OBITUARY

Late Capt. J. J. Murray. At half past eleven o'clock on Friday night, the death occurred at his home on Frontenac street, of Capt. Joseph James Murray, at the age of thirty-seven years. The deceased was a native of Kingston and had been a mariner on the Great Lakes for fifteen years. About a week ago he was taken ill of influenza, which rapidly developed into pneumonia. Surviving him are a wife and five small children.

Late Mrs. James Black. With her husband, Gunner James Black, lying dangerously ill in the same hospital, Mrs. James Black passed away in the Hotel Dieu on Saturday morning, after an illness of pneumonia of a week's duration. The deceased was born in this city thirty-six years ago, the daughter of the late Thomas Barlow. Her husband enlisted with the 5th Field Battery of the First Contingent and served overseas until five months ago, when he was returned on furlough. He contracted influenza while at his home, and both he and his wife have received treatment in the Hotel Dieu since last Wednesday. The late Mrs. Black is survived by three sisters, Mrs. James McKane, Mrs. J. Powell and Miss Julia Barlow, of Kingston, and two brothers, William and Thomas, of Buffalo, N.Y.

Late William G. Ainslee. A well-known citizen died late on Friday afternoon, in the person of William G. Ainslee, for fifteen years a popular uptown meat dealer. The late Mr. Ainslee was born in Kingston forty-five years ago and was a resident of the city all his life. One week ago pneumonia developed and he passed away at his residence, 355 Johnson street. The deceased was an Anglican in religion, being a member of St. James' church, and he was a conservative in politics and is survived by his wife and four small children, Howard, George, Dorothy and Joseph. His mother, Mrs. David J. Ainslee, three sisters, Mrs. H. McPaul, Mrs. W. J. Arniel and Miss Bertha Ainslee, and two brothers, Herbert and Monte, all of Kingston, also survive.

The Late Mrs. A. P. Guild. There entered into rest at Mallorytown, Ont., on Friday afternoon, October 18th, Sarah Flagg, relict of the late Albin B. Guild, at the advanced age of eighty-two years and three months. She had been ailing for some time, but up to last week was able to be around as usual. Death came after a few days of illness, and on Friday she passed peacefully away. With her demise passes one of the oldest residents of Leeds county. Throughout a long and useful life she "went about doing good," and many families for miles around found in her a ministering angel during their days of sickness or trouble. She was born near the village of Mallorytown, and in that vicinity spent all her days. Her husband predeceased her on April 14th, 1914. Five children mourn the loss of a loving and devoted mother, namely: Clark O. and Stephen A. Guild, of Mallorytown; Mrs. John Tufts, of Muskegon, Mich.; Mrs. John A. Root, of Mallorytown, and Lemana A. Guild, of the Daily British Whig, this city. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon interment being made at Mallorytown cemetery. Of her it may truly be said:

Life's race well run, Life's work well done, Life's victory won, Now cometh rest.

Late Mrs. William Craig. One of Kingston's most noble of women passed away Friday evening in the person of Mildred Henderson, wife of Rev. William Craig, Albert street. The deceased was born sixty-three years ago, at Portland, on the Rideau, and the many years of activity in social and church life in Methodist itinerancy in Ontario and Quebec, had especially fitted her for prominent leadership, for which she was wonderfully endowed. Mrs. Craig's life was one of supreme self-sacrifice, for, not only her immediate family and church, of which she was a prominent and talented member, but for humanity. Her first and last consideration was always, not of self, but of others, truly the life of her Master has been fully exemplified in her life. A friend and comforter of those in trouble, need or affliction, all who came in contact with the deceased felt that she was in truth a follower of the Divine Master, who, about doing good, and her constant thought was the advancement of His kingdom.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church lose a vice-president, also the local W.M.T.U., of which the late Mrs. Craig was president for years, a most devoted and indefatigable worker, and the various organizations of Sydenham Street Methodist church the person of a valuable and beloved leader in all departments of the church work. The social gifts, the late Mrs. Craig possessed in a remarkable degree. The late Mrs. Craig leaves to mourn the loss of a devoted wife and mother, her husband, Dr. Wilfred H. Craig, of Edmonton, Alta.; Dr. Vernon H. Craig, formerly of Ottawa, now of the C.A.M.C.; and one daughter, Lulu M., at home; two grandchildren, two brothers and five sisters.

Late Miss Angelina Vinkle. In the General Hospital on Saturday morning the death occurred of Miss Angelina Vinkle, after an illness from Spanish influenza of one week. The deceased was twenty-one years of age and a daughter of Mrs. John Vinkle, of Oconto. Besides her mother, she is survived by six sisters, Mrs. Edward Kelly, Mrs. Ernest Cote, Kingston; Mrs. John Gillespie, Mrs. Peter Wistaro, Miss Pearl Vinkle, Oconto; and Mrs. Lee Hoadley, Cobalt; and two brothers, Hase and Frederick, of Oconto.

November Designer. Now ready. Also all Standard patterns shown in Designer and November Fashion Sheet.

Military News

Major Charles E. Stewart, District Depot No. 2, has been struck off the strength of the C.E.F., being surplus in rank to establishment.

The late Sergt. George T. Alcroft, 72nd Battery, who died in Queen's Military Hospital Friday afternoon, is to be buried Saturday afternoon with full military honors. Saturday morning there was some doubt as to whether the R.C.H.A. band would be allowed to take part in the parade owing to the influenza epidemic, but the officers, N.C.O.'s and men of the batteries had been asked to attend. The deceased soldier originally belonged to the R. C. H. A. He went to South Africa with the Canadian contingent, and volunteered for overseas service on the outbreak of the present war. He went over with "B" Battery and was in France nearly three years. On his return he was attached to duty to the 72nd Battery, and was on duty there up to a few days ago.

Two American recruits, Pte. G. Thomson and Pte. E. Lindsay, were taken on the strength of the R. C. H. A. on Thursday.

An interesting ceremony took place at the Tete de Pont Barracks on Friday last, when two N.C.O.'s of the R.C.H.A. were presented with decorations. S.M. T. Turner, W.O., was presented with the meritorious service medal, and S.M. W. Scoble was presented with the Croix de Guerre de Belgique. The decorations were presented by Brig-Gen. Hemming, G.O.C. No. 3 Military District.

Work at the Tete de Pont Barracks is almost at a standstill owing to the influenza. Up to yesterday afternoon there were over fifty cases at the barracks.

Capt. H. Peters, paymaster of No. 3 District Depot, has been on the sick list for the past few days.

Col. J. S. N. Leslie, commandant of the Depot Batteries, who was slightly indisposed in the early part of this week, has now recovered and is back at duty. (Continued on Page 6.)
