at home be worthy of these gallant lads.

The British were forced to give up Baku because, as the official report stated, "the Armenians were planning to hand the city over to the Germans." Some explanation of this action ought to be forthcoming. The cause of the Armenians has hitherto appealed strongly to the peoples of Britain and America, and it comes as something of a shock to learn that our far eastern Ally failed in the hour of testing. It would be easier for everybody to help the persecuted Armenians if they would stand up like men and help themselves a little.

THE FUTURE OF THE FAIR

Now that the Kingston fair has done a successful "come back" and is more hale and hearty than ever before, the city is confronted with a problem. The fair, although yet of township dimensions, has outgrown the city's grounds, which should have been enlarged before dwellings in that section hemmed them in. Now it is too late to extend them, as a street passes by the northern limit. Six years ago the city could have purchased Cataraqui Driving Park in Williamsville for $9,000 and secured adjacent ground at a fair price. The present fair buildings could have been moved there and added to, while the Alfred street grounds could have been sold in lots for $30,000. By the expenditure of perhaps $10,000 the city council could have had an enlarged fair grounds in Williamsville. It may be necessary when the war becomes past history for the fair to move. Its growth will be retarded if it remains much longer in its present home. Twice as much ground is needed. In the meantime the present buildings must be kept in repair and more accommodation provided for cattle. What the city and the fair directors have to decide is this: Is it wise to expend $25,000 during the next few years improving the building accommodation on the present grounds, or would it be better to seek larger grounds?

STUDYING THE PLACE.

Foch knows where to place the American army. He was aware that its military experts had been studying Metz and had been giving lessons about it to the cadets in the military schools. Germany had helped the American to know much about the place and its surrounding country, the strength of the defences and the best means of attack. And now all this knowledge is to be put to practical use. The Americans intend to show that they have attained scholarship in war, in strategy and tactics as well as the energy and daring to carry out their plans. It is a delight to know that the Americans are so well equipped for the job ahead of them. Go to it.

THE VICTORY LOAN

Canada needs money to press the fight in Europe and to maintain the boys in the trenches. This money must come from the people, the government borrowing it at a good interest rate. War is expensive, but it must go on. The bills must be met or we can lie down and let stronger nations rule over us. But that is not a Canadian ideal. We are in the conflict to the end of our last dollar and our last man.

The outlook is promising and, God willing, it does look as if the next Victory Loan will be our last for war purposes. All the cash we invest is retained in Canada to buy our grain and the war munitions we make. The United States is stiffening the Allies and she is pouring out her funds unstintedly. Canada must do the same.

The man whose country, whose home institutions are being protected cuts a poor figure unless he is willing to pay the cost of the protection. When a man offers his life to protect you, if you won't pay for his gun and his keep, you are a pretty poor sort of a citizen.

As the size of the army increases, the bill for equipment grows. Therefore the government is asking for a sum beyond the amount raised on the last loan. It is an enormous sum, but really only a small fraction of our wealth. It can be raised if we all take hold of it with a willingness to do our fair share. There are over a billion dollars in the savings banks that should be tapped.

People cannot expect to go through these times and live just as usual. If we can't raise money for bonds any other way, we must cut down our expenses and go without things we are used to. Only thus can we hold up our heads or be regarded by our neighbors as showing common decency. Those who refuse to take hold and do their fair share are slackers for whom everyone must feel contempt.

PUBLIC OPINION

September.
(London Free Press)
Well, than goodness, one month of winter is past.

Much Better Off.
(Guelph Herald)
The man with coal in the bins is much better off these cool days than the man with a full wine cellar.

New Version.
(London Advertiser)
Canadians overseas showing a preference for English brides suggests that absence makes the heart grow fonder of somebody nearer.

Other Contributory Causes.
(New York Sun)
It is gravely announced that Marshal Foch smokes two cent cigars, but this cannot account entirely for the German retreat.

Talcum Powder As An Essential.
(Poughkeepsie Eagle)
When a woman merges hot and flustered after a scrimmage at canning in the kitchen, it is hard to persuade her that manufacturing talcum is not an essential industry.

Making A Thorough Housecleaning.
(Philadelphia Ledger)
General Allenby is doing what the Christian nations have not been able to do in centuries—driving the Turks out of the holy places.

A Serious Handicap.
(Ottawa Journal)
Of 48,000 qualified electors in Winnipeg, 4,330 voted on an important municipal referendum. Such public indifference is a serious handicap to the advancement of municipal Government.

Making Punishment Fit Crime.
(Brantford Expositor)
Out of twenty-four thousand bachelors in Montreal only seven thousand paid the ten-dollar bachelor tax which was recently imposed. These men may think because they have been successful in eluding the fair charmers in the fair sex for so long that they can escape the tax collector. They will, of course, find they are mistaken. When apprehended they should be given thirty days in which to get married.

Harsh measures are not always the best—as the woman who marries a man to reform him is apt to discover to her sorrow.

OCCUPATION FIRST THEN NEGOTIATION

Ambassador Gerard Wants Germany Invaded—He Predicts Revolution There.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 2.—Sounding a keynote of "no negotiation without occupation," James W. Gerard, former United States Ambassador to Germany, declared in an address yesterday there must be no thought of peace until troops of the Entente have forced their way into German territory. Mr. Gerard was speaking for the Fourth Liberty Loan at the San Francisco Commercial Club.

"There must be no negotiation without occupation," he said.

"The United States and her Allies must force their way well into enemy territory despite all attempts at peace, and must keep on going until Germany bows to their will.

"We must not allow Germany to increase her man-power. It would be easy for her to Germanize the peoples of Esthonia, Livonia and Poland. Fifteen per cent. of the population in the Baltic provinces is made up of Germans who exercise a complete influence over the ignorant population."

Mr. Gerard predicted a revolution in Germany after the war "that will make the French Revolution look like a Sunday school picnic."

"There is no one in Germany to start a revolution now," he said.

"But the returning soldiers will demand an accounting, and, having so lately emerged from savagery, they will strike hard."

Mr. Gerard said the defection of Bulgaria from the Central Alliance was a "splendid augury for the re-establishment of an east front."

PADDLER FELL DEAD.

Two Other Occupants of the Canoe Nearly Lost Lives.

Peterboro, Oct. 2.—The funeral of the late Zack Tucker took place in Apsley township Monday afternoon. It was one of the largest funerals ever held in that part of the country. The particulars of the death of the deceased reveal a harrowing experience and a narrow escape from drowning of his brother, William Tucker, and the latter's daughter, Miss Emma Tucker. The party had been picking cranberries and were returning home on Serpentine Lake, which is located in the northern part of Peterboro county. The water was rolling high, driven by a strong wind. The Tucker brothers were paddling hard to maintain their course when suddenly Zack Tucker collapsed and died in a moment from heart failure. As the body fell against one side of the canoe it listed and shipped a large quantity of water. Finally William Tucker and his daughter both dropped overboard, having decided that it was safer to cling to the boat. A few minutes later the boat sank with the lifeless body leaving father and daughter struggling in the lake. In the meantime their plight was noticed by Joseph Tucker, a nephew of the dead man, who had observed them 300 yards out in the lake, and paddled out. Father and daughter were eventually towed asrore by Joseph Tucker. Both of them were exhausted by the ordeal. Zack Tucker's body was recovered on Saturday in thirty feet of water.

CHEESE UP TWO CENTS.

The Dairy Produce Commission Announces British Authorization

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—The Dairy Produce Commission announces that all cheese purchases from the factories after Monday, Sept. 30th, will be paid for at 25 cents per pound for No. 1 grade, F.A.S., Montreal, being an advance of two cents per pound over the price paid since the beginning of the present season.

When 23 cents was agreed upon in the spring it was understood that it was to cover the whole season, but in view of the recent general advance in the value of dairy products the commission felt justified in asking the British Ministry of Food to authorize a two-cent increase. With characteristic fairness the Ministry has agreed to the proposal which is now put into effect.

Even a man of considerable influence is apt to fall down when it comes to quieting a squalling baby.

Rippling Rhymes

THE PLAYGROUND

Vacation time has ended in Colorado's hills; the tourists home have wended, to talk about their thrills. In other years they wandered, regardless of the cost, and lavishly they squandered, and cared not what they lost. You'd think, to see them throwing their banknotes to the breeze, that stuff like that was growing upon the old home trees. This year they skimped and hoarded, they missed no saving points; and men of money boarded at humble chili-joints. I often heard them saying, the tourist girl and gent, "We'll do the kind of playing that doesn't cost a cent. I'd like to hire a burro to climb yon beetling crag, but that would plow a furrow in my small roll of swag. I'd like to drive you, honey, to Long Peak's famous pond, but I must save my money, to buy another bond. Up there to Hallett's grotto on foot we'll blithely tramp; the rental of an auto would buy us many a stamp." I saw the Wall street rooter, who's loaded with long green, jaunt round in car of pewter; he'd shelved his limousine. Men said, "We must remember, while we are playing here, that shortly in September, the new loan will appear; and we must have the boodle to buy ten bonds or more; we'll back up Yankee Doodle till Kaiser Bill is sore." They're loyal? Pretty near it! It surely makes me gay when people show that spirit, while out of doors at play.
