Stop. Look. Loosen. Buy Victory Bonds.

The doctrine of the divine right of kings dies hard, but it is dying.

Germany asks for a "peace of justice." She aimed to secure a "peace of violence."

An American "unsinkable" ship has just been sunk by a German submarine in mid-Atlantic.

Ten above zero in Alberta and Saskatchewan on Wednesday, and the cold wave is headed directly this way.

The mayor of Windsor announces that he will appoint a "Fair Price Committee," which will probe the high cost of living and regulate food prices in that city.

Several strong men with buck-saws are needed to perform on the hundred cords of wood stored by the city authorities at the fair grounds.

Formerly it was the capitalists who were interested in mergers, but now the farmers seek to control the cheese making industry of the province.

More cars are needed to carry the "S. O. S." and Red Cross signs and the willing workers who serve under these emblems.

The medical director of the New Jersey State Hospital reports that the extraction of diseased teeth has restored the sanity of many patients.

The Belgian seat of government has been moved from Havre to Bruges. The next move will be back home to Brussels.

The co-operative movement spreads. The United Farmers of Ontario are considering the question of buying up all the cheese factories of the province and operating them in the interest of the farming industry.

A masked robber holds up a G. T. R. train within the borders of Toronto, ties two express messengers in their chairs, steals $20,000, jumps from the train, eludes the police, steals a motor car and makes good his escape.

It is disquieting to learn that the influenza epidemic shows no abatement in the east. Latest reports from important centres like New York and Montreal tell of large increases in new cases.

Letters To The Editor: The Whig once more desires to remind its correspondents that letters to the editor can be published only over the actual name of the writer.

Improvement, but suggests that every possible precaution should be taken.
