ATTRACTIVE STOCKS AT PRICES

To Yield 7 to 9 Per cent.

Exceptional market conditions—due to the war—have caused many high grade Canadian Industrial and public utility stocks to sell at prices that yield 7 to 9 per cent. on the investment. This is the investor's opportunity—leading bankers have indicated that many stocks are selling at below their intrinsic value. Our Statistical Department will be pleased to discuss your investments with you.

Semi-ready Tailored Clothes

We have anticipated the well-dressed man's idea of ideal fashion in these Semi-ready clothes. Perfect tailoring and a discriminate taste in cloth selection—with every suit fitted to the try-on stage. The price is as right as the style—but the appeal is to the man who wants day-to-day satisfaction in what he chooses after he has seen the style and the cloth. That is the Semi-ready policy—the label in the pocket is based on cost of cloth.

Higgins Challenge Cup. Brockville, Oct. 3.—The Higgins Challenge Cup, a coveted piece of silverware, held the past summer by the bowlers of the Eastern Hospital Club, was wrested from that organization by two rinks of the Brockville Club. H. B. White and F. H. Sedgwick were the winning skips, and against them were pitted J. Todd and P. Kilgour.

NEW TYPE OF COAT

Slip-Over Has Advantages for Motor or Travel Wear.

Completely Protects Garment Over Which It is Worn—Always Shipshape and Snug.

Capes have so utterly dominated the field of wraps this season that very little out of the ordinary has been offered in coat styles. While the cape vogue continues, a closer reefed wrap is more becoming to some figures. The coat shown in the sketch is well worth considering, as it was actually intended by the Paris designer who originated it as a suggestion for a fall or winter coat. This coat would be lovely developed in dark-colored satin and embroidered in a lighter shade, or vice versa, as a summer traveling or motor coat. Fongee or shantung, silk jersey cloth or heavy linen might also be used for it if preferred. This coat has a number of unusual features, the most prominent being its freedom from fastenings. It is a slip-over model. The belt is attached across the back section, the front ends being loose, so that the coat may be slipped easily over the head, the belt ends being drawn forward and buttoned as indicated. It is open from hem to waistline on both sides, the buttons and buttonholes being purely decorative, although they may be arranged to hold the coat together if such an arrangement is preferred. The coat as designed has an elongated back collar, really a small cape, and this may be used or omitted. A coat that slips over the head is something decidedly new, but for motor or travel wear especially such a coat has many advantages over the conventional open-in-front garment. It completely protects the garment over which it is worn, and is always shipshape and snug. If designed for wear during the fall, this coat would be very smart developed in one of the rough wool plaids, that are being shown for fall, both in dress and coat materials. Plain color might be used for sleeves and cape facing and for the wide belt.

UTILIZE COMBINGS OF DOGS

English Women Making Articles for the Red Cross Service From Somewhat Odd Materials.

The picturesque spinning wheel is coming into its own again in England, but in certain instances an unusual material is employed to work upon. The tiny pet dogs, so very numerous in dog-loving England, are "doing their bit." What the spinner at the wheel and guess what her soft and fluffy raw material is? Just simply the combings of Fido and Fluffy, and a host of similar pets. The softness of these combings suggests before-the-war Shetland, and the wool produced provides for jerseys, mufflers, bed-socks, and operation stockings, of which the Red Cross say they can never have too many. Of course these doggie combings receive special treatment before they reach the spinning wheel. It seems that the use of dog's hair for wool manufacture is not new, as a lady in England tells of her mother having a frieze suit years ago, the material for which was contributed by a favorite Chow. Gossip has it in London that only the fear of looking absurd prevented the women's branch of the ministry of national service from instituting a scheme for collecting dog's hair. Perhaps the little dogs are trying to justify their tiny lives, in the face of suggestions that their food is more needed in England now than their presence.

Every Tooth Visible. "All right, here they are, look at them." This was the reply of a local manufacturer whose health has been unsatisfactory and who went to a local doctor for examination and treatment. Some of the doctors are ordering patients to have their teeth extracted when rheumatism or other aches fail to respond to treatment. Some perfectly sound teeth have been pulled to relieve patients of illness and they say the loss of all the teeth has in some cases shut off the poison which pyorrhea is said to supply to the circulatory system. This particular manufacturer submitted to a thorough examination and the doctor then said: "I can't find the cause of the trouble. There must be something wrong in your teeth. Let me look at them." And then the accommodating patient opened his mouth and handed the astonished doctor an upper and lower plate.—Indianapolis News.

How "Johnny Cake" Got Name. Corn bread coming into its own is a repetition of the story of Civil War days in the confederacy. At that time the bread situation became acute and throughout the South the people supplanted the white flour article with corn pone, later creating what we today know as corn bread. Southern soldiers saw very little other bread during the war. These fighters south of the Mason and Dixon line were known to the Yankees as "Johnny Rebs," and when it was learned that they ate corn bread the federal soldiers at once named it "Johnny Cakes."

Neck of the House. The "directory" man had called, and asked the housewife for the name of the occupant. "Mary Jane Smith," was the reply. "Widow or spinster?" he asked, briefly; then, noting the sudden glare in her eye, he added, hastily: "If you are married, it's your husband's name I want, as he will, of course, be the head of the house." "Oh, he will, will he?" exclaimed the woman, with some asperity. "Well, if he's the head, then I'm the neck, as a bee's a hapless sort o' thing if it hasn't a neck to wag it."

The Presbyterian and Methodist in Brockville will worship in Wall street church, starting Sunday, November 24th, to save coal. The Baptists will meet in their own Sunday school room.

CORAL JEWELRY VERY SMART

Decorations Prove Decidedly Effective When Worn With Dull-Hued Suits.

One cannot overlook the effectiveness of coral with the blue serge and gray worsted costumes. Coral is one of the most charming shades when not overdone in costume, and this season it gives that brightness and contrast that is essential with the rather subdued tones of wartime frocks and tailcoats. There are long strings of coral beads, which fall over a white or pale blue waistcoat very effectively, and there are strings of coral and dull gold, to which are attached smart lognettes. Coral-set arrow pins are thrust through convertible coat collars and coral-tipped hatpins project from spring sailors of lustrous black straw. A woman lunching at a hotel wore a taupe suit, a small black lisse turban draped with a long taupe-colored veil and black patent leather pumps, with taupe-colored spats. The only bright note of color in her costume was a pair of coral earrings, the spheres of coral set close against her ear lobes beneath waves of dark hair. The warm, bright note of coral gave interest and distinction to her whole costume, otherwise quiet and neutral in tone. Male gossips are the worst of the breed.

ENO'S FRUIT SALT

To Prevent Headaches take

HEADACHES! What woman isn't subject to them? Some frequently. Others less often. But, in any case, if the womenfolk would only follow the example set by their husbands and brothers in the use of Eno's "Fruit Salt," they, too, would escape the annoying, painful headaches caused by a lazy liver or deranged digestive system. Made of the stimulating and refreshing elements of ripe fruit juices, Eno's rouses the torpid liver to fresh activity and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive and eliminative tract. A headache has no show where Eno's is.
