THEATRICAL.

Strand Theatre. The management of the Strand Theatre wishes to announce that commencing Monday afternoon, Nov. 4th, the theatre will reopen its doors after nearly three weeks of darkness. The building has been thoroughly cleaned from top to bottom, and our patrons need have no fear, for we have used the strongest and most effective solution we could procure. For our opening programme we offer "Friend Husband," starring dainty Madge Kennedy, the girl with the smiling eyes. The story has to do with one bright little girl, Dorothy Dean, who has been left a fortune by her grandmother, but before she can secure it she must marry, so thinking it an easy matter to pick some poor chap that needs money and who will not hesitate to desert her after the ceremony, she ventures forth on the sea of matrimony, only to find that she has picked the wrong man. Instead of a poor chap down and out, he is the son of a judge, and belongs to a wealthy family. Also we will show Charlie Chaplin's Victory Loan picture entitled "The Bond." This subject was made by Mr. Chaplin especially for the Canadian Victory Bond campaign, and every one should make a special effort to see it.
