Some Citizens Would Like Celebration to Mark War News—"Bicycle Sunday" Suggested to Take Place of Autos.

A number of citizens think that the city should have a demonstration to celebrate the war news of the past few weeks, and more especially in view of the report that Germany was seeking peace.

"Every whistle and bell should have been worked overtime," said one citizen. "The news from overseas has stirred every one, but there has been no demonstration. I think we should have shown our joy in some way."

In several places on Sunday and Monday the war news was received with blowing of whistles and sounding of bells. Already in some cities and towns some arrangements have been made for a real celebration.

The address of Bishop Fallon last Thursday opened the season's series of addresses given under the auspices of the Kingston Club, and it is safe to say that the club has never had a more successful opening. The occasion was marked by a very large attendance and the address was one that stirred every one. The members who were present are still talking about the fine address given by His Lordship.

Now that the automobiles have been put away on Sunday, in order to save gasoline to help win the war, the suggestion has been made that Weak, Sickly Folks Regain Health Quickly By New Remedy!

A BLOOD-FOOD NOW MANUFACTURED THAT ACCOMPLISHES MARVELS

Lots of people that were thin and miserable for years have recently been restored by this simple treatment. All you have to do is take two little chocolate-coated tablets with a sip of water at the close of each meal.

The tablets, which, by the way, are called "Ferrozone," are in reality a perfect food for blood. They contain exactly those elements your blood lacks when it becomes thin, weak, and unhealthy.

This is just the time to use Ferrozone; it excites splendid appetite, gives digestion splendid aid, supplies nourishment for all weak organs. At once you feel buoyant and strong. Nutritious blood courses through your veins, supplies strength, makes you tingle with animation and ambition.

No more headaches. No more dizziness. No more tired languor.

You feel like doing things because Ferrozone completely renews and strengthens your whole system.

No medicine on earth gives such quick, lasting benefits as Ferrozone. It has raised thousands from downright weakness, brings robust health simply because it contains the fortifying elements that run-down systems require.

One week after using Ferrozone you'll feel like new, you'll appreciate what real robust health means. In a month you'll scarcely credit the push your vigor and spirits have received. Ferrozone is more than a tonic because its work lasts, its benefits remain and are not temporary. It restores health where other treatments fail, and should be used by every man, woman and child. Try it, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50.

We might have a "Bicycle Sunday." Bicycle riding has been revived to a great extent this season, and affords splendid outdoor exercise. Could you a bicycle club be formed and some outings planned?

A Whip representative who attended a sale held at a local store last week was shocked by the behavior of some of the women who were out looking for bargains. It was indeed a shame the manner in which some of the clerks, who were doing their best to oblige the ladies, were abused in their mad rush to share in the good things sold at a reduced price, some of the women lost their heads for the time being, and attacked the clerks with their tongues.

Although desiring to save fuel, a large number of citizens have been forced to make a hole in their pile of coal put away for the winter, as a result of the continued cold spell. While the people of Kingston have been complaining about paying $11.50 for their coal, it is of interest to note that the other day a ton of coal was put up at auction in London, and was sold at $15.50.

Statistics show that more than seven million dollars' worth of property was burned in 5,396 fires during the first six months of this year, nearly all of which were due to carelessness. The losses in 1916 amounted to $6 per capita in Ontario, $4 per capita in 1917, and for the first six months of 1918, $3.50 per capita.

A citizen wants to know what is being done with the request made some time ago that the houses be re-numbered on certain streets. He says he spent half an hour looking for a number on a certain street Monday afternoon. A Whig man can also testify to the great need for re-numbering on some streets, as he had quite a time locating a house a few days ago.

Good evening, have you got your coal in yet? This appears to be a popular greeting around the city these days. Happy is the man who is able to say, "Yes, I got mine."

From what the Whig has been able to learn, the Kingston girls are quite willing to ignore the order to "stop kissing," and take a chance on the Spanish influenza. The Portsmouth and Barriefield maidens still have the matter under consideration.

When it comes to a variety of cases of the court presided over by Justice of the Peace George Hunter carries off the honors. An interesting time is looked for when the case of two women charged with stealing a feather bed is aired in his court. The feathers will surely fly that day.

The Germans certainly have a lot to answer for. Kingstonians are blaming them for the spread of the Spanish influenza. "I hope the Kaiser gets a good dose of it himself," was the remark one Kingston lady made on Monday.

BOARD OF HEALTH MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT.

Public Assemblies Not to be Prohibited as Yet—How to Combat the Disease.

Oct. 9th, 1918.

To the Citizens of Kingston:

At a meeting of the local Board of Health held this afternoon, I was instructed to place before the people a statement of the Board's position in regard to measures to be taken to control the epidemic of influenza that is spreading through the community. Numerous enquiries have been made by citizens as to whether the Board intends closing schools, theatres, churches, etc. The Board has decided to accept the ruling of the Provincial Board of Health in this matter.

This ruling was clearly enunciated in a letter to the Toronto papers on Tuesday, October 8th, by Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, Chief Health Officer for Ontario. He states "the weight of public health authority is against closing such places, except perhaps in country districts, but the following reasons: In cities and towns it is impossible to prevent children commingling in the streets and playgrounds where they are without the supervision found in the schools, hence, closing schools is more effective in country districts, but the procedure is economically wasteful and usually has no influence on the course of outbreak of diseases like influenza. Children are less likely to infect one another in the class room than in the home or the playground. There is no great danger of spreading disease in schools, churches and theatres if these places are well ventilated. In any case the good derived from closing places of assemblage is more than counterbalanced by the conditions in crowded street cars, railway cars, large shops and restaurants, where food and dishes may be handled by persons having a disease. It would be just as rational and much more effective to stop all travel on street cars and trains, and to stop people from entering shops, eating places, etc., as to close schools, theatres and churches. Health officers should do nothing consistent with the health of the public, likely to dislocate business or the ordinary affairs of life. They should not be moved from their duties by public clamor to adopt fussy and ill-advised measures, which only serve to irritate the public, and accomplish no useful purpose, and the Board does not intend for the reasons given to enforce closing of these places.

The following advice is given by the Board regarding measures to be taken to prevent spread of the disease: If you get a cold, go to bed in a well ventilated room and keep warm. Keep away from other people. Do not kiss any one.

Use individual basins, knives, forks, spoons, towels, handkerchiefs, soap, plates and cups.

Every case of influenza should go to bed at once under the care of a physician. The patient should stay in bed at least three days after fever has disappeared and until convalescence is well established. The patient should not cough or sneeze without covering the face by a handkerchief. The great danger is from pneumonia. Avoid it by staying in bed while actually ill and until convalescence is fully established.

In view of the above statement made on behalf of the Provincial

Board of Health for Ontario, the Local Board feels justified in its present attitude. A. R. B. WILLIAMSON, Medical Health Officer.

Milk Inspector's Notice. Oct. 9th, 1918. To the Citizens of Kingston:

To further supplement the advice given to the public by the Medical Health Officer to-day, I hereby give notice that no person infected or having any member of the family infected with influenza is to have anything to do with vending milk in this city.

The danger of becoming infected by persons having this disease and vending milk is too great to take any chances and a heavy penalty is provided for in case of infraction of this law.

Yours truly, GEORGE W. BELL, Milk Inspector.
